Will Rogers Remarks:

CAMP RICHARDSON, Sept. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We got a funny situation here. We brought up about a dozen girls to play the "divorcees" in the hotel scene in "Lightnin'," and here every day watching us shoot is a hundred real "divorcees" from Reno and around the lake here, all dying to get into pictures while they are serving their time. If any woman is missing from your community and you don't know where she is, she is here. The most popular charge here lately as grounds for divorce is snoring and husbands staying out late playing miniature golf. They put in all spare time making their trousseau.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

ROOSEVELT FOR REPEAL OF DRY LAW

New York Governor Says States Should Control Intoxicating Liquor

ALBANY (N. Y.) Sept. 10. (AP)—Gov. Roosevelt today broke a two-year official silence concerning the prohibition question to announce himself for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and substitution of a Federal statute granting each State the right to control the sale of intoxicants.

In a letter to United States Senator Wagner, made public here, the Governor included the subject of prohibition among the topics he believed should be stressed at the Democratic State convention in Syracuse the latter part of this month and added he was "positive in saying there must be some definite assurance that by no possibility at any time or in any place the old saloon can come back."

The Governor urged that not only should States be given control of liquor but that there should be "definite recognition of the extension of home rule to the lower subdivisions of government—in other words, a recognition of the right of cities, villages or towns by popular vote to prohibit the sale of intoxicants within their own borders."

Empty Chair Upsets Geneva at Opening of Seventh Assembly Session

GENEVA, Sept. 10. (AP)—The League of Nations Assembly celebrated the opening of its seventh annual session today with accustomed formality but the spotlight of real popular interest played upon an empty chair.

This chair was abandoned by Dino Grandi, Il Duce's Foreign Minister, and its emptiness created something of a sensation among delegates and international observers.

On the eve of a definite explanation by Foreign Minister Briand of France of his "United States of Europe" plan, which he is scheduled to deliver tomorrow before the Assembly, Signor Grandi suddenly canceled all his engagements and returned to Rome.

LEAVES GENEVA

His automobile sped away from Geneva just an hour before the Assembly session was opened by Cesar Zumeta of Venezuela, president of the League Council and ex-officio temporary chairman of the Assembly.

His departure came as a surprise despite the fact Italian quarters already had indicated he would not remain long in Geneva. The Italians insisted tonight there is nothing strange in the absence of their chief. They said he had left because he had business demanding his attention in Rome.

DELEGATES POWERS

Signor Grandi had been listed as the chief Italian delegate to the Assembly. He gave no explanation, but delegated his powers to Senator Scialoja. Last night he canceled an engagement for this afternoon to discuss the Franco-German question in the Saar Basin with M. Briand and Dr. Julius Curtius, German Foreign Minister. Today he canceled others.

Delegates asked one another if Signor Grandi's precipitate leave taking of his colleagues had any connection with slow progress of the negotiations between France and Italy over their naval differences, left pending by the London naval conference.

There was nothing to support the suggestion yesterday of Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson of Great Britain that these negotiations may shortly reach a stage where a statement can be issued to the public.

DECKS CLEARED

The election of Nicholas Titulescu, general Rumanian Minister to London, to the presidency of the Assembly cleared the decks for M. Briand's long-awaited declaration upon his hopes and plans for the future of the European federation idea.

It was understood tonight M. Briand will offer a resolution containing suggestions for a form of European collaboration within the framework of the League. This resolution will be debated later in one of the Assembly's standing committees.

Sir Robert Borden, first delegate to Canada, will open the speech-making and will be followed by the French Foreign Minister.

Today's Assembly session was occupied with the organization of committees and similar preliminaries.

ITALY PROFESSES LACK OF KNOWLEDGE

ROME, Sept. 10. (AP)—The reasons for the sudden departure from the League Assembly session of Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy today are apparently unknown to the Italian Foreign Office.

Officials at the Foreign Office not only professed to know nothing of Signor Grandi's intentions but told the Associated Press they did not even know he had left.

It was pointed out the Foreign Minister hitherto has stayed in Geneva only for the League Council sessions, leaving Signor Scialoja as head of the Italian delegation during the subsequent Assembly.

NORTH AREA GIVEN NEW DOWNPOUR

Chilling Showers Cause Sacramento Valley Alarm for Drying Fruit

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Weather Bureau experts took another jolt from Dame Nature today. Showers falling as far south as the Sacramento River delta were chilly enough in the Sacramento Valley to cause concern for drops and drying fruit.

In Red Bluff, center of drying operations now, rain fell intermittently all last night, as well as at Colusa. Colgate, near Marysville, and the Pit River region had rain, according to reports to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. The Southern Pacific reported rain of intensity running to a quarter of an inch in the Siskiyous, where it was expected.

The forecast is for clear weather in Central and Northern California, except for the mountains, where rain can be expected, and along the coast, where there will be fog.

Official northern stations reported rainfall at 5 p.m. as follows:

MORE CASH CIRCULATES IN AUGUST

Statement of Treasury Reveals Increase Over Figures for July

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—More money got into general circulation during August than was passing from pocketbook to pocketbook in July, with the per-capita allotment reaching $36.72 as compared with $35.90 the previous month.

The Treasury circulation statement issued today showed $4,534,471,449 in general circulation on August 31, compared with $4,426,493,631 on July 31. There was slightly more cash going the rounds a year ago, the total then reaching $4,839,858,913.

The total amount of United States money on August 31 was placed at $8,253,541,522, of which $4,007,099,747 is held in the Treasury.

Michelin Tire Factory Will Remain Closed

NEW BRUNSWICK (N. J.) Sept. 10. (AP)—J. H. Michelin, vice-president, said today the plant of the Michelin Tire Company, which has operated at Milltown since 1907, will be closed permanently. The plant was shut down on May 1, last.

Michelin said operations were stopped because conditions in the tire business "made it impossible to run our plant with any chance of breaking even.

"Independent tire dealers are dropping out fast, while the fight for volume in tire sales goes on between chain stores and gas stations on one side, and the factory-controlled retailers on the other."

Five Temblors Felt in Panama

PANAMA, Sept. 10. (AP)—Telegrams from Boquete tonight state that strong seismic disturbances are occurring at frequent intervals in that section of the province of Chiriqui. Five of these earthquakes have occurred during today and tonight.

In close proximity to the Boquete region is Baru, a volcano which has been extinct for centuries without a sign of resumption of activity.

No damage to property or loss of life has been reported today.

Bad Propeller Delays Coste

VALLEY STREAM (N. Y.) Sept. 10. (AP)—A cracked propeller was discovered today by Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte on their trans-Atlantic plane Question Mark, boding a delay in the start of their good-will tour around the United States. A new blade was ordered from France, but the necessity of waiting for it will delay the start of their tour more than a week.

IGNORANCE BRINGS INQUIRY

Boston Asks Why High School Girls Don't Know Who Lincoln Was

BOSTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—The Mayor and the Superintendent of Schools want to know what is the matter with Boston's public schools. When a ranking girl high school graduate says Abraham Lincoln had something to do with slavery, but on failing to finish the job he turned it over to George Washington, the officials say something must be off-color.

Thirty-four girls took the examination for entrance to the teachers' college and only eight passed. Chairman Joseph J. Hurley of the school committee was responsible for exposing the results of the examination. He said that among the answers to the questions were statements that Daniel Webster was Washington's Secretary of State, that Gettysburg was the scene of McDonough's victory in the War of 1812, that the Progressive movement in 1912 was when Roosevelt reclaimed the West and built a dam. Hurley said a girl who received a mark of 90 in her high-school mathematics had received a mark of eight in the examination.

Dr. J. E. Burke, Superintendent of Schools, called in the headmasters of five suburban high schools for an explanation and Mayor James M. Curley issued a statement favoring an investigation into the matter.

DAUGHERTY DECLARED BANKRUPT

Petition will be Filed Against Brother of Late ex-Cabinet Member

COLUMBUS (O.) Sept. 10. (AP)—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy against Mal S. Daugherty, former Washington Courthouse banker, and brother of the late Harry M. Daugherty, former United States Attorney-General, will be filed in Federal Court here tomorrow by Atty.-Gen. Gilbert Bettman of Ohio on behalf of State Superintendent of Banks C. C. Gray, it was announced tonight.

The petition lists claims totaling $77,237.51, of which $52,100 is for promissory notes to the Ohio State Bank of Washington Courthouse, now defunct, and $25,000 for promissory notes to the People's and Drovers' Bank of Washington Courthouse, also defunct.

Daugherty was president of the Ohio State Bank. The claims of the notes were listed by Gray, who is in charge of the liquidation of the two banks. The Ohio State Bank failed on May 12 and the People's and Drovers' Bank closed several weeks earlier.

Glenn M. Pine is a third petitioner, who claims Daugherty owes him $837.51.

The petition prepared for filing asserts that Daugherty has admitted in writing that he is unable to pay his debts and consented to be adjudged a bankrupt on that ground. He owns 705 shares of stock of the Ohio State Bank upon which he will be liable for assessment of double liability, the Attorney-General said.

BOND FIGHT JUSTIFIED

Utilities' Actions Within Rights

State Rail Commission Not to Investigate Campaign of Companies Here

Battle on Hostile Political Move Held Legitimate Business of Concerns

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Marked by the usual dissent of Commissioners Carr and Seavey, the State Railroad Commission today dismissed its own order of investigation into the political activities of four Southern California utilities in the Los Angeles municipal election of June 4, 1929, the majority members having found those activities did not impair service to users nor did the funds expended reflect themselves in any way in their rates.

Thus is ended an action which at the time of its inception was the most drastic of its kind ever taken by the commission and one which caused widespread attention to be focused on the companies. These are the Southern California Edison Company, Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, Southern Counties Gas Company and Southern California Gas Company.

SUMS SPENT SHOWN

Commissioners De Coto, Loutit and Whitsell, in ordering dismissal, cite information in the record to the effect that Southern Counties Gas spent $200 for election purposes, Southern California Gas spent $1683.35, Southern California Edison spent $45,068.05 and Los Angeles Gas and Electric spent $40,-383.58.

But the record also shows, they pointed out, that the expenditures were charged by each of the companies to their surplus accounts and no part thereof was charged to operating expenses, hence the ratepayers were not, by any interpretation, called upon to stand the expense.

Moreover, according to the majority opinion, "the testimony of various witnesses" at hearings conducted by the commission on its own motion, "shows that the public utility services rendered by the respective companies were not impaired by the withdrawal of company employees from their regular duties during the election period."

NOT STATE'S AFFAIR

In dissenting, Commissioners Carr and Seavey agreed the commission has no legal right to control the expenditures of the companies as long as they do not affect rates or service, but in the case of the Southern California Edison and Los Angeles Gas and Electric they aver "an entirely different situation developed," which they term "one which presents a sharp challenge to the effectiveness of the system of regulation to properly cope with it."

The points they make are dealt with in an amplified opinion by Commissioner De Coto, who stood with the majority and which he prefaces by saying, "I believe the minority opinion of Commissioners Seavey and Carr may be misleading; that the conclusions reached are not supported by the facts as disclosed in the record nor the law as laid down in numerous decisions by the courts of California, courts of other States and the Supreme Court of the United States."

WITHIN RIGHTS

He points out that "the control of the corporate acts of any corporation, including public utilities, is placed directly in the hands of the board of directors of such corporation." This commission cannot usurp the duties of the board of directors as long as those duties "promote the interests of the stockholders and the corporation," including steps "needful to protect the business of the corporation as a whole." This activity, in the commissioner's opinion, includes the obligation of preventing "if possible, the severance of its property and the unwise taking thereof by a municipality."

This reference is to activities of the company in attempting to defeat municipal power bond issues.

Commissioner De Coto then calls attention to a statement in the minority opinion that "for a period of

REMEDY FOR CANCER HIT

Coffey-Humber Work Target

Expert in East Says Extract Developed by Bay City Pair Valueless

Chemical Society Also Hears About Substitutes for Gland-Grafting

CINCINNATI, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—The Coffey-Humber extract is valueless in the treatment of cancer; Dr. Ellice McDonald, director of cancer research in the graduate school of medicine, University of Pennsylvania, told members of the biological section of the American Chemical Society here today.

The Pennsylvania expert, discussing the extract of the adrenal gland as experimented with by Drs. Coffey and Humber, two San Francisco specialists who have gained world-wide prominence through publicity, said that experiments he has made in collaboration with Dr. Shigemitau Itami show "this form of treatment is without any curative value and is unduly exploited."

"The claims made for the treatment," Dr. McDonald continued, "have led to patients flocking to San Francisco to follow a will-o'-the wisp in seeking a cure. Many have gone on long journeys when they could ill afford the expense, and they have lost the opportunity of more effective treatment."

The only effective treatment, he said, is by means of surgery, radium and X-rays, and with their aid about a third of all cancer patients can be cured. With other cancer experts he has urged upon a commission of the United States Senate, the establishment of centers for treatment throughout the country, where, with adequate supplies of radium and a competent staff, some 30,000 lives can be saved annually.

NEW "REJUVENATION" EXPERIMENTS EXPLAINED

CINCINNATI (O.) Sept. 10. (AP)—Substitutes for the gland grafting of "rejuvenation" fame, which chemists are just beginning to develop, were explained to the division of medical chemistry at the American Chemical Society meeting today.

The substitutes are secretions of three glands, and of other glands that probably never can be transplanted. The chemists extract the secretions and administer them like ordinary medical remedies.

Their experiments have barely touched upon human uses yet, but indicate a field of human application like that of other medicines in curing the sick, alleviating premature age or aiding subnormal youth.

No miracles like restoration of youth were even foreshadowed, but amazing practical experiments were reported.

Dr. F. C. Koch of the University of Chicago said that a human male sex extract, called a hormone, when injected into roosters, caused growth of their combs and wattles, which are nature's ornamental badges of masculinity in the chicken family.

Sex hormones obtained from women caused the roosters' combs to grow about as well as did the male extract.

A different feminine hormone obtained from women, however, caused roosters' feathers to change slightly so as to show markings typical only of hen feathers.

These experiments add to existing proof that some of the glands of animals and humans produce substances so similar that animals may be used safely to extract remedies for man.

Dr. Koch said he has not experimented to learn what uses the male hormone extracted at Chicago may have for human beings.

A female hormone extracted from animals by Dr. Edward A. Doisy of St. Louis University and used a little upon human beings was described by S. A. Thayer of St. Louis University. He said it shows signs of helping some types of physical backwardness in girls and in relief of causes of suffering among women.

Discovery of a gland secretion that appears to control pigmentation—the basis of complexion—also was reported to the society today.

The secretion comes from the pituitary gland, which lies between

NOW IT'S "COUSIN CHIMP"

Noted British Scientist Declares Chimpanzee to be Man's Nearest Living Relative

BRISTOL (Eng.) Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—The chimpanzee was declared to be man's nearest living relative in the course of a discussion by Dr. C. Tate Regan, director of the natural history museum of South Kensington, London, who outlined for the British Association for the Advancement of Science the evolution of the primates, among them man.

But the chimpanzee is not in the direct ancestral line, Dr. Regan made clear. Some anthropologists have heretofore contended that the gorilla is man's nearest living cousin.

CONFLICTING VIEWS

Dr. Regan expressed disagreement with the head of another great natural history museum across the Atlantic, Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn, of the American Museum of Natural History of New York City. He attacked Dr. Osborn's views on man's ancestry. Dr. Osborn at the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science last winter surprised his colleagues by contending that the human race has existed as a distinct natural division wholly separate from its nearest relatives, the great apes, for more than 1,000,000 years. This made man much older than other anthropologists were willing to concede. Now Dr. Regan reaffirms the more general view that man while not directly descended from the great apes is an offshoot from a common stock that divided at a more recent geological period than Dr. Osborn would agree to.

The tarsiers, small arboreal insectivorous animals of East India with large eyes and ears, are cousins of the flat-nosed apes of the new world, Dr. Regan has conclud-eleven days the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation withdrew 23.43 per cent of its employees for 21.55 per cent of the total employed time and the Southern California Edison Company withdrew 23.39 per cent of its employees for 17.67 per cent of the total employed time, thus diverting them to the above described political activities."

Declaring this assertion unsupported by fact, the commissioner avers:

"These percentages, when multiplied, do not show any terrifying activity on the part of these corporations. They show when multiplied, that only 7.30 per cent of the employees of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric devoted eleven days to political activities and that only 5.11 per cent of the employees of the Southern California Edison Company devoted eleven days to such activities. This does not constitute a withdrawal of a substantial part of the force for a substantial period. Undoubtedly this activity of a small percentage of the employees worked less impairment of service than would be occasioned by the summer vacation period."

WHAT OF BUREAU?

He then asks that attention be given the fact that "the record does not show the money expended, if any, by the Bureau of Power and Light (municipally owned,) nor the time taken from their regular work and devoted to political activities by its employees. Such information would be of undoubted interest."

Another part of the minority opinion he says he cannot pass without comment is the assertion "it is very evident there is a danger to the public interest in such activities of utilities." To that, the commissioner asserts:

"Every corporation under the laws of California and the powers granted to it by its charter has the same right to freedom of action as an individual. It is the duty of every individual and every corporation to take a healthy interest in the political affairs of cities, counties and State. It is also the duty of corporations and public utilities to see that the public is thoroughly informed on any issue pending. Such activity has no potential danger and is a distinct benefit to the community."

WANT DETAILS

In the minority opinion it is declared "proper" that utilities furnish to the commission prior to engaging in political activities the names of the employees who will be so engaged and the length of time they will be occupied.

Commissioner De Soto, in disagreeing, declares such a matter is "entirely within the jurisdiction of the board of directors" of the corporation involved "and entirely out of the scope of the regulatory power of the commission." Such an order, he says, would be "not only futile, but unlawful."

Concluding, he says:

NOT INFALLIBLE

"There is no particular sanctity to the acts of the Bureau of Power and Light, nor to the acts of municipal governing bodies. Many of the acts of municipal governing bodies are unlawful, erroneous and even costly to their electorate, to wit, the St. Francis Dam disaster, the delays and disasters of Hetch-Hetchy construction and the failure of the Lafayette Dam.

"Experience has not shown that the members of such boards or bodies have displayed the same careful judgment displayed by our major businesses, neither have they attracted to themselves men of as great ability as have been attracted to the governing boards of private businesses. Therefore, in many cases, it is to the best interests of the community that a little light be shed upon such activities from a nonpolitical source."

Young to Get Data on Mooney

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10. (AP) C. B. King, Oakland attorney, announced today he had sent to Gov. Young an affidavit by Dr. Howard C. Maffitzer setting forth the surgeon's opinion John MacDonald was in an "abnormal and irresponsible mental condition" in 1916 when he testified against Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings in the Preparedness Day bombing cases.

The affidavit states the surgeon treated MacDonald, a star prosecution witness, at the San Francisco Hospital between 1916 and 1918 and had operated upon him twice.

was indorsed by wet organizations and supporters made prohibition the chief issue.

In the Seventh District Jesse P. Wolcott, Port Huron attorney, who favored submission of a referendum on prohibition, was claiming the Republican nomination over Representative Louis C. Cramton, known as the dean of the House dry leaders.

A complete tabulation of the 194 precincts of the district which showed Cramton seventy-five votes ahead, was questioned by Wolcott, and late today it was discovered that an error had been made in reporting the vote from Vassar village in Tuscola county. Correction of this error gave Wolcott 25,630 votes and Cramton 25,515. An official count will be required to decide who was the winner.

These two districts furnished the principal fireworks in the Congressional contests. In the race for the nomination for Senator, Senator James Couzens strode to an easy victory over Chase S. Osborn, former Governor. With 3065 of the State's 3317 precincts reported, Couzens had 481,232 votes and Osborn 214,372.

In the governorship race Wilber M. Brucker, Attorney-General, defeated Alex J. Groesbeck by a margin of about 7500. Brucker came into Detroit with a lead of 85,000, but the heavy metropolitan vote for Groesbeck shaved it down to a close race.

It was Detroit voters who assured Person's victory over Hudson. The prohibition advocate led in outside counties, but lost heavily in Detroit and its suburbs. Tabulation of 469 of the 690 precincts showed Person with 83,895 and Hudson with 83,470. Two others trailed.

SOUTH CAROLINA GOVERNOR RACE CLOSE

COLUMBIA (S. C.) Sept. 10. (AP)—Prospects of a demand for a recount in the closely contested Governor's race overshadowed the apparent defeat of Senator Cole L. Blease by James F. Byrnes today as virtually complete unofficial returns were assembled from yesterday's run-off Democratic primary. On the face of returns from all but five small precincts out of 1423 Olin D. Johnston was 1194 votes behind his fellow-townsman, Solicitor Ira C. Blackwood. The vote was: Blackwood, 118,407; Johnston, 117,213.

Senator Blease, for forty-two years an active and often stormy figure in the State's political life, refused to concede defeat, and would make no statement. With 1300 boxes accounted for Byrnes, who lost to Blease in a run-off six years ago, held a lead of 4949 votes. A survey of lacking boxes indicated that the outstanding vote would not exceed 1500. The vote stood: Blease, 116,946; Byrnes, 119,882.

SHAW AND COSTIGAN LEADING IN COLORADO

DENVER, Sept. 10. (AP)—Steadily mounting totals on the vote for Republican and Democratic United States Senatorial nominations in Colorado's biennial primary election yesterday had served tonight gradually to increase the leads of George H. Shaw, Republican, and Edward P. Costigan, Democrat.

With only eighty-five precincts out of the State's 1853 missing, Shaw had a lead of 14,283 votes over William V. Hodges, former treasurer of the Republican National Committee, for the party nomination. Costigan led his nearest competitor, Morrison Shafroth, by 9948 votes.

The Republican count was: Shaw, 61,196; Hodges, 46,913.

The Democratic count: Costigan, 23,945; Shafroth, 15,300, and James A. Marsh, 7215.

Hodges had conceded his defeat, and Costigan's opponents have admitted his growing strength probably will nominate him for the Senate.

The Republican nominee is a young man as Senatorial aspirants go, barely past the age of 40. His opponent in November is well into his 50's. Shaw has been active in Colorado politics for a number of years, and Costigan gained considerable attention while he was a member of the Federal Tariff Commission.

GOV. LONG'S MAJORITY 38,005 AS COUNT NEARS END

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10. (AP)—With only seventy-two scattered precincts over the State missing, Gov. Huey P. Long's majority over Senator Joseph E. Ransdell for the Democratic nomination to the United States Senate stood at 38,005.

These returns represent complete, unofficial figures from fifty-four of the sixty-four parishes in the State, the vote standing, Long, 147,253; Ransdell, 109,248.

On almost complete returns from the three Congressional districts, where there were contests for the United States House of Representatives the three Long candidates were ahead.

In the First District Senator J. O Fernandez, Long man, held a lead of 1512 over Representative James O'Connor, the vote with one precinct missing being Fernandez, 24,937; O'Connor, 23,425.

In the Second District Paul Maloney, New Orleans business man of the Long faction, held a majority of 1788, the vote with seven precincts missing, standing Maloney, 24,440; Representative J. Zach Spearing, incumbent, 20,167; R. R. Rochester, independent, 2485.

In the Third District, Representative Numa Montet retained his seat with Long support by a majority of 5858, the vote being complete returns, Montet, 13,481; Clarence J. Bourg of the Ransdell faction, 8123.

NOMINEE TO FIGHT FOR TWO POSTS

New Hampshire Men Who Wins Governor and Senate Race Offers Problem

CONCORD (N. H.) Sept. 10. (AP)—Albert Noone, 54-year-old Peterboro manufacturer, who furnished a problem to political experts by his unprecedented nomination yesterday as the Democratic candidate for both the United States Senate and the Governorship, today said he will not yield either of the honors.

In 269 of the 304 districts Noone received 2617 votes against 2389 for Frederick E. Small of Rochester, for the gubernatorial nomination. For Senator Noone got 2423 votes in 303 districts against 2704 for Amos N. Blandin of Bath.

"I will stay in the field," Noone said, "because when I entered I intended to win both places. I want to go to the United States Senate because I am dripping wet.

"If I am elected to the office of Governor and United States Senator I do not intend to qualify at the Senate until I have had a chance to serve in the Governor's chair and put into effect some of my economy theories in legislation. For one thing I intend to turn back into the State treasury my pay checks as chief executive."

the roof of the mouth and the base of the brain, and which has been identified previously as producing other secretions affecting growth of the body and bones and development of sex.

The discovery is credited to Dr. C. G. MacArthur of the University of Buffalo.

ITALIANS HEAR ABOUT NEW PLAGUE TREATMENT

ROME, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Italian medical and scientific circles were stirred today by the statement of Prof. Fisher of the University of Milan cancer institute that he has discovered a new treatment for cancer.

Prof. Fisher outlined his method before the plenary session of the Society for the Advancement of Science, meeting at Belzane. He previously had given an exposition of it before the medical session of the society, which so interested the doctors that they requested a plenary meeting so that all of the scientists present, including Signor Guglielmo Marconi, could hear of the matter.

Prof. Fisher's method consists of injecting a fluid beneath the skin. He did not divulge the chemical formula of the fluid, but exhibited photographs and X-ray pictures which purport to show that the chemical causes the cancer gradually to vanish until nothing remains but the scar.

G.O.P. Target for Cummings

EASTERN POINT (Ct.) Sept. 10. (AP)—Full responsibility for the nation's economic ills was placed on the Republican party tonight by Homer S. Cummings, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in delivering the keynote address at the opening of the Democratic State convention here.

Mr. Cummings, in reviewing nine years of Republican rule, which he found "tainted with corruption," said the party in power has failed to redeem campaign pledges. He urged a sweeping change of regime.

DRYS HOLD LEAD IN WASHINGTON

Most of Incumbents Score in Congressional Race

Horr, However, Wins Over Representative Miller

Johnson Assured Victory in Third District

SEATTLE, Sept. 10. (AP)—While wet forces in the First District defeated John F. Miller, Republican Representative for seven terms, incumbents in four other districts of the State appeared safe in the finals late today.

The only avowed wet candidates in the Second and Third districts finished far behind the leaders in each instance.

In the Second District, Representative Lin H. Hadley was leading Payson Peterson, a newcomer who made a sensational campaign as leader of the young Republican element in his section, by 522 votes, with 523 of the 581 precincts giving the veteran member of the House Ways and Means Committee 17,468 to 16,544 for Peterson. Both are drys.

There will be no opponent in the finals for Albert Johnson, who was assured of tenth-term in Congress by defeating John T. McCutcheon by a 5472 plurality in the Third District, where 641 of 673 precincts gave Johnson 35,907 votes to 30,435 for McCutcheon.

HORR VICTORIOUS

Ralph A. Horr, who led the fight that put the wet plank in the State Republican platform recently, defeated Miller by 3712 votes, with 459 of 469 precincts in the Seattle area giving him 32,735 votes to 29,043 for Miller. Charles G. Heifner, also wet, who was unopposed on the Democratic ticket, is not expected to give Horr serious competition in the election.

In the only Congressional contest in the two eastern districts, T. W. Symons was assured of victory over J. Loyal Adkinson for the Republican nomination in the Fifth District. Out of 542 precincts, 461 gave him 14,908 to 12,924 for Adkinson, to decide the election day opponent for Samuel B. Hill, Democrat, who has served four terms at Washington.

John W. Summers, Republican, was unopposed in either party for his seventh term from the Fourth District.

Frank E. Hammond, wet, had 9030 votes on the incomplete returns in Hadley's district, and a fourth candidate, A. C. Edwards, polled 8118.

WET POOR THIRD

In Johnson's district, O. M. Nelson, the only avowed wet, was also a poor third, with 4731 votes, Mark Bartlett getting 2606 and Chester Bleser 1874.

The early returns from the Tacoma voting machines made the Johnson-McCutcheon fight almost a duplication of the result two years ago, when the Representative from Grays Harbor was opposed by another Tacoma candidate, Homer T. Bone. As then, Johnson was trailing in early returns by 5000 votes, only to reverse this when the southwestern part of the State came through. The young assistant District Attorney of Tacoma was strongly supported by that city but attempts to displace the veteran chairman of the House Immigration Committee were futile.

Horr's spectacular campaign as champion of the wet forces in the First District resulted in defeat to Miller despite the fact that near the end of the campaign the latter said he would adhere to views of his constituents voiced in a prohibition referendum.

GORE LISTS OUTLAY OF $2300 FOR VOTES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Expenditures of $2300 in behalf of the campaign of T. P. Gore, blind former Senator, for the Democratic Senatorial nomination in Oklahoma, have been reported to the Senate Campaign Funds Committee. Another statement filed with the committee showed that $12,500 had been used for the campaign of James Elwood Jones for the Republican nomination for Senator in West Virginia.

HUNT WINS NOMINATION IN ARIZONA

Four-Way Split of Vote Gives Easy Victory to Veteran ex-Governor

PHOENIX, Sept. 10. (AP)—A four-way split in Arizona's Democratic ranks tonight had swept George W. P. Hunt, the Baby State's chief executive for two-thirds of its official life, for the eighth time into the gubernatorial nomination.

With 415 of the State's 502 precincts in yesterday's primary tabulated, forty-three of them incomplete, Hunt's plurality over his chief opponent, Frank H. Lyman, former Arizona Supreme Court justice, had mounted to 2684. It was conceded the outstanding precincts, for the most part scattered and small, could not rob the former Governor of more than a small portion of his lead even should they go against him.

Hunt has received 24,385 votes while the combined vote against Hunt in the tabulated precincts totaled 26,145, Lyman polling 17,701; Andrew Bettey 6084, and Fred T. Colter, Democratic nominee in 1918, had 2410. The disposal of this vote in November, within or without the party, apparently became a matter of concern to the unsuccessful aspirants before the primary ballots had grown cold, but the defeated candidates all have pledged support to Hunt.

ANCIENTS USED COPPER

The antiquity of copper as a metal used by the ancients was demonstrated by analyses of ancient bronzes reported by Prof. C. H. Desch of the University of Sheffield. He secured a bronze bowl excavated from the grave of Queen Shub-Ad of Ur who lived some 5000 years ago and found that it contained 8 per cent of tin and a small amount of nickel.

If you are good at one kind of sport or work it may or may not be easier for you to become proficient in another kind of play or occupation that seems to be similar to the old kind. Prof. T. H. Pear of the University of Manchester discussing this problem of the transfer of skill explained that when the old skill helps the new it is likely to be because of emotional attitudes, sentiments and ideals. If you like one kind of work it will probably help you to do a similar kind of work. On the other hand, high proficiency in a game or task may actually make the learning of a new one more difficult.

"The world's best exponents of any complex skills are usually very careful to be specialists," Prof. Pear explained. "There are good grounds for the fear that the learning of a new complex skill which superficially resembles a skill in which one is highly proficient may actually be detrimental to the latter."

KANSAS SENATOR ON OPERATING TABLE

NONAGENARIAN TURNS FLAPPER

Keep Attractive at Any Age, Her Motto

Under the Waves

Mrs. Martha Stuckey, 90 years of age, mother of fourteen, being given a permanent wave by her "baby," Louis Stuckey, proprietor of a Seattle beauty shop, and himself well past the age of 40.

SEATTLE, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Just because one is a nonagenarian is no reason why one should not endeavor to maintain attractiveness. That's the belief expressed by Mrs. Martha Stuckey, 90 years of age, as she walked into a beauty shop owned by her youngest child, Louis Stuckey, past 40, and requested a permanent wave.

"When I was young," Mrs. Stuckey declared, "people said I was good looking. Just because I'm 90 is no reason why I shouldn't stay that way."

So her son, one of fourteen children, put "Mom" in the chair and added to her attractiveness.

RASKOB PAYING MUD SLINGERS

Tilson Cites Financing of Attacks on Hoover

Democratic Chairman Makes "Loan" of $40,000

Vilification of President Held His Objective

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—John J. Raskob and his own money is paying for the propaganda being circulated by the Democratic National Committee against President Hoover, according to Representative John Q. Tilson, Republican House leader, who today wired the Republican National Committee to that effect. Representative Tilson's wire is based on the latest figures made public by the party treasurer, James W. Gerard, required by act of Congress to be made at stated intervals.

Tilson's telegram is as follows:

"If any evidence were needed to support my declaration that the Democratic national organisation is the personally underwritten organization of Mr. John J. Raskob, Mr. James W. Gerard, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, furnishes it in his latest report, under oath, to the clerk of the House of Representatives covering the activities of the committee for the three months ended August 31, 1930.

"This report shows that from June 1, 1930 to August 31, 1930, Mr. Raskob financed the Democratic organization almost alone. During that time he advanced a total of $40,000, while all other contributions listed in the treasurer's report totaled $150.

"Mr. Gerard's report showed that Mr. Raskob's 'loans' to his personally underwritten organization amounted to $190,000 up to August 31, 1930. This certainly substantiates the statement set forth by Mr. Frank Kent, nationally known Democratic journalist, that Mr. Raskob set up and is financing the propaganda agency in Washington which has for its sole purpose the vilification of the President of the United States.

"Mr. Raskob's $40,000 'loaned' during the quarter covered by Mr. Gerard's report, was divided into four units of $10,000 advanced on June 6, July 2, July 15 and August 13. During that same period there was expended by the organization $45,406.60."

ALBRECHT AND SPOUSE LIVE APART

Hungarian Archduke to Await Pope's Sanction of Union with Divorcee

BUDAPEST, Sept. 10. (AP)—The newspaper Ujsag today made public a declaration by Archduke Albrecht to the effect that while he adheres to belief in the validity of his marriage in England recently to Mme. Irene de Rudnay, the divorced wife of a Hungarian diplomat, according to the Hungarian civil law, he is convinced, "as a faithful Catholic, from a human standpoint and having a regard for his soul's salvation," that his marriage was not fully valid.

For this reason, the statement says, he has not yet taken up common habitation with his bride who, by her union with Albrecht, became a Hungarian royal Princess. She has moved into a villa while Albrecht continues in his former residence until the Pope shall have given the sanction of the church to the wedding.

FILM SUIT ASKS FOR $2,000,000

Amusement Concern Asks Damages from Paramount on Various Charges

BOSTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Violations of the Sherman antitrust law are charged against the Paramount Publix Corporation in an action filed today in the United States District Court by attorneys for the Strand Amusement Company of Portland, Me. It asks that the plaintiff concern be awarded damages approximating $2,000,000.

The declaration sets forth the Strand Amusement Company was earning a substantial profit in its theater until it was interfered with by the Paramount Publix Corporation.

It is charged the Paramount Publix Company had acquired firms, studios and corporations in which pictures were made with a view to monopolizing the picture business, in consequence of which, it is asserted, competition in the manufacture of motion pictures has been eliminated.

Charges of threats and intimidations regarding the fixation of prices with a view to destroying the plaintiff's business also are made.

'SOLID' RUBBER NEXT IN SIGHT

Elastic Substance Also Made from Petroleum

"Leather" from Pulp Waste Likewise Produced

Cottonseed Hulls Give up Sugar Xylose

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Rubber crystals, rubber from crude petroleum, leather from pulp mill waste and sugar from cottonseed hulls.

These were four of the scientific achievements recounted by Dr. George A. Burgess, director of the Bureau of Standards, to the delegates attending the inter-American Conference on Agriculture, forestry and animal industry, now in session here.

The crystalline rubber, he said, was produced under the direction of Dr. E. W. Washburn, head of the bureau's chemical laboratory, and opens up enormous possibilities for science and industry. He declined, however, to predict what the eventual product may be.

NEW KIND OF RUBBER

Up to the present, he explained, rubber has been an amorphous substance, on the borderline between solid and liquid. Rubber crystals, if fully developed, will mean "solid rubber," he said, adding that "it may be something having properties all its own, and nobody can say what this would mean."

The rubber reputed to have been made from petroleum, Dr. Burgess continued, came from a California oil plant, but thus far government scientists are not prepared to pass judgment upon it. The substance was produced by the extraction of certain hydrocarbons from the crude oil.

Turning to leather, the scientist said investigations have shown sulphite cellulose extracts, obtained from the waste of pulp mills, can be blended with ordinary vegetable tanning materials and used to produce heavy leathers with satisfactory physical and chemical properties.

SAVING EFFECTED

"The commercial significance of this work in the tanning industry," he explained, "is indicated by an estimated saving in tanning costs of from 10 to 20 per cent."

Recent work in the Bureau of Standards, he went on, has opened new possibilities for cotton growers by obtaining from cottonseed hull bran the sugar xylose which, with other sugars, constitutes about 40 per cent of materials.

"Although this sugar has been sold for $100 a pound," he added, "laboratory and semicommercial work by the bureau has shown it can be made on a practical scale for less than 25 cents a pound."

NATIONALISTS IN HUGE DRIVE

Four Hundred Thousand Hurled Against Rebels

Chiang Leader in Endeavor to Crush Northern Foe

Troops Hammer Way Far into Enemy Territory

SHANGHAI, Sept. 10. (AP)—Hurling 400,000 troops against the northern war lords' forces in Honan Province, the Nationalist government today began a great offensive to end the rebellion which has menaced its existence since May.

Forty divisions of soldiers began converging toward Chengchow, rebel base. Moving northward along the railroad from Hankow, the Nationalists hammered their way to within 100 miles of the strategic point.

Thousands of other government troops plunged westward toward Chengchow along the Haichow-Tungkwan Railroad, crippled by weeks of floods. Wallowing in mud and splashing through water the troops made little progress west of Kweiteh.

Having driven the rebels through Shantung Province to Southern Chihli, President Chiang Kai-shek drew heavily from his Shantung forces for the drive in Honan.

These troops, moving to the new battleground, appeared lawless.

HYMEN OFFERED AID BY LAW

Bill Ordering Marriage for All More Than 15 Years of Age Introduced

JERUSALEM, Sept. 10. (AP) An exchange telegraph dispatch from the Hedjas today said a bill had been introduced into that kingdom's advisory council which would make it obligatory that everyone more than 15 years of age must marry. The bill would limit costs of wedding fees and of dowries.

They forced farmers into their ranks, compelled women to cook meals, confiscated hundreds of work animals and carts. Entering villages, the soldiers drove out the peasants and occupied their houses.

Government soldiers quartered themselves in foreign missions along the Haichow-Tungkwan Railway, commandeering buildings of the Canadian Church Mission at Kweiteh and Kaifeng and the American Southern Baptist Mission at Kweiteh.

FREIGHT CUT REVIEW ASKED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—A petition asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to reconsider its recent decision granting a general reduction in freight rates on grain and grain products in the West and for export was filed today by western railroads.

CHARITY EVILS CITED IN BOOK

How to Give Away Millions Wisely Discussed

Rosenwald Says Dispensing Harder Than Making

Annual Gifts in America Near $3,000,000,000

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—In an effort to answer the question whether there is any technique of how to give away money, the Wiedboldt Foundation has prepared a "first aid to givers." The volume, entitled "Intelligent Philanthropy," is edited by Ellsworth Faris, Ferris Laune and Arthur J. Todd of the foundation staff. The subject is discussed from the standpoint of history, religion, economics, ethics, law and social science.

Mr. Todd, in his opening chapter, cites Julius Rosenwald, who testifies that it is easier to make $1,000,000 than to dispense with it wisely.

GIFT TOTALS HIGH

"It would sometimes seem," the author commented, "that mortal man does nothing so badly as his attempt to do good. If man is endowed with a definite instinct to do good, that alone, judging by its results, is sufficient cause for doubting the value of mere instinct as a guide to civilized social life."

With gifts from private sources alone for public welfare in the United States totaling annually between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000, the very magnitude of such giving, he points out, creates a social problem of staggering proportions.

DOES CHARITY CORRUPT?

"Why should we give at all?" Mr. Todd asks. "Doesn't charity contravene the inexorable law of the survival of the fittest? Isn't poverty or crime one of the 'costs of progress?' What is the use of philanthropy anyhow, if we are to have the poor with us always? Have we not the record of the Roman 'bread and circuses' to prove that charity does corrupt the people and breed pauperism?"

Mr. Paris, in his chapter, asks what would take place if modern charity were suddenly abandoned. The poor would be neglected, he says, but they would not all die. There is no adequate, scientific charity in China or India, Mr. Paris points out, but there are veritable armies of beggars. In those lands the poor go to the wall, but it is not a wall of death; it is a wall of despair, misery, disease, lost self-respect and menace.

PICK WORTHY CAUSE

"Whether we try to palliate the effects and remove the causes by governmental agencies or private initiative is a matter of expediency," Mr. Paris says. "It takes a longer time to move a legislature than to persuade a good man to help a worthy cause. Moreover, some conditions are so pressing that we must act without waiting and the individual philanthropist can experiment more freely. No science can answer the questions of just how to give or what causes are most worthy, but we have learned that giving is necessary and when wisely done blesses him that gives and him that receives."

BOAST OF TALLEST TREE HERE VALID

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—California's boast that it has the tallest tree in the world remains unassailed after an Australian investigation by the staff of the forest products laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture, the division office announced today. The honor goes to a dead redwood on Bull Creek Flat, which is 368 feet tall.

NEW MARRIAGE PLAN PROPOSED

London's Gloomy Dean Has Startling Suggestions

"Limited Contract" Feature Included in System

St. Paul's Pastor Also Takes Birth-Control Stand

LONDON, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Two startling suggestions for a new marriage system—one a "limited contract" for persons not recognizing life-long vows of fidelity which would be recognized by the state, and the second, a marriage in which the parties take vows for lifetime, which would be recognized by the church—are made by Dean Inge of St. Paul's, London's "gloomy dean," in his book, "Christian Ethics and Modern Problems," published today.

"Those who invoke the blessing of the church in their union," says the dean, "will be understood to have pledged themselves absolutely to life-long fidelity. They have taken vows, to break which would be scandalous and a most dishonorable offense.

"But if two persons wish to enter a much more limited contract the terms of which are understood clearly by both sides, they have, I think, the right to claim that the State shall recognize their position as something better than mere concubinage. Whether such persons should be allowed to be members of the church is a rather difficult question of discipline."

Dean Inge's views on birth control, divorce and suicide are similarly controversial.

"I cannot approve of deliberate withholding of medical knowledge from adults wishing to obtain it," the dean declares. "No one knowing anything of human nature could suggest that total abstinence is the solution of the problem. It is far more likely to wreck happiness in married life."

Hoodlums Beat City Employees in Chicago War

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (AP)—As civic, business and governmental agencies prepared to aid the grand jury investigation of racketeers preying on union labor, it was revealed today five engineers, employed by the city, have been slugged and beaten in the last three days.

The beatings, blamed by investigators on hoodlums attempting to gain control of union organizations of which the victims are members, apparently were administered by the same two men. George P. Bartels, a city bridge engineer, was badly beaten by the pair today. It was Bartels who made it known four other engineers had been attacked in the same manner.

Rockefeller to Build Roads

BAR HARBOR (Me.) Sept. 10. (AP) Fourteen miles of public highway on Mt. Desert Island will be built by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., at a cost of $4,000,000, it was announced today by George B. Dorr, superintendent of Acadia National Park.

The project will employ 500 men three years. Mr. Rockefeller has built approximately forty miles of public motor and carriage roads on the island, in the Seal Harbor section of which is situated his summer home.

MEXICO PRESENTED RAIL BUILDER'S PLAQUE

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 10. (AP)—On behalf of the donor, George Foster Peabody of New York City, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow today presented a bronze plaque of Gen. William Jackson Palmer, railroad builder, to Mexico through Javier Sanchez Mejorada, executive head of the National Railways of Mexico.

The plaque, which was placed on the front of the Colonia station, where the El Paso and Laredo lines touch the city, was unveiled by Mr. Morrow. Gen. Palmer died in 1909. He gained note for the building of the Laredo Mexico Railroad.

BOMBAY FLOODED BY TWO-FOOT SHOWER

BOMBAY (India) Sept. 10. (AP)—A torrential rainfall since midnight, reaching a depth of twenty-two inches, obliged business men to don bathing suits and wade through streets waist deep in water to reach their offices today. The principal streets looked like rivers. Many automobiles were stranded. The elections to the Bombay Legislative Council had to be postponed.

PROPERTY CONTEST CAUSES REMARRIAGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Gall, divorced in 1926, spent the last four years trying to adjust their community property interests and failed, so they decided the best way out of it was to remarry. They did, at Reno, Monday, so Superior Judge Fitzpatrick today dismissed an alimony contempt citation against Gall.

MUSICAL COMEDY CAST IN CUSTODY

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Twelve men and three women, members of the cast in the musical comedy, "Frankie and Johnny," were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct tonight after a performance in a theater at Jamaica.

Patricia Adela Cleary

AURORA (Ill.) Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—With a health rating of 99.5 per cent perfect, little Patricia Adela Cleary, 4-year-old Chicago girl, won the health contest conducted at the State Fair here.

It was not announced what defect caused the .5 per cent reduction, thereby keeping Patricia from getting a perfect score. However, her parents appear well satisfied with the results.

CHICAGO DRUGGIST SLAIN BY BANDITS

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (Exclusive) Willis Piddelke, 28 years of age, proprietor of a pharmacy, was shot to death by one of a pair of bandits tonight while lying face downward on the floor back of his prescription case. Piddelke was killed because he had only $40 in his cash register. The bandits escaped.

Coup Strengthens Marshal's Fences in Election

WARSAW (Poland) Sept. 10. (AP) Shouting crowds milled in the streets today as Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, Prime Minister, Minister of War, and "strong man" of Poland, began a political struggle with the opposition party in the Chamber of Deputies.

The first round was taken by Marshal Pilsudski, who caused the incarceration of former Premier Witos and seventeen former Deputies in the Parliament. Political observers say this coup tends to paralyze the opposition's campaign in the elections set for November 16.

Members of the opposition began public protests in Warsaw's streets. Small crowds paraded, singing radical songs, and shouting, "Down with Pilsudski."

CANADIAN TELLS PLAN FOR LABOR

Premier Bennett Slates Public and Private Work to be Put Under Way

OTTAWA (Ont.) Sept. 10. (AP)—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada today outlined a plan of public and private works to alleviate Canada's unemployment.

He explained to the House that the government expects to spend the $20,000,000 which he wants Parliament to vote on public works which would not be started now were it not for the labor depression.

The government proposes to assist the provinces in connecting up unfinished portions of the Trans-Canada Highway, to build wharves and bridges, to aid the provinces in undertakings of a local nature and to help railroads in whatever work they can undertake.

Mr. Bennett said he expected the amendments to the customs act to stop dumping of foreign surplus products in Canada and thus indirectly to give employment to about 25,000 men.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Los Nacionalistas Hacen Tremendo Empuje Contra los Norteños

SHANGHAI (China), Septiembre 10.—Lanzando una ofensiva con 400,000 soldados contra las fuerzas de los jefes guerreros del norte en la provincia de Honan, el gobierno nacionalista ha comenzado hoy un poderoso empuje, que espera de al traste con la rebelión que viene amenazando su existencia desde Mayo próximo pasado.

Cuarenta divisiones de tropas han comenzado a dirigirse en movimiento convergente sobre Chengchow, que es la base rebelde. Desplazándose hacia el norte, a lo largo del ferrocarril que parte de Hankow, los nacionalistas han llevado sus golpes de ariete hasta una distancia de cien millas del punto estratégico de los norteños.

El "Conde Zeppelin" Visita a Moscú

MOSCU, Septiembre 10.—El "Conde Zeppelin" ha hecho hoy su primera visita oficial a la capital de los soviets. Arribó a media día y fue saludado con tremolantes banderas rojas y con bandas de músicos tocando aires comunistas. Tras breve visita, se volvió la gran aeronave a Alemania.

Dos Negros Colgados por la Turba en Misisipi

SKOOBA (Misisipi), Septiembre 10.—Cerca de este punto les fueron arrebatados a los tenientes sheriffs dos presos negros, a quienes linchó hoy la muchedumbre amotinada, no sin haber atado antes a un árbol a los dos policías que custodiaban los presos.

Los negros, acusados de haber robado al señor y la señora Thomas McCoy en una carretera, iban siendo conducidos de Dekalb (Misisipi) a Skooba para la audiencia preliminar. Los dos policías manifiestan que la turba se les echó encima y les quitó a los reos.

Luego de atar a los sheriffs Guy Bird y J. J. Dotson, la multitud colgó a los negros de un árbol próximo, y se marchó. Los pobres ajusticiados se llamaban "Pig" Lockett y Holly Write.

Un Propulsor Defectuoso Demora a Coste

VALLEY STREAM (Nueva York), Septiembre 10.—Hoy descubrieron Dieudonne Coste y Maurice Bellonte un propulsor rajado en su avión trasatlántico "Question Mark" lo que demorará su viaje de cordialidad alrededor de los Estados Unidos, pues han tenido que encargar una nueva paleta a Francia. La dilación que les resultará por tal motivo será de más de una semana.

Roosevelt en Favor de la Derogación de la Ley Seca

ALBANY (Nueva York), Septiembre 10.—El gobernador Roosevelt rompió hoy su silencio oficial de dos años sobre el debatido tema de la prohibición, y anunció estar en favor de que se derogue la Enmienda Decimaoctava, y se reemplace por un estatuto federal que conceda a cada Estado el derecho de gobernar la venta de bebidas alcohólicas.

En carta al senador federal Wagner, hecha pública aquí, el gobernador incluye el asunto de la prohibición entre los que juzga deben tratarse de modo especial en la convención democrática del Estado, que ha de celebrarse en Siracusa a fines de este mes, y añade que "puede asegurarse de modo positivo que de ninguna manera y en ninguna época resucitará en este país la vieja taberna."

NOTAS LOCALES

Ayer por la Mañana Ha Fallecido en Esta un Dipsómano

Simultáneamente con la declaración hecha por el jefe de policía Stéckel, de que ha habido en Los Angeles menos ventas de licor por los "bootleggers", desde que él se hizo cargo de la jefatura de policía, ocurrió la muerte, de Edward A. Collins, de 42 años de edad, quien, según aseguran los que lo conocieron, anduvo borracho durante una semana. Atribuyen, pues, su fallecimiento a intoxicación alcohólica. Habitaba un cuarto en el número 343 de la calle de San Pedro Sur, y allí vino a sorprenderle la muerte la mañana de ayer.

Va a practicársele la autopsia para determinar a ciencia cierta la causa de su defunción. Según el parte rendido por los guardias municipales Toledo y Curtis, la patrona de la casa donde habitaba Collins manifestó que el huésped fallecido se registró allí el 31 de Agosto.

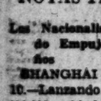
CONFERENCE CALLED ON STEAMER SAFETY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—A conference to discuss plans to prevent future steamship disasters in United States coastal waters was called today for the 29th inst. by Dickerson N. Hoover, supervising inspector-general of the Commerce Department's steamboat inspection service. It will be held here and is an outgrowth of the collision between the Fairfax and the Pinthis in Massachusetts Bay last June, which cost the lives of fifty persons.

STATE FAIR DATE SET

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10. (AP)—Charles W. Paine, secretary-manager of the State Agricultural Society, announced today the 1931 California State Fair will be held in Sacramento the 5th to 13th inst. inclusive. These dates will include Labor and Admission days.

Skinny, I Gained 25 Lbs. and Lovely, Clear Skin Quick



"I was underweight for years. Finally took Ironized Yeast. Quickly gained 25 lbs. Skin lovely, figure perfect." —Mrs. W. Hornbeck.

"Skinny," weak men and women are amazed at gain of 5 to 15 lbs. in 3 weeks. Ugly hollows vanish. Bony limbs round out. Sallow, blemished skin gets clear and rosy like magic. Nervousness, indigestion, constipation disappear overnight. Sound sleep, new pep quick.

Two great tonics in one—special weight-building Brewer's Yeast and strengthening Iron. Pleasant little tablets. Far stronger than unmedicated yeast. Results in ½ time. No yeasty taste, no gas.

Don't go around "skinny," ugly, unattractive. Get Ironized Yeast from druggist today. Feel great tomorrow. Money back from manufacturer if not delighted.—[Advertisement.

SAFEWAY STORES
DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

Eat More Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

above . . . A typical night scene on Safeway's modern Fruit and Vegetable Sun. filling individual store orders for early morning delivery. Swift trucks rush the order to the Safeway Stores, fresh and crisp to your breakfast table.

Fresh from Garden to your table . . . in less than 24 hours!

You need not grow a garden nowadays—your nearest Safeway Store saves you all the trouble and provides a greater variety at less cost!

Safeway owns and operates one of the largest fruit and vegetable docks in the world, right here in Los Angeles. It covers nearly three acres, is 480 feet long, 100 feet wide, and completely equipped with huge refrigerators into which tons of perishables, fresh from field and garden, are packed hourly day and night.

Think of it! More than fifty truck loads of the finest fruits and vegetables grown in Southern California pass through this wonderful plant every night, coming to your table almost as fresh as if you had gone to the garden and picked them yourself. Much of this great variety of fresh fruits and vegetables is grown especially for Safeway. It comes direct into our tremendous plant and is on the stands in your nearest store, ready for consumption, within twenty-four hours from the time it left the fields and gardens.

Safeway is the largest individual buyer of California-grown fruits and vegetables in the West. Our purchases amount to approximately ten million dollars annually. Most of this is purchased direct from the grower. Freshness and quality are the sole standards used in our purchases.

Safeway thinks so much of the importance of the liberal use of fruits and vegetables that we have set aside one day each week to be known as "Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Day." Each Thursday you will find in our stores extraordinary values and unusually attractive selections. Come and see these wonderful displays!

Right in the front of every Safeway Store is the Fruit and Vegetable stand. Attractively arranged, colorful displays of the Season's best, make possible a quick selection of your table needs.

IT'S LEGAL SIN TO TEACH VIOLIN IN ILLINOIS TOWN

EVANSTON (Ill.) Sept. 10. (AP) Out here it is a legal sin to teach to play the violin.

Under the circumstances Sergt. Ruland decided yesterday to arrest three violin teachers, their names being John Lindgren, Carl Norton and Walter Paccini.

The sergeant, who spends his spare time studying up the old laws, found that in 1875 an ordinance was passed making it unlawful to teach the playing of the violin without a license.

"The law has never been repealed," the sergeant said, "so I only did my duty."

Oddly enough, there is no law, one way or the other, dealing with the saxophone, the French horn, kettle drums and the steam calliope.

the work to averting the development of mentally handicapped children into juvenile offenders and later adult criminals.

"Education faces the problem," the education office said, "of making satisfactory provision for those children who need special adjustment if it is to contribute to the world the best it can give to social welfare and law enforcement. The new position of the office of education is a step in the direction of its solution."

Miss Martens is a graduate of the University of California and has been connected with the school systems of Oakland and Berkeley. She will continue a co-operative relationship with child adjustment work at Berkeley and will establish similar relations with other school systems engaging in the task.

OXNARD CHIEF CLAIMS BADGE FOUND AT JAIL

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 10. (AP)—J. B. Kerrick, Police Chief of Oxnard, owns the gold-plated badge found outside the Yuba County Jail yesterday. Kerrick telegraphed the Sheriff's office today asking that the police badge be mailed to him and saying he will explain in a letter how he lost it in Susanville.

MISSING JUDGE QUIZ DEMANDED

New York District Attorney Asks Court to Act

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (Exclusive) A John Doe investigation of the disappearance of Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morse Crater, who has been missing since August 6, was instituted today by Dist.-Atty. Crain, who asked Chief Magistrate Corrigan to sit or appoint another magistrate to sit at an open hearing to determine whether Crater is alive or has met with death.

The prosecutor suggested that the hearing start next Monday morning. At the same time an extraordinary grand jury will hear the charge that George F. Ewald purchased a magistrate's appointment from Tammany Leader Healy.

Police have conducted a fruitless search for the missing man without direct authorization from the city, State or the judge's family.

Inquest Held in Cave-in Death

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 10.—Ray P. Leach, local man, killed instantly in a sand pit cave-in Monday, died from a fractured skull and crushed chest, a Kern Coroner's jury verdict stated today. The verdict dispels belief that he died from suffocation while buried beneath the hundreds of tons of rock and gravel when the side of the pit dropped to the bottom of the excavation. The accident occurred late Monday.

The Dennis Construction Company was employer of the local man. The victim lived at 1309 Tulare street and leaves a widow and five children here.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Calvary Baptist Church in East Bakersfield under direction of Caledonia Masonic Lodge, No. 488, and Rev. J. D. Page.

ARTIST ADMITS DIVORCE PAYOFF

Nicholls Says Mrs. Vanderbilt to Give Him $100,000

RENO, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Winfield Nicholls, lieutenant in the love cult band dominated by the Omnipotent Oom, tacitly admitted today that he is receiving $100,000 from Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt to divorce her daughter, the former Barbara Rutherford Hatch.

"I'd rather not discuss the property settlement which is holding up the divorce," the exotic artist announced today, "but I won't deny the report that Mrs. Vanderbilt is paying me $100,000 to come out here and sue her daughter."

The divorce, which came to light only yesterday, will be granted by the end of the week.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Down the two went across the body of Hasta, but instantly the ape-man was upon his feet and in his hands was his antagonist. He shook him as he had shaken the other, choking him, and cast the body from him. As the crowed shrieked in fiendish glee, Tarzan tenderly lifted Hasta to his feet and saw that consciousness was returning.

Now there were fifteen of the red side surviving and but ten whites. This was a battle for survival, not for sport, and Tarzan gathered with him the five surplus reds and set upon the strongest white, who, surrounded by six swordsmen, went down to death in an instant, shouting defiance with his last breath.

At Tarzan's command, the six attacked the remaining whites in quick succession, with the result that the battle was brought to a sudden close, fifteen reds surviving and the last white slain. The crowd was crying Tarzan's name, but the Emperor Sublatus was enraged. Tarzan had achieved a popularity greater than his own.

This creature, he determined, must be destroyed. He turned to the master of the games and whispered a command. The crowd was loudly demanding that the laurel wreaths be accorded the victors and that they be given their freedom, but instead they were herded back to the inclosure, all but Tarzan, who was left standing alone in the arena.

Annual Fall Term Opens in Educational Institutions in Many Southern California Cities

MONROVIA, Sept. 10.—City schools and the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High School opened today with a total enrollment of 1940 students, according to official figures released by A. K. Wilson, vice-principal of the high school, who is in charge of the registration of pupils.

The grand total included students of the Immaculate Conception School, which number 102. At the high school 748 students have registered, which is a slight increase over last year, while the grammar schools total 1296.

INCREASE SHOWN IN SUBURBAN SCHOOLS

HUNTINGTON PARK, Sept. 10.—Enrollment in the Huntington Park Union High School and the Huntington Park grammar school districts for the first day shows increases over the first day of last school year, according to the superintendents of the districts.

K. L. Stockton, superintendent of the high school district, announces that the first day's enrollment in the high school here was 1743, while the new South Gate High School, which is in the local district, shows an enrollment of 490 students, making the total in the high school district 2233 students, a substantial increase over the opening day of last year.

Charles L. John, superintendent of the grammar school district, states that 5536 pupils were enrolled in the district schools on the first day of the new school year, an increase of 176 over the first day of last school year.

VALLEY SCHOOLS OPEN NEXT MONDAY MORNING

EL CENTRO, Sept. 10.—Increased enrollment is expected in practically all Imperial Valley schools when the fall semester opens next Monday, according to the prediction made at the county superintendent's office today. Cool weather in the valley during the past week has brought summer vacationists home in large numbers and favorable temperatures, together with the fact that business conditions in the valley have remained exceptionally good throughout the summer, are the basis for the prediction of larger school attendance.

STUDENTS REGISTER IN ADVANCE OF OPENING

COVINA, Sept. 10.—Following the registration of students this week city schools and the Covina Union High School will begin the 1930-1931 term on the 15th inst., Supt. Ben S. Millikan announced today.

Millikan stated today that he expects 870 high school students to register before the end of the week. The Covina grammar school registration is placed at 535, the Lark Ellen school at 100 and Charter Oak will keep up its usual record with a registration of 200.

"We have found in the past few years that if students are registered a week before school opens a great deal of the last-minute confusion concerning classes and books is avoided and students on the opening day begin their studies," Millikan stated in explaining why Covina schools open a week later than other schools.

MRS. COLLINS AGAIN W.C.T.U. PRESIDENT

VENTURA, Sept. 10.—Mrs. W. M. Collins of this city will lead the destinies of the Ventura County Women's Christian Temperance Union through another term of office, as the result of her re-election this morning at the county convention business session being held here. Three others were also re-elected. They are Miss Ada B. Cummings of Santa Paula, vice-president; Mrs. Beulah Warren of Fillmore, recording secretary, and Mrs. Georgia Garrison of this city, corresponding secretary.

CITY PLANNERS TO MEET AT REDONDO

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 10.—The Association of City Planners of Los Angeles county will be guests of local members of the organization next Saturday, at a luncheon program at the Woman's Club, followed by the regular monthly program. Edward D. Landels of Oakland will be the main speaker. His subject will be "The Property Owner's Interest in Zoning." Mayor May B. Hopkins and Mrs. Mary Eich are in charge of the arrangements.

Jack Boone May Get Back into College Again

REDLANDS, Sept. 10.—Jack Boone, son of C. J. Boone, captain of the State police in this county, and one of the best linemen on the University of Redlands football team last year, may be back in school this year after all. Boone felt that he would have to stay out of school this year and work, but has made more this summer than he expected and if his plans now work out, he will report to Coach Lee Trine when the squad is called out next week.

Boone has had years of football experience for he played four years in Redlands High School, then on the freshman team of the university and last year made the varsity. He weighs well over 200 pounds and is either a tackle or a guard, although a better tackle.

Redlands has the prize schedule of the whole conference this year. The Bulldogs did not play Occidental last year because a game could not be arranged on the schedule and as a result there is not a conference game to be played at home this year. The Bulldogs play Occidental, Pomona, La Verne, Whittier and San Diego, out of town. Redlands does not have a game scheduled with Caltech.

There will be several night games in Redlands, one with Fresno State and one with California Christian College.

Golf Course O.K. But Office Not

ONTARIO, Sept. 10.—J. F. Lund realized that the old saw about "many a slip" has something to it.

Sometime ago Lund applied to the City Council for a permit to erect a miniature golf course at Fourth street and Laurel avenue. As the ground he proposed to build on is directly across from Chaffey Union High School, the board voted unanimously against the proposal, but the City Council granted him the permit.

Lund ran into another snag this week when the City Council ordered that it is permissable to build the golf course, but it is not permissible to erect any sort of structure to go with it.

Lund therefore will not have any house from which to sell his tickets, or put up golf balls or clubs, according to the building ordinance of the city.

City Attorney E. H. Jolliffe ruled that as long as the zoning ordinance does not specifically restrict against golf courses, they may be built in such a zone, but that all buildings for the transaction of commercial business are specifically ruled against in the ordinance, and are therefore not allowed, even with a miniature golf course.

Reservoir Site Asked for Park

GLENDALE, Sept. 10.—Petitions asking that the fifteen-acre site originally purchased by the city for a reservoir site at the head of Campbell street be used for a city park are to be placed in circulation by members of the North Glendale Improvement Association, it was announced at the close of this week's regular meeting.

The proposal to construct a reservoir on the tract was so bitterly opposed by property owners living below the proposed site that the project was definitely abandoned some time ago, officials of the association declared. Fears that the 50,000,000-gallon reservoir would constitute a menace to those living in its vicinity were largely responsible for the protests that were filed with the Council.

Investigation will be made to determine whether the public-service department that purchased the property may legally turn it over to the city for park purposes, as it is said that Sureme Court decisions in this State would forbid such transfer.

J. G. GALANIS HEADS ONTARIO LEGION POST

ONTARIO, Sept. 10.—Members of Ontario Post of the American Legion unanimously chose James G. Galanis, poultryman, to head the local post, at the annual election held at the clubhouse. Other officers elected to serve for the ensuing year are: First vice-commander, Richard Nichols; second vice-commander, R. P. Bomer; adjutant, A. J. Dority; treasurer, Leo J. Murphy; chaplain, Walter V. Combs; historian, John Galvin; sergeant-at-arms, Hans Serritslew; executive committee, W. E. Hicks, Leland S. Davidson, Dr. J. H. Titus. Installation of officers will be the evening of the 22nd inst. A committee to arrange for the installation dinner numbers J. J. Cox, H. A. Cramer and Leo J. Murphy. The auxiliary women will provide the dinner.

F. M. GARDNER NAMED MAYOR OF MAYWOOD

MAYWOOD, Sept. 10.—Councilman Frank M. Gardner has been selected by the City Council as Mayor taking the place of William E. Heath, who was recently recalled in a special election held here. Recalled with Heath was Councilman Fred H. Brewer. At the time of the recall election, Earl G. Horton and Oscar E. Johnson were candidates for places on the Council, providing Heath and Brewer were recalled.

NAVY BOARD SIFTS AIR CRASH

Destroyer Hit by Plane in for Repair

Barge Raises Wrecked Craft from San Diego Bay

Reserve Ensign S. G. Walsh of Coronado was killed when his plane crashed into the foremast of the destroyer Elliott in San Diego Bay. The plane fell overside, after sheering off the mast, and pinned Walsh under water. It was raised later by a navy barge. Picture shows the wreckage as it was being taken from the water.

NEW HALL OF LETTERS COMPLETED

University of Redlands Has $200,000 Structure Ready for Occupancy

REDLANDS, Sept. 10.—When the University of Redlands opens next week a new $200,000 building, the Hall of Letters, will be placed in use without formal dedication. It has just been completed and furniture for the classrooms, offices of the instructors, and the assembly and lounge rooms are now being installed.

It is a concrete structure, with tile roof and of three floors. The entrance halls are of imported tile, all windows are of steel frames and plate glass. In each hall are fullfile drinking fountains, shades of green being used in the tile work and the decorations. The building is in the shape of a hollow E with the south looking out over the Greek theater and the north over the San Bernardino Valley and mountains.

On the first floor is an assembly room, classrooms and offices for the instructors. On the second floor there are comfortable lounges for the men and women of the faculty, offices for professors and several large classrooms. On the third floor there are classrooms and offices for the professors.

The terraces from the building are paved with Welsh tile and lawns and shrubbery are now being planted. The new building relieves congestion in the Administration Building, which is now given over almost entirely to administration except the basement, where there are some classrooms.

Paralysis Case Delays Garden Grove Schools

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 10.—Coming on the very morning of the scheduled opening of the Garden Grove schools, a case of infantile paralysis here today had the effect of delaying the close of vacation for two weeks, Noil Harris, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harris, was removed from his home here this morning and is under treatment for the malady at the County Hospital.

School authorities immediately decided to delay resumption of school, while a close watch is being kept upon the playmates of the stricken child.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 10.—While the destroyer Elliott is at the destroyer base today for repairs to its foremast, torn away yesterday when struck by a navy plane as the destroyer was steaming past the Santa Fe wharf, a navy board of investigation at North Island is probing the cause of the crash which killed Reserve Ensign S. G. Walsh of Coronado and endangered ninety officers and men aboard the destroyer.

Preliminary investigation shows that the plane, a Loening amphibian of the OL-8 type, apparently struck the mast head-on, North Island officials report. The crash toppled the plane over the side of the warship and it sank, bottom-side-up, carrying Walsh in the cockpit.

Walsh incurred a slight skull fracture from which he might have recovered, but rendered unconscious and pinned in the wreckage, he drowned before the North Island crash boat Mary Ann could raise the plane.

His body has been removed to the Bonham Brothers' mortuary, where funeral arrangements are pending. Coroner Kelly is to hold an informal joint inquiry this week with naval officials.

Walsh, 25 years of age, leaves a widow, who resides at 319½ Palm avenue, Coronado. The flyer had been at North Island for only a month, having come here following training at Pensacola, and at Sand Point, Seattle, Wash., it was reported at North Island. He formerly lived at Auburn.

Old High School Held Inadequate

SANTA YNEZ, Sept. 10.—Declaring the present high school building inadequate, the State Board of Education in a communication to the Santa Ynez Union High School district, forty miles north of here, served an ultimatum that a new school structure will have to be built within the next two years.

The present school building was built some twenty years ago and was made to accommodate about fifty students. There are eighty-eight enrolled in the high school this year. The district is the largest in the county, some of the children attending traveling as far as twenty-five miles in the school bus to attend classes.

The board of trustees, headed by John Frame, has not acted on the recommendation from the State board as yet, but two representatives of the State are expected to confer with school officials within the next few weeks.

KIWANIS IN FAMILY DAY

HUNTINGTON PARK, Sept. 10. The Kiwanis Club of this city announces that it will have "Fathers' Sons' and Daughters'" Day Friday noon at the regular meeting of the organization. A special program is being arranged for this occasion.

BANTAM-GOLF LAW FOUGHT

Attorney for Phillip Kleiner, Miniature Course Owner, Seeks Rescinding of San Diego Ordinance

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 10.—A fight to wipe the city ordinance regulating miniature golf courses from the statute books will be waged by Attorney Ed Hervey, representing Phillip Kleiner, golf-course owner, when the case is called in Police Court November 14. Kleiner, arrested last Saturday night by police for permitting his course at El Cajon avenue and Oregon street to remain open after midnight, appeared in Police Court today accompanied by his counsel and demanded a trial by jury.

The case was set down for November 14, next, the nearest date that the crowded Police Court calendar would permit.

"I believe the ordinance to be prejudicial and discriminatory," Hervey announced in court. He later stated that he would prove the ordinance unconstitutional and have it erased from the city law books.

Hervey pointed out that night clubs in the city are permitted to remain open until any hour of the morning to entertain their customers. "Surely if that is done I can see no reason why miniature golf course owners cannot operate as late as they see fit in entertaining their customers," Hervey said.

"If anyone in the proximity of the courses is annoyed they have their remedy by existing laws. It was unnecessary for the Council to pass this ordinance," Hervey concluded.

PRISONER FACES LIFE TERM

J. M. Purvis, Sentenced for Drug-Store Robbery at Ventura, Gets Fifth and Final "Jolt"

VENTURA, Sept. 10.—J. M. (Moses) Purvis, 28 years of age, under sentence of from one to fourteen years at San Quentin State penitentiary after he pleaded guilty to helping burglarize the Charles Blair drug store in Santa Paula on the 2nd inst., will in reality end up at Folsom prison with a life sentence over him, and with no chance of parole.

This was made known today by Sheriff Robert E. Clark, who grilled Purvis for four hours late yesterday and wrung a complete confession from him. Counting this "jolt" Purvis is a "five-time loser," he admitted to Sheriff Clark.

Of his twenty-eight years Purvis has spent ten in penitentiaries, jails and reform schools in different parts of the United States, he said. The Santa Paula job, instead of being the first one in which he was caught, as he at first maintained, is his fifth offense. After a criminal has been sentenced four times he is considered a habitual criminal and is given life imprisonment at Folsom, according to State law.

Purvis, who left under guard at 4 a.m. today for San Quentin, will be brought into Superior Court in Marin county, in which the State prison is located, and there resentenced to life at Folsom. In addition, the fact that Purvis's crime was committed with a deadly weapon, a .45-caliber revolver, precludes the possibility of parole.

Gospel Army's Men Arrested But Released

UPLAND, Sept. 10.—Capt. D. C. Macy and Capt. L. A. Fenner, self-styled representatives of the Gospel Army, sought by authorities of the district in connection with assured fraudulently solicited subscriptions for the Salvation Army, were placed under arrest by Upland authorities, and released after they returned a small amount of money collected by subscription, to the local Salvation Army post.

Fenner told authorities he and Macy were soliciting money and clothing for a home for destitute at 187 East Adams street, Los Angeles. Both said Los Angeles is their home.

One woman, learning that the men are not connected with the Salvation Army, ordered payment stopped on a check she had given them. The two men returned a small amount of cash they had raised in Pomona also.

Fenner said he had been connected with the Salvation Army until April, but that he is no longer a member of the army. Both men carried papers that stamped them members of the Gospel Army.

Capt. Jack Little, in charge of the Salvation Army in Ontario, ordered the arrest of the men, but did not prosecute them after they refund the money they had assertedly raised through fraud.

Fenner and Macy were told to leave the community.

Street-Lighting Project Revived by Three Bodies

COVINA, Sept. 10.—Three active civic organizations have unanimously indorsed the proposed street-lighting project for Citrus avenue in an effort to revive the movement which was abandoned several weeks ago, following protests of property owners.

The organizations set forth that the property owners should reconsider the proposition, inasmuch as a modern and adequate lighting system for the main business street here would do more to attract business than any other improvement, and, furthermore, that the bid submitted the City Planning Commission, backers of the project, was among the lowest for street lighting offered to any municipality in this district.

Urging reconsideration of the project are the Chamber of Commerce, represented by Ben F. Thorpe, president; the Business Men's Association, represented by Ray W. Nichols, secretary, and the city of Covina, by Mayor George Maxfield, and Joseph E. Laycock, chairman of the finance committee.

Reserve-Officer Schools Loom

EL CENTRO, Sept. 10.—Two schools for Reserve Army officers in the Imperial Valley are to be conducted during the coming winter, according to the announcement of Col. Leroy Foster, Engineering Reserves, today. General classes open to all branches of the service and including sessions on the second and fourth Fridays of each month, are to be started October 10. The subjects will be "Map Reading and Sketching" and "Associated Arms." Col. Foster, Capt. Charles P. Delp and Capt. Stephen Lefner are to be instructors.

A special infantry school is to hold classes once a month and the subject, "Scouting and Patrolling, Weapons and Musketry," will be taken up.

There are thirty reserve officers in the Imperial area who are expected to take part in the classes.

GARDENA'S FIRST CITY ATTORNEY APPOINTED

INGLEWOOD, Sept. 10.—Lester O. Luce, City Prosecutor here, was yesterday appointed City Attorney of the newly incorporated municipality of Gardena. Luce is one of the best-known lawyers in the Centinela Valley, where he has been engaged in practice as an associate of City Attorney Clyde Woodworth for two years. He has been active in civic affairs in this section since he took up his residence here, and is prominently identified with the activities of the local Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis Club and the Inglewood Bar Association. He is also a member of the California State Bar Association, the Los Angeles County Bar Association, and the Delta Chi Fraternity and Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity. Luce will continue in his capacity of City Prosecutor here, in addition to his new duties.

ARMY FLYER DIES IN MARCH FIELD CRASH

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 10. (AP)—Second Lieutenant W. R. Casey of Rockwell Field, San Diego, was killed in an airplane mishap near March Field today. Casey, flying in formation with two other planes of the Ninety-fifth Pursuit Squadron of Rockwell Field, lost control when the wing of another ship brushed his tail. Casey bailed out at 600 feet elevation, but failed to get his parachute open in time to save himself.

"Propaganda will Beat the Bootleggers"

PASADENA, Sept. 10.—"To beat the wets at their own game, enemies of the bootlegger must match propaganda with propaganda," asserted Mrs. Lily C. Richardson, president of the Los Angeles County Women's Christian Temperance Union, in her annual address to 400 delegates who attended the organization's convention session in the First Baptist Church today.

Mrs. J. Victoria Bannister, corresponding secretary, revealed in her annual report that the number of W. C. T. U. members in Los Angeles county has jumped from 6527 to 11,007, a gain of 4480, during the last year, and that the membership quota for next year has been set at 20,000.

"Our most valuable publicity," declared Mrs. Richardson, "is the story which describes the great prosperity and economic well-being wrought by prohibition.

"Publish the four facts the wets cannot gainsay: The increased national purchasing power, decrease in poverty, improved national health, higher living standards—all vouched for by government reports and economists—and young people will not swallow the tales regarding the evils of prohibition.

"Our watchword always has been that organized women, organized prayer and education will bring the victory—they always have!

"Women are growing stronger and stronger as a real power in the United States. They have the power to band together and say to the destroyers, 'You Shall Not Pass.'"

Mrs. William A. Spill, president of the Shakespeare Club of Pasadena, spoke this afternoon. Other speakers included Mrs. J. B. Tagert, president of the local council of parents and teachers; Mrs. Fred M. Wilcox of the Federated Missionary Societies; Mrs. Rubens Caroselli of the Board of Religious Education, and Mrs. George Hetzel of the Y.M.C.A.

FUNERAL TODAY FOR PASADENA WOMAN

PASADENA, Sept. 10.—Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret R. Squibb, wife of Charles P. Squibb, who died last night at her home, 1304 Loma Vista street, will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow at All Saints' Episcopal Church. The body will be sent to her former home in Brooklyn, N. Y., for burial.

Mrs. Squibb was the mother of Miss Elizabeth Squibb, who was killed last January when a passenger airplane crashed and burst into flames near San Clemente.

Mr. Squibb, who divides his time between this city and Bernardsville, N. Y., is a member of the family which founded the Squibb Drug Company.

Mrs. Squibb died suddenly following an attack of pneumonia.

PRINCIPAL APPOINTED FOR NIGHT SCHOOL

HUNTINGTON PARK, Sept. 10. E. G. Ewing, who for five years has been connected with the social science department of the Huntington Park Union High School, has been appointed principal of the night school here, beginning next Monday night. Sessions will be held four nights each week, beginning Monday night. Ewing succeeds Floyd R. Honn, who is now principal of the new South Gate High School.

STATION AGENTS BANDIT VICTIMS

Stick-up Pair at Oxnard Tie Up Two Espee Employees

Pay Checks Valued at $1250 and $25 in Cash Taken

Telegraph Operator Works Loose and Gives Alarm

OXNARD, Sept. 10.—Two armed bandits held up two agents at the Oxnard Southern Pacific depot, bound them hand and foot, gagged one and made away with pay checks valued at $1250 and $25 in cash at 3 a.m. today.

All roads in the county were covered by deputy sheriffs within thirty minutes after the hold-up, when one of the station agents loosened himself and notified the authorities, but no traces of the two bandits have been found.

According to statements taken from Walter L. O'Brien, station agent and night pumper, and B. B. Steffa, night truck man at the depot, the hold-up occurred as follows:

O'BRIEN ACCOSTED

At 2:10 a.m. the bandits accosted O'Brien in the baggage room and asked him where they could find the crew of the beet car switch engine. O'Brien said the crew had gone home. The men then left.

At 3 o'clock the two came back, closing in on O'Brien from around both sides of the small building. Bandit No. 1 commanded: "Straighten up, there. Where are the keys to the oil house and engineers' wash room?"

O'Brien handed over the keys and the men made him walk with them to the engineers' wash room, where they put him in a chair and then bound his hands behind his back and tied his ankles together.

At 3:15 a.m. the bandits entered the depot and No. 1 asked Steffa if he could send a telegram. Steffa told him to write his message on a telegraph blank. The bandit started to do this and Steffa walked to a shelf to get some desired articles, when the second bandit stuck a gun in front of him and told him to "put 'em up."

TWO GUNS AIMED

The bandits, both with revolvers pointed at Steffa, forced him to go into a baggage room and lie down, where they bound him hand and foot and gagged him.

Keys to the money drawer were taken from Steffa, the drawer ransacked, and the bandits left.

Twelve or fifteen pay checks, each ranging in denomination from $75 to $125, were gone from the money box, together with the $25 in cash.

Steffa wormed loose from his bonds at 3:44 and called police.

Santa Ynez and Lompoc Fairs This Week-End

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 10.—The Lompoc and Santa Ynez Valley fairs will provide places to go and things to see for ranchers and residents of the county this week-end. The Lompoc fair will be a three-day affair, opening on Thursday, while the Santa Ynez Valley event will be an old-fashioned country fair, on Saturday, the 13th inst.

Both of the fairs are district showings and follow the annual county fair held in Santa Maria several weeks ago. The Lompoc fair promises to attract some fine displays of vegetables, grain and fruit products. There will be a live-stock exhibition along with the fair and a program of entertainment for afternoon and evening.

The flower show will be one of the chief attractions of the Santa Ynez Valley exhibition. There will be displays of fruits, vegetables and grain raised in the valley. It will be an informal affair on the grounds of the Atterday College and will follow closely the old-fashioned fairs given in the county years ago.

ZONING PLANS FOR BEACH CITY READY

MANHATTAN BEACH, Sept. 10. A complete plan of zoning, prepared by the city planning commission, is ready for the recommendation to the City Council and the public hearing required by law, it was announced by F. S. Daugherty, president of the commission, today. The plan, the result of more than a year's work on the part of the commission, was completed following two public meetings in which small adjustments were made. Oil drilling is permitted as provided in the oil-drilling ordinance of 1923, which allows wells generally in the area east of Railroad Drive and in the Standard Park section. The plan also provides for an enlarged business zone and industrial area. It will be before the City Council on the 18th inst.

LIGHTS FOR SHIPPERS

Mexican Government to Install Improvements Off Coast of Lower California

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 10.—Seeking to eliminate dangers to navigation along the coast of Lower California, the Mexican government will start work at once on the construction of six lighthouses between here and Magdalena Bay, two of them to be on one of the Coronado islands, it was announced today.

Supplies for the construction of the lighthouses will come from San Diego, as a result of a series of conferences held here by Tomas Marin and Ernesto Aburto, engineers for the Mexican Department of Communications and Public Works. The project is one of the most ambitious yet taken on the west coast of San Diego.

Several of the lighthouses will be automatic, with no keeper in attendance, but equipped to turn themselves on each night, off each morning, and replace the mantels in the lights in the event of a burnout. Acetylene gas will be the fuel.

Following is a list of the lighthouse sites, and the lighthouses to be erected on each one: North Point of South Coronado Island, sixth order light, triple flash, automatic; south point of South Coronado Island, fourth order light, double flash, automatic; Todos Santos Islands (off Ensenada,) fourth order light, single flash, three keepers; Punta Banda (near Ensenada,) fourth order light, double flash, automatic; Cape San Lazaro (near Magdalena Bay,) fourth order light, single flash, three keepers; Magdalena Bay Village, fourth order light, single flash, automatic.

FOREST FIRES INCREASE HIGH

Smaller Area Burned Over This Season, However

Cost of Figthing Blazes in California Decreases

Incendiaries and Careless Smokers Start Fewer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11. (Exclusive)—California has had 134 more fires in its national forests thus far this season than in the same time last year, but only about 37 per cent of the comparative area has been burned and the cost of controlling the fires has been less than 70 per cent of last year's expenditures.

The figures were announced today by the United States Forest Service divisional office.

This year 356 fires were traced to lightning, as compared with 196 in 1929 and 204 to careless smokers, as compared with 228 last year.

Incendiarism was cut down, too, the figures being 140 for 1929 and 132 for 1930. Two more fires were laid to careless campers this year than last.

The burned area in 1929 was 72,214 acres and this year it is 24,732. Last year the cost of forest-fire fighting was $233,948 and this year it has been $161,588.

RICKENBACKER, IN SLEEP, NOSE DIVES OFF BALCONY

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (NANA) Col. Eddie Rickenbacker came into town a day or so ago from his suburban home at Riverdale, on the Hudson, walking with a limp which gave him a good deal of trouble.

"What's the matter, Eddie?" a friend inquired of this former automobile racer and famous war ace, who shot down twenty-six German planes. Col. Rickenbacker, who is now vice-president and director of sales for the Fokker Aircraft Corporation, grinned somewhat sheepishly.

"Had a tumble, walking in my sleep," he explained.

It seems that since the war, Col. Rickenbacker has been troubled frequently with sleep walking. A few nights ago he left his bed, walked in his sleep to a balcony and crashed twenty feet to the ground.

SAILORS TURN WHITE WINGS

Cruiser Crew Cleans Up Santo Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO (Dominican Republic) Sept. 10. (AP)—Sailors from the British cruiser Danae came ashore this afternoon, adopted the role of "white wings" and, before night, had made a decided change in the appearance of the streets of this hurricane-stricken city.

Clad in white and wearing their regulation cork helmets, the seamen were assigned in squads to direct the work of local labor. They quickly tired of the part of directors, pitched in and moved vast amounts of the accumulated refuse which has been threatening to cause a serious epidemic.

Swedish Press Fights to Print Andree's Diary

STOCKHOLM (Sweden) Sept. 10. (AP)—Indignation is showing itself in the Swedish press over the secrecy being maintained regarding the contents of the diary of the explorer, Salomon August Andree, and there is an increasing belief the government may alter its previous plans and permit publication of the explorer's tragic story before the government ship Svensksund returns to Stockholm.

NEW JERSEY BANK ROBBED

PATERSON (N. J.) Sept. 10. (AP)—Masked hold-up men entered the Merchants' Trust Company shortly after the bank opened for business today and made off with $20,000. Bank clerks were herded into a vault.

BLACK SHIRTS TO BE CHANGED

Fascist Militia Undergoing Efficiency Tests

Older Officers May Become Members of Reserve

Main Body will Go Through More Intensive Drill

ROME (Italy) Sept. 10. (AP)—The Blackshirts, or Fascist militiamen, to the number of 363,465, are undergoing radical changes in their army organization by order of the party's grand council.

The reorganization is the first step in a ten-year program designed to raise the Blackshirts to a peak of emergency and fighting efficiency unparalleled in Europe. By the shake-up the Blackshirts will lose about one-third of their officers. These will be transferred to a Fascist officers' reserve, or will definitely lose their official status.

OFFICERS IN RESERVE

Officers who took part in the march on Rome and the events following—that is, from October 28 to November 1, 1922—and for one reason or another are being dismissed from active Blackshirt connection, have the right to enter the reserve.

While this wholesale weeding out of officers is going on, the government has ordered the creation of Blackshirt officers' training schools similar to the schools for officers of the regular army, in order to provide new leaders to take their places.

MORE THAN ARMY

The Blackshirts number more than the regular army, which is listed at 290,000 men and officers. They are not a standing army corps. They drill once a week and for several weeks at certain times of the year.

Several thousand of them are distributed among the various ministries for service as customs and border guards, sentinels at public buildings, train and station guards and the like.

MOB HANGS NEGROES IN MISSISSIPPI

Officers Tied to Tree and Prisoners Killed Near-by as Penalty for Robbery

SKOOBA (Miss.) Sept. 10. (AP)—Two Negro prisoners were taken from two deputy sheriffs near here today by a mob and lynched. The two officers were tied to a tree by the mob.

The Negroes, accused of robbing Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCoy on a highway, were being transferred from Dekalb, Miss., to Scooba for a preliminary hearing. The two officers said they were set upon by the crowd and the prisoners taken away.

After tieing up the officers, Guy Bird and J. J. Dotson, the crowd hanged the Negroes to a tree near by and departed.

The Negroes were identified as "Pig" Lockett and Holly Write.

Regents Grant Many Degrees

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Regents of the University of California, meeting in the State Building, today granted more than 300 degrees and certificates for intersession and summer session study to be awarded at commencement exercises next May, and accepted gifts aggregating $13,531 in cash and a number of books, manuscripts and items of study equipment.

Dr. George L. Bean was appointed acting dean of the college of dentistry during the absence of Dean Millberry, who is completing a survey of public health dentistry in the Hawaiian Islands, and Boyd B. Rakestraw, assistant director of the extension division, was appointed acting director for 1930-31.

Counterfeiting Suspect Seized

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10. (AP)—The Sacramento police are holding Carlo Poerio here today because they found him with several hundred counterfeit coins of 25-cent and 50-cent denominations. The authorities believe the coins were manufactured for use in slot machines.

Poerio is held pending the arrival of Federal agents. He is the third person arrested here within a week in connection with counterfeiting. William Harley and John Willett were arrested a few days ago and charged with the manufacture and distribution of spurious $1 coins.

ACTION ON AIR MAIL BID TO BE DELAYED

By a "Times Staff" Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Owing to the absence of Postmaster-General Brown in Detroit until next week it is not expected that any award will be made of the contracts on transcontinental air mail on the new southern route from Los Angeles to New York until early next week. It is understood that as soon as the bids are finally tabulated and compared, the award will be made to the Western Air Express of Los Angeles and the Transcontinental Air Transport.

ZEPPELIN VISITS MOSCOW

MOSCOW, Sept. 10. (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin today paid her first official visit to the soviet capital. She arrived at noon and was greeted with red flags flying and bands playing proletarian airs. After a brief visit she left for Germany.

ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

ELISHA LEE, Vice-President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is the authority for this statement: "No city in the world enjoys better railroad facilities than Philadelphia. None is more adequately and completely served. None possesses greater transportation advantages as a manufacturing and distributing center."

More than 1,000 miles of trackage lies in the city proper. It connects 220 freight stations and 2,000 industrial sidings. It serves tidewater piers with 16,000,000 square feet of floor space on a frontage of 36 miles on two rivers. 20,000 freight cars move in and out of the city daily.

This is only the beginning of even greater transportation service for the Philadelphia area.

The present railroad electrification program calls for the expenditure of one hundred and twenty-five millions of dollars.

"Transportation Facilities in the Philadelphia Area" will show you how lower shipment costs will increase net profits. Free to executives who request it on their business stationery. Address Department AX.

WAR SUITS STILL AWAIT RULINGS

Contracts and Seizing of Ships Involved

Debt Liability of Veteran Insurance Sought

Germans Seek Royalties on Their Patents

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Twelve years after the armistice, the Supreme Court will have before it for settlement this fall a large number of controversies growing out of the World War, several of them international in character.

The mounting docket of cases awaiting disposal after the court reconvenes October 6, include requests for settlement of war contracts, and of the requisitioning of ships, the disposition of alien property, as well as the interpretation of laws affecting veterans.

ITALIANS WANT PAY

Russian corporations are asking the highest tribunal to decide whether they have a right to sue the United States for ships which, under construction for them in this country, were requisitioned by the government during the World War.

Italians also are demanding compensation for vessels taken by the government, while firms using water power at Niagara Falls seek to collect from the government money asserted to have been lost when prevented from running their establishments during the period of war preparation.

German claims for property seized during the war continue to come to the court, as well as suits by German owners for royalties collected on their patents during the hostilities.

INDIANS INVOLVED

An effort will be made to have the court decide whether war risk insurance is liable for the debts of veterans, and determine the authority of Federal courts to act in insurance matters pending before the Veterans' Bureau. The authority of the director of the bureau to reduce permanent disability ratings after passage of the emergency officers' retirement act in 1926 also is questioned.

Cases involving Indians also are before the court. One which has attracted much attention is that of Jackson Barnett, a Creek Indian, who at the age of 78 married a white woman and gave away over $1,000,000. The government, having succeeded in recovering the money, now is attempting to prevent the payment of approximately $215,000 out of his funds as attorneys' fees.

RUSE SAVES GIRL FROM CRAZED MAN

Ironing-Board Span Used by Policeman to Climb in Window and Seize Suitor

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—An ironing-board and the ingenuity of a rookie policeman late last night saved the life of Annie D. Jennings, 25-year-old nurse, after she had spent two hours imprisoned by a crazed suitor.

Squads of police stood baffled outside the house of Howard F. Carson, the demented youth, who at the point of a pistol dragged the girl to his upstairs room and threatened to shoot her unless she promised to marry him. Any move to capture him, they feared, would result in instant death for the girl. Carson's parents pleaded with them not to shoot their son through a window—the only solution that appeared.

Finally Patrolman Earl Baker, noticing the short distance between the Carson house and one adjoining laid an ironing-board on the rails of the upstairs porches and tiptoeing across disarmed the youth before he could carry out his threat.

AIRPORT TO BE PUT ON AUCTION BLOCK

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. (AP)—Sky Harbor, the airport near Glencoe completed last fall at a cost of $750,000, will be auctioned next Monday to the highest bidder. It is believed to be the first major airport in the country to be placed on the auction block. Included in the sale will be the modernistic clubhouse, the field of approximately 220 acres with its improved runways, lights, hangars and administration building, as well as seven airplanes. Charges outstanding against the Airport Corporation, according to the receiver, are in excess of $500,000

RUM-SHIP SEIZURE ENDS IN DISMISSAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10. (AP) Federal Judge Louderback, at the request of United States Attorney George Hatfield, who said the government had committed a "gross error," dismissed conspiracy and smuggling charges against the captain and crew of the Canadian rum-runner Ray Roberts today.

The craft was seized by the Coast Guard off Pigeon Point July 28, last, and 1050 cases of liquor valued at more than $60,000 were found aboard. Hatfield said the seizure was made outside the twelve-mile limit, and for that reason was illegal.

NEW RULES DECREED FOR RADIO IN PLANE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Another effort to increase the safety of flying was made today by the Commerce Department with issuance of new regulations governing the use of radio equipment on licensed airplanes. The regulations, effective January 1, bar radio equipment not approved by the aeronautics branch of the Commerce Department. "Reliability, simplicity of operation and freedom from fire hazard are essential," the announcement said.

NET PROFITS OF CRYSTALITE UP

First Two Months of Fiscal Year Record Gain

Profits of $2.50 on Common May be Reported

Plant Operating at Capacity, Miller Reports

Crystalite Products Corporation in the first two months of its current fiscal year, which started July 1, last, has shown a substantial increase in both gross and net profits as compared with the average monthly returns for the first six months of the calendar year, according to a statement issued yesterday by Morris B. Miller, vice-president.

The average monthly gross income for the first six months of 1930 was about $5500, while the monthly total for July and August ran approximately $9000 per month, with net profits about $2000 per month, it was stated. September will exceed this showing.

NET FORECAST

If the company continues business at its present rate, in excess of $2.50 per share will be earned on the 6515 common shares outstanding during the present fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1931, Mr. Miller said.

"The company is operating at capacity, employing two eight-hour shifts daily," Mr. Miller said. "This situation has existed for several weeks and undoubtedly will continue for some months in order to take care of unfilled orders. This business is not due to any one large contract but to a general increase in business of half a dozen of our products, outstanding among which are ornamental street lighting globes, raised opal letters, interior ceiling fixtures and one or two new products being produced for national distribution.

REQUIREMENTS MET

"During each month of this fiscal year, starting July 1, last, the company has shown net earnings after all depreciation charges in excess of quarterly dividend requirements."

For the fiscal year ended June 30, last, the company recently reported net profits of $10,131.81, after charges and Federal taxes, equal, after allowance of $7000 dividends on the $100,000 cumulative 7 per cent preferred stock, to 48 cents a share on 6515 no-par common shares.

The corporation has just declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred, payable the 30th inst. to stock of record the 20th inst.

Ratio of Loans to Mart Value Shows Decline

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Total borrowings by members of the New York Stock Exchange against stock collateral on the 2nd inst., amounted to 5.31 per cent of the market value of all shares listed on that date, against 5.49 per cent on August 1, a decrease of 0.18 per cent during the month. On September 1, 1929, this ratio stood at 8.79 per cent.

Market value of all shares listed on the exchange on the 2nd inst. aggregated $67,721,066,990, against $67,221,337,495 on August 1, last, an increase of $499,749,504. There were 1309 stock issues listed on the 2nd inst., aggregating 1,282,481,374 shares, against 1316 issues aggregating 1,269,861,473 shares on August 1.

The average market value of all listed shares was $52.81, compared with $52.94 a share last month.

INSURANCE INCOME FOR AUGUST HIGH

International's Gross at New Monthly Peak; Losses Held Down

Gross income of the International Re-Insurance Corporation for August totaled $860,000, the largest monthly total in the history of the company, and gross income for the first eight months of this year amounted to $4,068,784.69, according to an earnings statement released yesterday by Carl M. Hansen, president.

The eight months' showing was over $2,000,000 in excess of the corresponding period of 1929, the total as of August 31, 1929, amounting to $2,016,000, consisting of $1,797,000 in gross premiums written, and $219,000 income from other sources. Gross premiums from January 1 to August 31, last, totaled $3,760,426.67 while other income amounted to $308,338.02.

The excess of income over disbursements from operations ending August 31, last, before dividends, came to $1,439,879.43, Mr. Hansen reported. During the eight months dividends totaling $150,000 were paid, leaving a net excess of income of $1,289,879.43.

Losses and expenses are satisfactory and the original estimate of approximately $5,000,000 annual income for the current year will be exceeded by at least $1,000,000 if the last four months of the year show equally favorable returns, Mr. Hansen said.

The regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share was declared payable November 1 to stock of record October 15.

BOSTON RATE HOLDS

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—The Federal Reserve Bank here made no announcement today regarding its rediscount rate of 3 per cent.

WALKER OUTLINES POLICIES

Transamerica Head States Cash Extras Likely When Earnings Warrant; Fixed Rate Conservative

BY EARLE E. CROWE

While not promising anything beyond a regular cash dividend of $1 annually, Elisha Walker, chairman of the Transamerica Corpogation, yesterday said the dividend policy will call for cash extras whenever earnings justify.

Mr. Walker made this statement in an informal discussion of Transamerica's affairs, during which he commented on his recent swing around the State and the plans of the management for the simplification and consolidation of the various activitites of the holding company.

DECREASE FORECAST

Reduction of the dividend from $1.60 to $1 was decided, he explained, when it was apparent to the directors that earnings would necessarily drop behind the 1929 total. As explained in the recent financial report, the company collected substantial nonrecurring profits last year in the form of profits on the sale of securities, etc. Not anticipating similar results in 1930 the regular dividend was cut to conform with forecasts of recurring profits from the holding company's various activities.

Whenever extra payments are warranted, they will probably be paid in cash rather than stock, Mr. Walker announced. He added that stock extras are constructive in bull markets but not very helpful in a quiet market.

Along the same line of thought, he remarked that Transamerica is fully aware that mystery, if it has any part in a corporation's affairs, is not of any value when business is slow and stock prices are dragging on the bottom. The Transamerica policy is to disclose every significant phase of its business to the public and let the facts speak for themselves. As part of this program Mr. Walker has recently discussed Transamerica and its affairs with approximately 2000 of its bank officers and employees in California.

SEGREGATION DUE

He expects to announce soon the details of the segregation into about eight divisions of the corporation's various subsidiaries. The best men in the field, Mr. Walker said, will be sought to head these divisions and from among them will be chosen representatives to sit on the Transamerica board. Divisions will be created for the banks, the insurance, realty, mortgage, industrial, investment banking, security investing, and foreign companies.

Of the projected consolidation of the Bank of Italy and Bank of America of California the Transamerica chairman declared that several million dollars annually will be saved in operating economies, according to preliminary surveys. The saving will arise principally from elimination of duplication in locations, taxes, etc.

Mr. Walker is accompanied on his California tour by Jean Monnet, vice-chairman of the board, and Ralph Hayes, vice-president.

Transamerica's Italian Unit to Make Alliance

Confirmation was given yesterday by Elisha Walker, chairman of the Transamerica Corporation, of the completion of arrangements, subject to legal formalities, whereby the Banca d'America e d'Italia, Transamerica subsidiary, will take over the business of the Banca Italo Britannica as of October 1, next.

In connection with this transaction the E. L. Holding Company, Ltd., which controls the Banca Italo Britannica and the British-Italian Banking Corporation, Ltd., will take a participation in the capital of the Banca d'America e d'Italia and will be represented on its board by British directors now on the board of Banca Italo Britannica.

News dispatches from Rome several days ago referred to the negotiations leading to the alliance of interests. It is understood the acquisition has been effected in part for cash and in part for shares of Banca d'America e d'Italia.

Banca Italo Britannica on July 30, 1929, reported assets of nearly 1,000,000 lire. In 1926 it absorbed the Italian branches of the Anglo Austrian Bank, Ltd., with headquarters in Milan. It maintains branches in Genoa, Naples, Rome, Trieste, Turin and Venice.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—The firmer tone which developed in cotton yesterday remained in evidence during today's trading. Demand was not particularly active or aggressive, but offerings were light and in addition to covering or rebuying by recent sellers. There appeared to be a moderate demand from the trade and some buying of last months which was said to be for investment account.

A favorable view of the rains reported in the South and a fairly favorable interpretation of the weekly weather report evidently failed to stimulate much selling, with the midafternoon market quiet and steady at net advances of about 14 to 20 points.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Cottonseed oil was quiet today with traders inclined to await the government grain crop reports. The tone as a rule was fairly steady, reflecting the firmness of other markets. Trading was confined almost entirely to new March which locals bought while refiners and brokers sold. Old contracts sold net unchanged to 16 points lower and new unchanged to 5 points higher. Sales, 500 barrels in old and 2350 new. COMMONWEALTH AND SOUTHERN CORPORATION

The organization of this dominant public utility holding company was effected in May, 1929, by the exchange of stock with important utility groups controlling companies operating chiefly in Michigan and the southern States of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee. All the common stock is held in Commonwealth Power Corporation, Southeastern Power and Light Company, and the Columbus Electric and Power Company, subsidiary holding companies which may be eliminated under the new plan to simplify the financial structure of the Commonwealth and Southern group, placing the parent company in direct control of the many operating properties. About 70 per cent of the gross revenues accrue from the sale of electricity, 10 per cent from gas, and the remainder from water, steam and traction operations.

Net income for the year ended June 30 was $30,729,782, equivalent to $.69 per common share after preferred dividend requirements. Income for the year ended December 31, 1929, at $25,568,662, was substantially less than this later figure, indicating a good increase in earning power so far in 1930.

Equipment Unit Profits Hold Up

Earnings of Diamond Electrical Manufacturing Company, Ltd., have shown a substantial increase in the past two months, according to a statement issued yesterday by T. J. Kauffman, president of the Square D Company, which owns approximately 85 per cent of the outstanding stock of the Los Angeles company.

Mr. Kauffman also announced that substantial improvements in operating efficiency have recently been made at the Detroit plant of the Square D Company. All requirements regarding debenture interest and retirement are being met and it is anticipated that increased earnings will be shown, he added. The regular quarterly dividends on the Class A preferred and Class B common were declared, both payable the 30th inst. to stock of record the 20th inst.

Barkley Given New Bank Post

Winfield Barkley has been promoted to the position of assistant manager of the advertising and publicity department, Bank of Italy N. T. & S. A., according to announcement yesterday by Arnold J. Mount, president of the bank.

Mr. Barkley who has been a resident of California for thirty years and associated with the Bank of Italy for the past ten years, latterly has handled the bank's advertising and publicity in Southern California. He will continue to make his headquarters at the Los Angeles main office of the bank, but under the new set-up his work becomes State-wide in scope, covering the entire Bank of Italy system of 292 branches.

Building Pace Slows in East

Construction contracts awarded in thirty-seven States east of the Rocky Mountains during the period from the 2nd to 5th inst. totaled $43,840,000, or a rate of $10,960,000 per business day against a daily rate in August of $13,358,400 and in September, 1929, of $18,517,000, F. W. Dodge Corporation reported today.

New construction undertaken for the year to date totaled $3,396,700,600 in this territory. This compares with $4,235,466,400 in construction for the same period last year.

ADVANCE STEEL ORDERS SLUMP

Corporation's Backlog Drops Severely in Month

Fall Attributed to Spurt in Plant Operations

Trade Review Sees Approach of Greater Demand

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation decreased 441,851 tons in August to a total of 3,580,204 tons on August 31. In July an increase of 53,991 tons was shown.

The back log on July 31 was 4,022,055 tons. On June 30 unfilled orders aggregated 3,968,064 tons. On May 31 the total unfilled tonnage was 4,059,277 and on August 31, 1929, unfilled orders amounted to 3,658,211 tons.

The drop in tonnage was apparently the result of more active production, although United States Steel's ingot output averaged close to 60 per cent of capacity during the month.

Wall street was not inclined to be overpessimistic about the showing of this important barometer of business activity, for steel trade reviews have generally reported more interest among steel buyers the past fortnight and prices of steel scrap and some forms of finished steel have firmed.

The drop in the Steel Corporation's unfilled orders was larger than forecast in Wall street, although a large decrease, of perhaps 400,000 tons, was expected. The drop of 441,851 tons was larger than the decline of approximately 430,000 tons in August of last year, which was one of the first pronounced indications of the approach of the business recession recently in full swing. The August drop was the largest since 1923, when there was a drop of about 490,000 tons.

Comparative monthly steel orders follow:

	1930.	1929.	1928.
January	4,588,710	4,109,487	4,276,941
February	4,476,748	4,154,597	4,206,148

STEEL MARKET TONE IMPROVING

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Steel, formerly Iron Trade Review, will say in its weekly review tomorrow: "September's apparent extension of August's 5½ per cent increase in steel production, the determination of producers of heavy products as well as of sheets and strip to stabilize prices, and continued heavy inquiry for and buying of structural material, tangibly support the belief that the market situation in steel is improving."

This publication reports increases in ingot production at all centers except Pittsburgh, where the industry is holding even at 55 per cent of capacity, and Buffalo, where output has slipped off to 48 per cent. Cleveland operations have snapped up from 37 to 41 per cent, Chicago has advanced 2 per cent to 57 and Youngstown is averaging between 58 and 59, against 57 the previous week.

For the week ending yesterday Iron Age places ingot output as 58 per cent of current capacity, against only 55 per cent for the previous week. This is the most pronounced upturn shown by Iron Age's compilation in months. This was a little confusing, in view of Dow, Jones & Co.'s publication earlier of an estimate of production at 56 per cent of capacity, a reduction of 1½ per cent from its showing a week previously, but Dow, Jones figures are for the week ending Monday, and reflect effects of the Labor Day holiday.

Iron Age reported "seasonal recovery in iron and steel, although confidently expected by the trade, is slow in materializing." It added, however, recent demand for finished steel has been moderately larger.

Five Extras in Day's Dividend Action Report

Stockholders of seven corporations yesterday received good news in the form of dividend declarations with five companies ordering extras, one company authorising an increase in the regular rate and another voting an initial payment.

The extra disbursements included Singer Manufacturing Company, $2.50; Air Reduction Company, Inc., $1.50; United Shoe Machinery Corporation, $1 on common; Chicago Towel Company, $1 on common, and Sherwin-Williams Company of Canada, 5 cents on common.

Interstate Petroleum Company declared an initial quarterly of 50 cents on Class A preferred stock, placing the issue on a $2 annual basis. McAleer Manufacturing Company voted a quarterly of 37½ cents on the common, placing the issue on a $1.50 annual basis as against the previous rate of $1 annually.

Steel Company Omits Dividend

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Directors of the Gulf States Steel Company of Birmingham, Ala., omitted the quarterly dividend today of $1, due on the common stock.

W. H. Coverdale, president, said the board believed it was a conservative policy to take this action until earnings show an improvement.

OFFICIAL NAMED

Appointment of Will E. Morris as head of the banking service division of O. W. Heinz & Co., underwriters for the $5,000,000 C. C. C. Tatum Building Income Trust, was announced yesterday.

LEAGUE GETS BRIAND PLAN

First Serious Attempt to Create Federation of European States Placed on Agenda

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The plan for the federation of Europe seemingly gained ground this week. The representatives of twenty-seven European nations gathered at Geneva in the first serious attempt to organize Europe upon modern economic lines.

Aristide Briand, France's wily and experienced Foreign Minister, was the center of the picture. Arthur Henderson, England's Labor Foreign Minister, sat near by. Around the table, too, were such well-known men as Premier Venizelos of Greece, Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy and Foreign Minister Curtius of Germany.

It was an impressive gathering. Europe needs organization badly. France wanted the new organization to be created outside the League of Nations. M. Briand fought for this. Great Britain was determined it should be within the League of Nations. The deliberate, insistent Henderson gained his point.

Europe, once more in the midst of depression, is desperately trying to work out a plan to help the average man on the street to live better. Is the plan practical? Can the nations of Europe tie themselves into a successful economic union?

It's an ambitious program—the most ambitious Europe has attempted in 1000 years.

Well, the proposal got beyond the resolution stage when it was placed on the agenda of the League of Nations.

As George S. Wheat, vice-president of the United Aircraft and Transport, Inc., was saying at a Newark (N. J.) luncheon, that a twenty-four-hour air service from New York to San Francisco and Los Angeles will shortly be inaugurated, the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce announced that the twenty-nine major air-transport lines of the United States carried more than 123,000 passengers and 3,000,000 pounds of mail during the first six months of 1930, with scheduled operations of both mail and passenger planes 97.3 per cent perfect.

In the last six months the aerial express service carried 137,398 pounds—so a new enterprise in the aircraft field was started, without any blare of trumpets.

"The time is not far distant," said Mr. Wheat, "when one can have lunch on Monday at Newark (eastern transcontinental air-mail terminal) and have lunch the next day in San Francisco."

A vast new industry is growing up right in front of our eyes, but many are unable to see it.

Capt. Robert Dollar, whose steamships ply every ocean, is not quite so optimistic about the last quarter of this year as some other business leaders.

No American has wider business contacts than this San Francisco ship owner. As his own business is worldwide, he was one of the first to realize that the present business depression is not local, and that "it has extended completely around the world."

When I asked him for his views on present conditions, he said:

"My ideas on the general business situation are that it is going to run well into 1931 before we begin to show a decided improvement, and then, in the ordinary course of events, we will be on the upgrade—until another slump occurs—and that is certain to ultimately follow, as business history has proved."

EFFECTS OF DROUGHT ON CORN SHOWN

Federal Bureau Figures on Crop Cut 631,542,000 Bushels Under 1929

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. (AP)—Effects of the drought were seen in the Department of Agriculture's monthly crop report today which placed the indicated corn crop for this year at 1,982,765,000, as compared with an indicated production of 2,211,823,000 bushels a month ago. Corn production last year was 2,614,307,000 bushels.

Durum wheat indicated production was placed at 50,950,000 bushels, compared with 48,290,000 bushels indicated a month ago and a crop of 52,580,000 bushels last year.

Other spring wheat shows an indicated crop of 189,419,000 bushels, as against 174,931,000 bushels a month ago and production of 175,636,000 bushels last year.

The indicated production of all wheat, both winter and spring, this year is indicated as 837,761,000 bushels, compared with a forecast of 821,000,000 bushels a month ago and 806,000,000 bushels produced last year.

Production of oats is indicated at 1,350,392,000 bushels, as compared with a forecast of 1,316,369,000 bushels a month ago and 1,233,574,000 bushels produced last year.

The condition of the various crops on September 1 in percentages of a normal were announced as follows:

Corn, 51.6; Durum wheat, 69.8; other spring wheat, 63.1; oats, 80.3; barley, 74.7; rice, 80.4; grain sorghums, 48.8; hay (tame,) 68.9; beans, 61.5; peanuts, 61.6; apples, 47.8; peaches, 49.2; pears, 66.8; grapes, 83.3; tobacco, 63.6; sugar beets, 85.2; broomcorn, 60.5.

Slow Pick-up in Trade Forecast

While there is more encouraging feeling reported by manufacturers and jobbers who believe that trade generally is in a buying frame of mind, business is off compared with former years and it will be many months before it will be anyway near satisfactory to manufacturers and merchants, the weekly summary of the Bradstreet Company on local business stated yesterday.

Manufacturers and jobbers are convinced that prices, which have been declining since early in the year, are now at the lowest levels. With manufacturing operations having been curtailed and retailers' stocks at a low ebb, a much stronger demand for merchandise will be found for the balance of this year, the report stated.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—The curb market blossomed out into one of the broadest advances since last spring today. Gains were moderate and several were not maintained, but scores of issues which have not appeared on the tape in weeks were traded, and the day's transactions, aggregating 550,200 shares, were the largest since August 8.

Natural gas issues displayed the most solid group strength. United Gas was bid up ¼ point to 17¾, but closed at 17⅝. United Light and Power rose a point but lost part of its gain.

Electric Bond and Share lost its leadership, rising a little, but closing off. American Superpower rose ¾ to 50¾, but lost half its gain. Pacific Public Service "A" was well bought. Nevada-California Electric rose 1 in a few sales. Driver Harris gained 9 points and Carrier Engineering sold up 5 to a new high at 43. Armstrong Cork dropped 7 to 40, a new low.

Securities Corporation general gained 3 points, Oils were more or less neglected, but Gulf rallied about 2 points, and Humble 1. In the mines, Noranda rose 1 point.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the bid.

Western Utilities Attract Attention with Impressive Demonstration of Strength

Sudden strengthening of public utilities including Southern California Edison, Pacific Lighting and Pacific Public Service featured trading on the Los Angeles Stoc kExchange yesterday. The movement for the advance aroused considerable speculative enthusiasm which served in turn to pull the market out of the rut of narrow fluctuations, and lend considerable color to operations in general.

Edison, with a turnover of nearly 4000 shares usurped the market leadership from Transamerica in point of trading volume and crossed 60 for the first time since June to reach a high for the session of 60 5-8, a gain of nearly 2 points. Final sales reacted to 60, for a net gain of 1 1-4 points.

Pacific Lighting, usually inactive on this board, jumped more than 5 points above the closing bid Monday and marked a high at 84. This issue also reacted toward the close to end at 82½, but up 7 points from the last recorded sale on the local exchange. Pacific Public Service, which has not been traded since last Saturday, jumped into the spotlight with a sudden turnover of 1400 shares under which it advanced 2½ points to the day's peak at 29 1-4. Final transactions were at 29, up 2 1-4 net.

The balance of the market held an irregular course registering minor changes with the edge on the weaker side.

Standard of California, Union Oil, Union Associates, Richfield and Rio Grande were all traded in less than 1000 shares and eased fractionally lower.

Transamerica was traded to the extent of 3000 shares and after fluctuating between 25½ and 25 1-8, closed at 25 1-4 for a net gain of 1-4. Security-First National Bank, on a small turnover, strengthened 1 1-4 points to 103 1-4. Claude Neon dropped a point to 34 and recovered to 34 3-8, off 5-8 net.

Sales totaled 15,158 shares valued at $607,442; previous day 17,246 shares valued at $505,236.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Hark's, Eighth between Broadway and Hill—"Love Among the Millionaires."

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Our Blushing Brides," a box-office hit about the Cinderella shop-girl theme. Joan Crawford.

California, Main near Eighth—"Amor Audaz." Adolphe Menjou emerges as a dashing lieutenant in this French talkie.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Big Boy," a film play of quality and delight with Al Jolson at his best in tale of youth.

Chinese, 6926 Hollywood Boulevard—"Hell's Angels," the long awaited Howard Hughes production of $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"All Quiet on the Western Front," the sensational masterpiece of the war receives splendid treatment. Lew Ayres.

Doryman, Hollywood Boulevard—"For the Defense," a powerful film of law and crime. William Powell.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Inspiration," Greta Garbo casts glamour over a Victorian love tragedy.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"Hyas Tyman." An unseen account of the building of a railroad. parts of which are unfinished.

Fox, Wilshire at Western—"Shadow of Law," with William Powell graces a controversial film.

Hollywood, Hollywood at Seventh—"Let Us Be Gay." Opens today.

Majestic, Seventh at Broadway—"What Men Want." Ida Lupino and Ricardo Cortez in a story of adventure and romance.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Hell's Island," a story of an island prison featuring Jack Holt as one of those fascinated heroes.

Paramount, Broadway near Sixth—Current Events.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"Our Blushing Brides."

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Let's Go Native." Opens today.

Rialto, Wilshire at La Brea—"Way Out West," William Rainey as an out-door cut-up with a downfall at the finish.

R.K.O. Hill at Eighth—"Last of the Lone Wolf." Opens today.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Sin Ship," a story of the world of submerged disorder by Joe Cook.

Tower, Seventh at Hope—"Borrowed Money," Morality and Vera Reynolds.

United Artists, Broadway near Fifth—"Puttin' On the Ritz," A fine picture in which an all-star cast valiantly tries to play the game.

Warner Western at Tenth—"The Big House."

Warner Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Mad Hour," Walter Huston parading Scottish grin in Porter Emerson Browne's old-fashioned opus.

Warner's Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Old English." More of the splendid sentimentality of which George Arliss is a past master.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 115th—"It's a Wise Child," a splendid cast enacts this modern treatment of an old theme. Roseman Brownell's old-fashioned opus has a grain of salt and lots of pepper.

Biltmore, Fifth and Grand—"Dishonored Lady," a rather disconcerting drama, enacted, however, by an exceedingly capable cast headed by the glamorous Katherine Cornell.

El Capitan, Hollywood Blvd. at Highland—"Fine Feathers," the famous Eugene Walter play of Broadway success, is here overnight and it's worth the trip. Ann Harding.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Holly-wood—"Good Old Days," Talk and talk and talk from Kolb and Dill.

Vine Street, 1615 N. Vine—"A Cup of Coffee," delightful comedy-drama. Verbatim transcript returns in a farce about business and various wives.

TOMBS OF PAST FOUND IN MADRID

Gravel Pit Yields Bones and Relics of Roman and Pre-Roman Days

MADRID, Sept. 10. (AP)—An archeological discovery which has attracted intense interest throughout Spain was being investigated today in the Madrid suburb of Las Carolinas.

Six tombs containing several skeletons, apparently those of Roman citizens, and the remains of a Roman villa with still more ancient remains underneath, have been uncovered in a gravel pit. The more ancient relics still remain unclassified, but some observers believe they represent a prehistoric settlement.

Coming just after Ambassador Dawes's tour of Spanish points of archeological interest, the discovery has received extraordinary publicity. Since ancient remains of one kind or another are being dug up constantly, the newspaper El Debate has proposed that Madrid declare itself "the capital of the prehistoric world," and organize a prehistoric museum.

The paper suggests adequate appropriations for thorough scientific excavations around Madrid. Many believe that rich archeological material, both Roman and prehistoric, exists in this vicinity. They think it possible that fossils dating back to the earliest stone age may be found.

DOLLAR PAIR WILL MARK ANNIVERSARY

SAN RAFAEL, Sept. 10. (Exclusive)—Capt. and Mrs. Robert Dollar will observe their fifty-sixth wedding anniversary at their home here tomorrow, surrounded by their children and grandchildren. Next Sunday they will leave for China on "another honeymoon," marking their thirty-sixth trip there. They have circled the globe together five times.

BODIES OF MARINES MOVED FROM HAITI

PORT AU PRINCE (Haiti) Sept. 10. (AP)—The bodies of six American Marines were removed from Port Au Prince Cemetery today by order of the Secretary of the Navy and taken with military honors to a navy transport which will carry them back to the United States. The bodies will be reinterred in Arlington National Cemetery in Washington.

BOULDER RAIL CONTRACT LET

Los Angeles Corporation to Grade Dam Line

Work on Branch Road will Start 17th Inst.

Celebration to be Held Near Las Vegas

Morrill-Chapman and Scott Company of San Pedro is the first successful organization to be awarded contract for work on the Los Angeles aqueduct, being successful bidder on the construction of 35 miles of railroad leading from Boulder Dam, on the line of the Union Pacific System, to the dam site.

Announcement was made yesterday by R. L. Adamson, chief engineer of the Union Pacific System, who awarded the contract. Actual work with starting of work on the railroad line will be a giant celebration near Las Vegas on the 17th, it was announced by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, who will be principal speaker. At that time contractors will have crews of men busy on the grading and construction of bridges and culverts for the railroad.

Work on this type of construction will be followed by the laying of rails by the Union Pacific System. It is expected that on November 1 the two companies will have more than 1000 men at work.

The San Pedro company specializes in the grading and construction work, it was low among the bidders submitted.

Morrill-Chapman and Scott Company is an old established firm of Southern California. It has handled most of its time in the past in marine salvaging work about the Los Angeles harbor district.

JOBS AVAILABLE

Bids are being called for the construction of the railroad to be completed by December 26, according to the contract. Work on the line will go down through the grading and culvert work already completed, and it is expected that the railroad will be completed within four to six months, Adamson declared.

The government allocation of $4,000,000 for rail facilities is available for the Union Pacific line, and $1,600,000 for the 35 miles of government railroad on the former work of contractors on thirty-one miles of six-frame trestles and 1000 feet of corrugated-iron pipe culverts. In addition to excavation of 1,000,000 cubic feet of dirt to provide the railroad bed, there will extend from Boulder Dam on the Utah line to Boulder, where there will be 7.17 miles of track to be built and operated by the government.

CELEBRATION ARRANGEMENTS

Plans for one of the greatest celebrations in the history of the State are now taking form under the direction of Secretary Wilbur. Key Pittman from Nevada in conjunction with officials of the Metropolitan District, the Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles city officials and State executives of the seven States represented on the Boulder Dam pact, members of the Greater Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and thousands of people from all over the country are expected to attend. Special trains from Los Angeles will carry the Southern California delegations.

Beginning on the 17th inst. will be a series of meetings of governors and others in Las Vegas. At the celebration will be held the ceremonial driving point, seven miles from Las Vegas, where Secretary Wilbur will drive a silver spike which is placed in the new railroad. The spike will be presented to Gov. Fred R. Balzar of Nevada, who will give it to President Hoover. Gray of the Union Pacific will present it to Secretary Wilbur. A short address and ceremony of driving the spike will be broadcast by the Columbia Broadcasting System and Newspaper men from all over the country, will be present.

Secretary Wilbur, in the evening Secretary Wilbur will make an address over a nation-wide radio hook-up on the Boulder Dam project.

COLORADO RIVER PACT

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 10. (AP)—Ratification of a four-State compact for the division of Colorado River affairs by legislative bodies may be deferred for a month, due to Utah's inability to meet with representatives of New Mexico and Wyoming before Sept. 15th inst. in Colorado, it was announced at the office of Gov. George H. Dern today.

Dern's decision another conference before entering into the pact with the other States involved.

OUTBURSTS DRIVE HUSBAND TO COURT

Jocelyn Lee

EMOTIONAL ROLE RENDS FILM HOME

Director Reed Charges Jocelyn Lee with Too Much Temperament

Jocelyn Lee, film actress, whose tempestuous temperament displayed on the screen won her a livelihood, is about to face the loss of a husband through the same emotional stresses, according to a divorce complaint filed for Luther A. Reed, scenarist and director, by Attorney R. D. Knickerbocker yesterday.

Ever since the couple's marriage last June Miss Lee has been calling her husband what were described as "foul" names, and has been falsely accusing him of more than ordinary directorial associations with other women. On one occasion Miss Lee threw household utensils at her husband, he says, and at another time she scratched his face.

During a visit to Agua Caliente, it is asserted, Miss Lee became so unmanageable that her husband had to invite the assistance of the local police to quell her after she had hit him with an ash tray.

Naomi Childers was divorced from Reed last December, obtaining from him at that time $500 a week alimony for the support of herself and her 8-year-old son. Miss Lee formerly was the wife of Henry "Pathe" Lehrmann, motion-picture director, who divorced her for what he termed "temperamental outbursts."

Mexican Group will Celebrate at Luna Park

Additions to the program which will include the national dances of three nations, an open-air barbecue and a display of Mexican national sports in celebration of the 120th anniversary of Mexican freedom were announced yesterday by the sponsors of the fiesta. The celebration will be held in two parts, one starting at 11:30 a.m. Sunday, and the second on the 16th inst., and will be at Luna Park.

Two pupils of the former provisional President of Mexico, De la Huerta, Roberto Guzman, tenor, and Alfonso Redrosa, baritone, will sing, and Ernesto Orfila has been chosen as one of the speakers. Earl Moine has been selected as master of ceremonies. Prof. Manuel Carillo has been named the Spanish speaker of the day.

FLOOD-CONTROL PLAN PREPARED

Eaton Submits Program for Fifty-Year Period

Experts View it as Solution of County Problem

Details Given in Talk Before Conservation Body

With only a small percentage of the watersheds and available spreading basins under control, what is believed by experts to be a logical solution of water conservation in Los Angeles county was outlined yesterday in a report of a comprehensive flood control plan looking ahead for fifty years, drafted by E. C. Eaton, chief engineer of the Los Angeles flood control district.

The plan, which has been under preparation for two years, was made public by Engineer Eaton when he spoke before members of the Los Angeles County Conservation Association meeting at the Chamber of Commerce.

Summarized briefly, the plan calls for ten more dams in the mountain areas of the county, more channel lengths of rivers protected and the development of two large spreading basins in the southwest part of the county to drive out the salt water in the lower strata of sand which seeps in from the ocean. One of the contemplated basins would be located in Whittier Narrows at the junction of the San Gabriel River and Rio Hondo, and the other in Nigger Slough, west of Long Beach. This would make 10,304 acres of spreading ground, as against 1372 at the present time.

MORE DAMS URGED

Three dams are recommended for San Gabriel Canyon, three in Tujunga Canyon (one is now under construction,) one at Little Tujunga and two at Eaton.

The report will become an official document immediately on being placed before the Board of Supervisors.

Flood control work was begun in Los Angeles county in 1915. During the last fifteen years, however, just a start has been made, according to the report. It shows that only 6 per cent of the watersheds in the county are under control. Only 13 per cent of the available water basins are harnessed, and only 11 per cent of the total channel lengths are protected. Also, only three-fourths of 1 per cent of the valley run-off of water is being controlled. The report says:

REGULATION FEASIBLE

"It is entirely feasible to regulate the mountain areas by dams, develop spreading grounds, and construct valley storages to their fullest extent.

"Fully 35 per cent of the mountain areas can be regulated by dams and 100 per cent of the spreading basins can be developed. Also 100 per cent of the total channel lengths can be permanently protected.

"We estimate that on a conservative basis the full development will yield an average annual crop of water now wasted of more than 100,000 acre feet and I feel confident that when we have the advantage of measurements during a single flood year that we can support an average annual water crop of water now running to waste greater than this by possibly as much as 50 per cent.

"For purposes of visualization this amount which may be conserved is equivalent to an average of about one inch of run-off over the entire mountain and valley areas.

RAINFALL AVERAGES

"The average mountain rainfall at present is twenty-three inches and the average valley rainfall is fourteen inches. Using another index of the quantity of water conserved which this will represent, the Aqueduct in 1929 brought into the county about 191,000 acre feet.

"The ultimate development will yield from 100,000 to 150,000 acre-feet of water annually for use, or more than 50 per cent of this amount.

"It is obvious that the full development should not be attempted for many years," Eaton continues. "There are, however, many of the units which are vitally needed for flood protection and the earliest construction of all possible spreading grounds in conjunction with mountain regulation should be

SON DIES SO HIS MOTHER MAY LIVE

Contractor Ties Parent to Overturned Boat Before Sinking in Lake Waters

In the cold waters of Echo Lake, east of Placerville, death offered James Moore, 29 years of age, Santa Monica building contractor, a choice. He might save his own life or his mother's. With numbing fingers Moore tied his mother to the bottom of the boat that had capsized with them. Then he managed to keep himself afloat a while longer, finally to slip beneath the surface and drown.

The tragedy occurred last Tuesday and details of it were received yesterday by his sister, Mrs. R. Brown of 520 South St. Andrews street. Moore and his mother had spent the summer at Upper Lake Echo. At 6 p.m. Tuesday they had started for a ride in a small boat with an outboard motor. A sudden gust of wind overturned the craft, throwing them into the water.

A length of rope dangling from the boat was used by Moore to tie a loop under his mother's arms. Her cries were heard by Ralph King, boathouse keeper, who rescued her. The lake was being dragged yesterday for her son's body.

BROADWAY'S PAVING BIDS CONSIDERED

Hurried Analysis Points to $486,271 Proposal as Lowest One of Eight

The Board of Public Works yesterday opened eight bids for the paving of Broadway between Pico street and Forty-eighth street. The bids were submitted to the City Engineer for analysis and report. It is expected that on recommendation the contract will be awarded early next week, with actual work commencing by the end of the present month.

The low bid, according to hurried analysis, was submitted by the Griffith Company at $486,271. The engineer estimated the cost at $525,000. The city has allocated $368,060 toward the project, the remainder to be made up by assessments.

The improvement consists of two and one-half miles of pavement, concrete with Warrenite wearing surface, a mile of storm drains, four miles of sewers and curbs, gutters, sidewalks and an ornamental lighting system. The street will range in width from fifty-six to sixty feet.

Chamber to Hear Pilot for Byrd

Capt. Alton N. Parker, pilot for Admiral Richard E. Byrd on his expedition to the South Pole, will be the guest speaker at Thursday's luncheon of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Biltmore Hotel. Capt. Parker, who is now passenger pilot for Western Air Express, will give an account of the events on the South Pole journey.

He was with Byrd when Marie Byrdland Mountains were discovered. Capt. Parker served in the naval air forces for three years and entered commercial flying in 1925 as a member of the United States Marine Corps.

Thursday's meeting will be in charge of President LeRoy D. Owen.

Builder Dies in Fall from Roof

Robert Madden, 59 years of age, widely known contractor and builder, died yesterday shortly after falling from the roof of a one-story bungalow he was erecting at 829 Rialto avenue, Venice. An autopsy will be performed today to determine whether death was due to heart disease or to injuries sustained in the plunge. An inquest will be conducted tomorrow at the mortuary of Kirkelee, Bernard & Peak, Venice.

Samoan Commission Gathers Here

NATION'S WINGS GROW HERE

Senator Bingham, Aviation Authority, Credits California with Lead in Aeronautics

California has led America to world dominance in aviation, Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut declared yesterday on his arrival from Washington, en route to Samoa as head of the Congressional commission for drafting new laws for the islands. Senator Bingham, one of America's pioneer aviators, is president of the National Aeronautics Association and head of the Senate Committee on Aeronautics.

Arriving with him on the Santa Fe yesterday afternoon was Representative Carroll L. Beedy of Maine. Other members of the Samoan commission, due last night and this morning, are Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas; Representative Quinn Williams of Kentucky, and Capt. William R. Furlong, U.S.N. Albert P. Judd, to serve as legal adviser, will join the group at Honolulu. At Pago-Pago the commission will be completed with three Samoan chieftains, High Chief Mauga, High Chief Tufule and Chief Magalei.

WARSHIP THEIR CARRIER

The party will sail from San Pedro at 11 a.m. today aboard the U.S.S. Omaha, light cruiser flagship of the battle fleet destroyer squadrons, and is due at Pago-Pago on the 26th inst.

Senator Bingham explained that while he is deeply interested in the Samoan question he prefers to wait until the commission has completed its survey before discussing the needs of the islands.

Senator Bingham said his major interest is in the proper development of American aviation, which he declares leads the world today. He expressed himself as unalterably opposed to any plan for a unified air service for the Army and Navy and declared that the present controversy between the two services over aerial coast defense soon will be amicably settled.

CALIFORNIA AVIATION

"The steady progress of aviation in California has been the one beacon light among the valleys of depression and the peaks of overoptimism," he said. "The people out here, aided by steady winds, clear air and immense distances, have realized their needs throughout in this flying business and that is why California is at the front today in planes, pilots and adequate airports."

The Senator scouted the assertions of aviation enthusiasts that the industry will in the future assume first rank in the field of transportation. It will attain a place of equal importance, he said, with

A. J. MOUNT AT HELM OF NEW BANK

Heads Bank of America Officials Told During Biltmore Gathering

Announcement of the appointment of Arnold J. Mount, president of the Bank of Italy, as president of the new Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association, and E. J. Nolan, president of the Bank of America of California, as chairman of the board, was made last night by James A. Bacigalupi, former president of the Bank of Italy, now a member of the advisory committee.

Mr. Bacigalupi made his announcement following a meeting of 700 officials of the Bank of America of California and Bank of Italy at the Biltmore.

Those present at the meeting included A. P. Giannini, founder of the Bank of Italy, L. M. Giannini and Jean Monnet, respectively, president and vice-chairman of Transamerica Corporation, Mr. Nolan and Mr. Mount.

Elisha Walker, chairman of the board of Trans-America, in addressing the officials of the Bank of America of California and the Bank of Italy, shortly to be consolidated into the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association, to rank fourth in resources among the banks of the nation and first among those outside New York, expressed an optimistic view for the prosperous future of the organization. Mr. Walker is the largest individual owner of Trans-America stock.

Last night's meeting completed a week's tour of inspection of the

COST COUNTED BY CANDIDATES

Aspirants to Office Turn in Expense Accounts

Governorship Evokes Most of Heavy Spending

Congressional Race Least in Demands on Purse

Yesterday was the last day for candidates for State and county offices in the recent primary election to file campaign expense accounts with the County Recorder and Registrar of Voters. The law requires candidates for county offices to file with the Registrar of Voters and those seeking State office to render their accounting to the recorder of the county in which they reside within fifteen days after the election. Failure to do so constitutes a misdemeanor.

At the Recorder's office Dist.-Atty. Fitts, one of the candidates for Governor, filed an account of $24,088.72. Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, the nominee, showed an outlay of $13,901.50, which includes a $5000 personal contribution, according to an account filed in San Francisco. Gov. Young is expected to file his account at Sacramento. Milton K. Young, Democratic nominee, spent $2674.07. As a Republican candidate his expenses were $200.

SON'S COST HEAVY

One of the heaviest expenditures was listed by Charles A. Son, who sought the nomination for Attorney-General. His account amounted to $16,290.81.

Other expense accounts filed with the Recorder by Los Angeles county candidates follow:

Herschel L. Carnahan, for Lieutenant-Governor, $4715.65; Sylvanus H. Kellogg, Prohibitionist, for State Treasurer, $100; William E. Evans, Republican, for Congress, Ninth District, $100; Joe Crail, Republican, for Congress, Tenth District, $4181.05; John F. Dockweiler, Democrat, $135.

Candidates for State Senator, Thirty-eighth District, filed expense accounts as follows:

James T. Barclay, Republican, $123.50; Daniel Ballmer, Republican, $187.45; Milton Bryan, Democrat, $75; J. W. McKinley, Republican, $1240.58; Charles W. Lyon, Republican, $2077.36.

COUNTY OFFICES

The following expenditures totaling approximately $119,000 were filed with Registrar of Voters Kerr by fifty-five candidates seeking election to sixteen county offices:

Sheriff, John A. Berwald, $598.71; Charles H. Kelley, $14,927.80; Clyde I. Plummer, $13,437.86; William I. Traeger, $16,886.27.

Assessor, Sidney A. Graves, $62.50; Ed W. Hopkins, $1347.50.

Supervisor, First District, Albert M. Chamness, $2387.56; Robert E. Frith, $844.02; Christopher A. Johnson, $241.70; James W. Reagan, $1144.18; Jerome V. Scofield, $2500; Hugh A. Thatcher, $9383.35.

THIRD DISTRICT

Supervisor, Third District, Robert Allen, $48.50; Milton L. Garrigus, $200; Sidney T. Graves, $2620; J. Don Mahaffey, $92.59; John C. Manning, $46.50; William M. Wheeler, $13.50.

Supervisor, Fourth District, J. C. Barthel, $120; Raymond V. Darby, $2797.92; Lawrence McLean, $130; John R. Quinn, $479.90; Robert C. Ramage, $712.04.

Superior Court, Office No. 1, Ida May Adams, $1527.43; Hugh L. Dickson, $294.50; Arthur Keetch, $2570.58.

Superior Court, Office No. 2, Carlos S. Hardy, $1330.94; Thomas R. Mould, $510; Raymond I. Turney, $2105.50; Henry M. Willis, $356.50.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

IF SIR THOMAS LIPTON takes back the yachting cup to England it is likely to stay there for some time.

The contest is obviously unfair to the challenger. In the beginning of the cup races, eighty years ago, it was all right; but to force a delicate racing machine like a modern racing yacht to cross the ocean to race is like forcing a track athlete to walk from New York to Los Angeles, here to contest against finely-trained sprinters on their home tracks.

OPTIMISM

The most reassuring sign of continued world peace is the fact that Gen. Ludendorff predicts another world war within two years. He has an almost miraculous capacity for being wrong.

You can be sure of one thing. There will be no more wars between two single countries. Modern wars are between coalitions. In present world conditions there are no two countries that could agree on anything from tariff rates to boundaries; let alone agree to fight a war as allies.

HIDDEN LIVES

Every time there is a big murder mystery the police do not always find the murderer, but they find many other things—scandals, crimes and criminals.

The search for Hickman unearthed at least one other murderer—a drug-store killer who landed in State's prison. Just so, the Ensenada murderer is still missing, but I wonder what has become of the mysterious aviator—and why was he in such a hurry—and what was the matter with the Jap found, wild-eyed, wandering along the beach with a huge knife?

SUMMER'S END

Labor Day was officially the end of summer; but Old Man Summer doesn't seem to have found out about it yet.

The reopening of schools the first week of September is absurd. September is not a fall month in California—just as our June is spring, not summer.

Because it is the other way in Des Moines or Sioux Falls offers no particular reason why we should run against the nature of things.

RAISING SHEEP

I feel sorry long beforehand for the disabled veteran who writes inquiring if there is any public land he can take up. He wants to raise sheep.

There is a lot of government land available for settlement in California. There are a lot of homestead claims which—to judge from the wrecked and deserted cabins—could be bought cheaply.

But then what? The land is the least part of it. In theory it is okeh. A mama sheep has two baby sheep; then you have three sheep. In cold practice it takes a lot of capital in hard money and a great deal of expert experience to raise sheep. The land is the least part of it.

Every man—especially with a longing for the outdoors—has an idea he could be a successful farmer. There is no business that requires more knowledge, more expert financing, more luck and more sound instinct for marketing. The last job that a failure in business should tackle.

NEW COURSES OFFERED

Two courses in advertising are announced by the extension division of the University of California. The Los Angeles class will meet in Room 607, Hillstreet Building, Wednesdays, beginning the 17th inst., from 7 to 9 p.m., and the Pasadena class in Room 128, Pasadena Junior College, Tuesdays, beginning the 30th inst., at the same hours. Both are to be conducted by Herbert M. Morgan.

WATER SALVAGE PROPOSED

Deputy State Engineer Conkling Says 360,000 Acre Feet Can be Saved in Southland Area

Water sufficient to cover 360,000 acres of ground one foot deep could be saved each year out of the amount wasted into the sea from the south coastal basin, Deputy State Engineer Conkling told the Los Angeles County Conservation Association in session at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. One-half of that amount, he said, could be saved by reclamation of sewage water.

In this basin, Conkling said, water consumption is increasing at the rate of 40,000 acre feet a year and the cost is rising steadily. Water can be reclaimed from sewage at much less expense than the same amount can be brought into the basin from outside it, he said.

According to a State survey, Conkling said, the approximately ninety-by-fifty miles of territory within a line drawn around San Fernando Valley, San Bernardino, Riverside and Santa Ana constitutes a great basin. In this basin there are declared to exist twenty-nine underground reservoirs, some of which have water sufficient for many years for their territory, while others already are deficient.

In this basin, the speaker said, are 2200 square miles of irrigable territory and nearly 3,000,000 persons. So Conkling appealed for help in getting an appropriation from the next Legislature to continue studies of the basin which were begun by the State Engineer's office at the behest of the association. The meeting went on record on motion of Frank A. Merriam as favoring such legislation.

State Engineer Hyatt told the association that, although water in this basin has the highest value, data is insufficient concerning its supply and source. He said this is due principally to the high cost of getting the information.

Flood Control Engineer Eaton of Los Angeles county, the largest in the basin, laid before the association an extensive program for the holding back of flood waters until they can be absorbed by the underground reservoirs that are in this county. He said that in this county alone 150,000 acre feet of flood water can be saved from wastage into the sea each year.

President Austin of the chamber in welcoming the members of the association stated that it was recognized that "you are handling of the most important problems of the Southwest and we will help you

MARLEY WINS DIVORCE FROM LINA BASQUETTE

Lina Basquette, motion-picture actress, was too viciously jealous to live with, her husband, J. Peverell Marley, cameraman, testified yesterday in obtaining a divorce granted by Superior Judge Keetch. Marley said the actress threatened to slap him if he even touched a certain person she saw on a dancing floor and whose identity the husband did not know. Thelma Todd, film actress, was Marley's corroborating witness.

J. PEVERELL MARLEY

"My wife and I were dancing at the Embassy Club on the night of May 10, last," testified Marley. "Suddenly my wife saw a certain party on the floor. She said if that person spoke to me or even touched me she would slap my face. I didn't even know who the woman was. As the dancing floor was crowded and I was likely to touch elbows with anyone I led my wife to our table.

"My wife objected to my occupa-

MODES OF AUTUMN UNVEILED

Downtown Windows at Signal Burst into Bloom with Spotlight Turned on New Fashions

Flashing lights cutting the night, brilliant gowns, beautiful fabrics, shop windows smartly dressed and milling thousands on the walks made the opening night of "Modes of Autumn, 1930," featured by downtown Los Angeles shops last night, a scene of extraordinary animation and interest.

Trend of the new fall styles was revealed for the first time in scores of stores and windows. Short skirts, except for evening dress, still are featured. There was a lively curiosity as to this point, apparently it being a subject in which every woman spectator was interested, judging from remarks.

Boy Scout buglers at 7 p.m. trilled the call that opened the affair. At this signal great sun arcs blazed in green and white and hundreds of display windows which have been masked for the past few days were uncurtained to the view of the public.

Crowds came early and from Third to Ninth on Broadway and on Seventh from Broadway to Figueroa the sidewalks were jammed. The stream of auto traffic also was dense and traffic police were on duty at every corner until late at night.

Scarcely a window but had something interesting and new, showing trend in style or in fabric. Exquisite creations of satin, silk and velvet, with dominant tones of extreme brilliancy, feature the evening gowns. Street, sport and business attire are smart and natty with simple lines. No great changes are featured in millinery, the modish hat being close fitting and simple in design.

Many windows used scenic backgrounds in an attractive manner. One window featured an opera box with beautifully gowned figures awaiting the rising of the curtain. Other windows featured children's attire and still others sport habits of extreme sophistication.

Ensemble ideas are new and smart and extend to shoes as well as to hat and gown.

The display will continue through today and tomorrow. Stores will have new merchandise inside as well as in the windows and many establishments will make it a point to model new creations at the request of spectators. Practically every store in the city is taking part in the showing.

Boy Shot to Death and Police Hold Chum for Check of Accident Story

VICTIM FOUND IN VACANT LOT

Neighbor Lad Says Revolver Mishap Responsible

He Admits Taking Badge Off Dead Companion

Gun Obtained by Pair While Adults Absent

Bruno De Maria, 13 years of age, was found shot to death late yesterday in a vacant lot not far from his home, 731 East Seventy-sixth Place. The son of an asserted leader of a bootleg faction now serving a term in San Quentin, he was at first thought by police to have been the possible victim of an underworld war of revenge.

BRUNO DE MARIA

Last night, however, from the trembling lips of Roy Kent, 12, of 911 East Seventy-seventh street, they obtained a far different story of the tragedy, although there were phases of it that the police decided necessitated further investigation.

The Kent boy lives with his stepfather, Wendell Hunn, who owns a .32 caliber revolver which had long held the interest of the De Maria boy and his playmate, young Kent.

"My step-father had hid the revolver, but when he was out today Bruno and I found it," young Kent told Detective Lieutenants Stevens and Condaffer. "We took it into the dining-room, and were trying to see how you put a cartridge in when it went off.

"It hit Bruno who ran out of the back door and across the porch to the vacant lot where he fell down. I didn't know he was dead. But I was scared and after going up to the place where he fell down I ran back home and went to bed."

One feature of the case police were investigating last night was the removal from young De Maria's coat of a button attesting his membership in a safety committee of Hillsen school which he and young Kent attended.

The Kent boy admitted he had taken the button from young De Maria after he fell dead.

"I didn't shoot him for the button," he told detectives in answer to questions. "I only took it because I wanted to give it to the principal of the school tomorrow morning."

Police announced that after finishing questioning the Kent boy they would turn him over to the juvenile authorities. They say he admitted he was holding the revolver when it was accidentally discharged.

Thousands See Legionnaires in Military Review

PASADENA, Sept. 10. (Exclusive) Fifteen thousand spectators today witnessed the military review and parade of the fifty American Legion posts of the eighteenth and nineteenth districts, who are holding a joint meeting here.

First the Legionnaires paraded through the downtown streets, after which they assembled in the plaza in front of the City Hall. Applause repeatedly broke from the great throng of spectators as the veterans went through their drills, the cheers becoming tumultuous as Pasadena and Long Beach posts, winner and runner-up, respectively, in the championship competition at Sacramento, went through their paces.

This was followed by a snappy demonstration by the Legion Auxiliary drill team of Alhambra, consisting of fifty girls.

The jailing of Commander A. C. Bonzer and Adjutant Fred White of the Long Beach post for failing to recruit as many new members as Pasadena post, was successfully accomplished, but not without difficulties. Though handcuffed together Bonzer and White broke from their captors and ran through the crowd. They were finally caught, however, and lodged in the new, nearly completed $300,000 jail where they were to remain all night.

WIFE ASSERTS SPOUSE POSED AS "LONE WOLF"

Francis McGowan characterized himself as a "lone wolf," to the embarrassment and humiliation of his wife, Mrs. Serena McGowan, she declares in her divorce petition on file yesterday. McGowan is asserted to have made other cruel and insulting remarks to his wife, on one occasion stating while she was in a swimming pool that "if she goes down and never comes up it will be too soon." Mrs. McGowan also asserts the defendant insisted on her going to work.

SEEK TAXI MAN IN PLOT QUIZ

Walkup Case Investigation Takes New Turn

Girl Suspect Mentions Him as One of Friends

Proof of Frame-up Scheme Not Yet Uncovered

Launched with startling suddenness, a concerted search of the city for a man said to be Conner (Mike) Shawn, district supervisor for a taxicab company, late yesterday stood out as the highlight in the police investigation of an asserted plot to "frame" the arrest of Police Commissioner Walkup by "planting" him in the company of an attractive blonde woman.

On what particular phases of the case Shawn will be quizzed, if located, Chief of Detectives Taylor declined to state, but he admitted that he had instructed his men to search for him after Miss Helen Lee, 22-year-old waitress and "woman in the case," had mentioned him as being one of her friends.

"We certainly would like to talk to him," Taylor said. "I won't say, however, that we are sure he knows anything that might help us apprehend the persons behind the plot. Nevertheless, we'd like to find him and ask him some questions."

ELUDES SEARCHERS

Under instructions from Taylor, who is in charge of the investigation, detectives rushed pell-mell from the central detective bureau and were whisked away in police cars "disguised" with foreign license plates. But like a will-o'-the-wisp, Shawn eluded them, but the officers refused to state whether they believe he had gone into hiding.

The effort to find the taxicab official came at the end of a day marked by few significant developments in the inquiry. In fact, Chief Taylor last night announced that although Miss Lee, asserted "lure" in the case, has been interrogated at great length, she has supplied no information "on which we might work."

"So far," said Taylor, "the case is as much 'up in the air' as it was when our hopes of trapping the plotters were blasted by premature disclosure of the details last Tuesday."

QUIZZED BY PROSECUTOR

The District Attorney's office entered the investigation yesterday when Miss Lee was taken there by Chief Taylor and was subjected to questioning by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark. At the conclusion of the session Clark announced he does not intend to file any charges unless the investigators uncover evidence sufficient to warrant action. At present, he said, such evidence does not exist—at least, it is not in the hands of investigators.

Throughout the day Miss Lee continued to maintain her innocence of any wrongdoing and to disclaim, as well, any knowledge of the supposed plot to frame Commissioner Walkup. After spending the night in her apartment at 3819 Leeward avenue, attended by Policewoman Lane and guarded by two detectives, she was returned to Central Station yesterday morning. She was escorted from there to the District-Attorney's office and then back to headquarters.

During an unguarded moment, as she scanned a newspaper in the detective bureau, she talked to reporters.

DENIES PLOT

"I really don't know what it's all about," she insisted. "But I do feel uncomfortable—being placed in this position. I met Mr. Walkup at the hotel where he was living and where I had a room, and I liked him because he seemed to be different. But I know absolutely nothing about any plot to frame him."

The asserted plot became the source of some amusement to Walkup's colleagues on the Police Commission during the day, Commissioner Drake chiding Maj. Walkup about "getting a million dollars worth of publicity" in connection with it. Walkup, however, retorted that he is prepared to sell the publicity cheap, it being not the kind he desires.

Commissioners Walkup, Drake and Wehn then discussed briefly and somewhat humorously a report that jealousy on the part of an administration official had actuated the asserted "frame-up" plot. Drake and Wehn wondered what anyone could be jealous of; whereupon Walkup suggested someone "might be jealous of the girl."

RELATIONS WITH MOSHER

Newspaper men then asked Commissioner Walkup if there were any foundation for a rumor that strained relations exist between himself and W. J. Mosher, special investigator for Mayor Porter. To this query Walkup replied that he and Mosher were "on the best of terms" and that as far as he knows Mosher has "nothing against me." He refrained, however, from paying Mosher any compliment.

Later, when asked for a statement Investigator Mosher disclaimed any connection whatever with the case. He added that he has not been requested to assist in the investigation. The case, he said, is entirely in the hands of police.

That Maj. Walkup himself believes he has been singled out for a "blow at the administration" because he is a bachelor and lives alone, was apparent when he appeared at a formal meeting of the commission later in the day armed with a loaded pistol. He explained he was carrying the weapon on the advice of Acting Police Chief Steckel. Walkup remained at the session only a few moments, asking to be excused and declaring as he left the board room that he had received "important information."

CAUSE OF INQUIRY

Investigation of the supposed scheme to "frame" Walkup began two weeks ago when the commissioner confided his suspicions to Chief of Police Steckel. Detective Lieutenant Sears, assigned by the Chief to the case, used members of his squad day after day to keep the woman, who, Walkup said, had been suspiciously friendly with him, under surveillance. They personally met Miss Lee, according to the detectives, and reported they overheard conversations in which reference was made to a plan to have Walkup arrested after being lured into a compromising position.

Sears stated his scheme to trap the plotters was to wait until the psychological moment of the "frame-up" arrest and then take all present into custody.

On Friday, last, Walkup again went to Chief Steckel for quicker action. The case was then turned over to Chief Taylor, who assigned Detective Lieutenant Nolan to the investigation. In the meantime Miss Lee had moved to the apartments on Leeward avenue. Arrangements were being made to spring the "big coup," which, the Chief expected, would ensnare one or more local plotting politicians, when details of the story were made public.

"After that," Chief Taylor said, "our plan blew up. All we could do was bring in Miss Lee and see what she had to tell us."

CHINA'S CLOUD SILVER-LINED

Senators at Hearing Discuss Way to Curb Flow of Metal and Thereby Aid Our Trade

Indications that the subcommittee of the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate is interested in the possibility of establishing an international commission to regulate the flow of silver in China were seen yesterday at the opening session of the group's scheduled series of hearings here on Chinese political and economic troubles.

Questions propounded by Senator Pittman of Nevada, chairman, in working one power against the other. The attitude of the Chinese toward America is, he said, friendly, but it is easily changed as a result of the machinations of selfish leaders.

"In the area controlled by the Nationalist government," he said, "except for the feeling engendered by the teachings of Bolshevism, the attitude is friendly to foreigners and especially friendly to Americans."

Frost declared that business conditions follow political developments. War, he asserted, makes it impossible for the people to pursue their normal pursuits; consequently, the men turn to the armies to obtain their rice twice daily. Opportunity to loot also attracts them, he said.

Senator Pittman summed up the testimony by asking whether prosperity would not have a deterrent effect on war. He then sought expressions of opinion on a possible formation of an international group to regulate the flow, but not the price, of silver. Road building was mentioned as one of the means of achieving prosperity.

Albert B. Chace, representing an exporting concern of Shanghai, testified that one reason for decreased trade with China is to be found in American tea standards, which, he said, make impossible the importation of China tea.

An all-day session will be held today. The hearing is being held in a conference room of the Chamber of Commerce. Senators Swanson of Virginia and Shipstead of Minnesota are hearing testimony with Senator Pittman.

Senator Pittman will address the members of his fraternity, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, at their weekly luncheon at the University Club tomorrow noon.

among the earliest units to be built."

The necessity for the conservation of water by flood control is outlined in the preamble of the report, as follows:

"Anyone who has lived in Los Angeles county fifteen years or more can testify to the liability of floods and the tremendous damage which would occur with the recurrence of even such a flood as happened in 1914, by no means a record flood.

"While a great majority of present residents have not experienced destructive floods in California, all have been well informed of the danger of water shortage. Fortunately for us our natural underground storage reservoirs are of tremendous capacity and are cut by cross dykes acting as natural submerged dams that prevent them from functioning as merely underground streams. Considering the tremendous draft that we have made on these natural basins, the relatively little we have done toward replenishing them and the dry cycle we have been through, it is remarkable how well they have held up.

"We have been lacking in a coordinated ultimate flood control and conservation plan to make our progressive construction work fit into some definite program.

"While carrying on our construction work with our financial limits we have been building up a co-ordinated ultimate plan during the past two years. To develop such a plan has entailed a great deal more work than the average person would think and a good deal more work than we ourselves knew we were up against."

SUIT TO SETTLE QUESTION AS TO FUNDS

Whether the Board of Supervisors has the right to build three dams in San Gabriel Canyon to take the place of the abandoned high one at the forks site, paying for the cost of construction with bond money voted for the big single project, will be determined in a friendly suit now being prepared against the county by the San Gabriel Valley Protective Association.

The action of the association was taken on advice of the County Counsel, who with the Supervisors and concerns that will purchase the bonds, desire a Supreme Court ruling in the matter before any appropriations are made for the work.

A bond issue of 1924 of $35,000,000 for flood control purposes was predicated on the building of a high dam at the forks site in San Gabriel Canyon. It was to cost $25,000,000. When the work on it was stopped by the State Engineer following the landslide, there was more than $20,000,000 of a balance left of the fund appropriated for the dam.

HILLTOP IN HOLLYWOOD PARADISE FOR HOLMES

"If I never get to heaven," said Burton Holmes, world traveler and lecturer, at the Breakfast Club yesterday, "I shall be glad that for a while, at least, I have lived in Paradise."

He was referring to his new home, "Topside," which is on a Hollywood hillside. As he has been almost everywhere and photographed the most interesting places of the world, his comment was accepted as something of a compliment for Southern California.

"This is the most notable day of my life," he continued, "for I am taking possession of my new home today. It may be as close to heaven as I shall ever get."

Others at yesterday morning's meeting of the Breakfast Club were Senator Shortridge, Elisha Walker, chairman of the board of the Transamerica Corporation; Senator and Mrs. Swanson of Virginia, Senator Shipstead of Minnesota, Senator Pittman of Nevada, Representative M. E. Thatcher of Kentucky, Representative Crail, Representative Evans, Col. James Archibald, war correspondent; Jean Monet, financier; Mrs. J. O. Delaplain, writer; Mrs. C. C. Calhoun, Washington social leader; Reginald Denny, Kay Johnson and Sammy Cohen.

beware of those APPROACHING YEARS PAST 40

Begin now to guard against the after 40 ailment

ONE of the most prevalent menaces to health after 40, says medical science, is kidney breakdown. Over half of men and women past this age are afflicted in varying degree. Many without knowledge, for there are no warning symptoms.

Kidneys excrete 75 per cent of poisonous waste from the system. Through overwork, kidneys are the first vital organs to break down—which leads, in many cases, to more serious ills.

Doctors now say, "Drink 6 glasses of a pure, mineral-free water each day, to dilute waste matter and wash it away." This eases the burden on kidneys, giving the worn cells a chance to repair. Further breakdown is arrested.

Thus thousands are now drinking Puritas mineral-free water. Through scientific distillation Puritas is freed of all poisons and impurities, which add further to congestion of kidneys. Thus Puritas flushes these vital organs in the most thorough, efficient way.

Puritas is drinking water in its purest form. Though its taste seems different at first, each drink you'll increasingly enjoy.

Owners of the system which served the 250 householders agreed to turn over the system to the California Water Service Company for the amount of the debt. The residents were assured that as soon as the legal formalities of the transfer had been completed the service would be resumed.

The California Water Service Company, with offices at 4163 Whittier Boulevard, sought to prepare the residents for the drought by sending representatives to the affected district, urging them to draw out sufficient water to tide them over the dry period.

E. J. Whitney was named as owner of the small system which served the 250 thirsty folk. He had turned the system over to other parties some time ago and the recipient of the system had failed to pay the water bills, it was related.

SHE BECOMES BRIDE OF G.O.P. CHAIRMAN

MARRIAGE OF FOWLER ANNOUNCED

G.O.P. Committee's Head Wed Florida Widow at Orange Last Month

Marriage of Col. William Eric Fowler, chairman of the County Republican Central Committee, and Mrs. John A. Cunningham, widow of a pioneer financier and business man of Jacksonville, Fla., was announced yesterday. The ceremony was performed on August 11, last, at Trinity Episcopal Church, Orange, by Rev. E. J. Batty, occupying the pulpit during the vacation of Dr. John C. Donnell, rector. Reason for delay in the announcement was not given.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Arthur Pickett of Jacksonville and for many years she has been prominent in the social life of the Florida city. She has one daughter, Ines, who is married to William Pennell Gilbreath, Jr., of Jacksonville.

Although practically retired from business, Col. Fowler retains management of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association and is president of the Tennis Patrons' Association.

The Fowlers plan to leave soon, according to the announcement, for Florida, where they will spend some time, but intend to return in the spring to Los Angeles, where they will make their home.

Col. Fowler's former wife, the widow of E. T. Earl, Los Angeles publisher, died suddenly from a heart attack on October 17, 1925.

BLACKMAIL CASH PRIZE OF BATTLE

Legal Fight for $75,000 Seized in Asserted Plot Opens in Federal Court

A bitter legal contest started yesterday in United States District Judge McCormick's court where trustees for the estate of A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc., are seeking a portion of $75,000 in currency which Morris Lavine, a former reporter, convicted and sentenced to a year in the County Jail, took from Charles Crawford, local politician, in an asserted blackmail scheme. The hearing will continue today.

The sessions were marked by frequent clashes between Otto Christensen, attorney for Crawford, Paul Tobin, representing the trustees, and Lester Roth, counsel for Lavine.

Witnesses heard included Dist.-Atty. Fitts, Kent Parrott, a politician, Robert P. Stewart, Chief Deputy District Attorney, and Leslie White, a District Attorney investigator, who listened through a door to the conversation between Crawford and Lavine shortly before the latter was arrested with the $75,000 currency in his pockets.

The money was impounded several months ago by Judge McCormick on the petition of the Wagy trustees. The court granted a temporary injunction against Dist.-Atty. Fitts and County Clerk Lampton preventing them from paying the fund to Lavine, Crawford or anyone else until the determination of suits brought by the trustees against Lavine and Crawford.

The trustees sued Lavine for $5210 asserted to have been illegally paid him through Jacob Berman at a time the Wagy firm was insolvent. Crawford also was asserted to have obtained $45,000 from the insolvent company. Crawford provided the $75,000 originally for the Lavine blackmail trap.

Today's Bible Text

The Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men.—I Thess. iii, 12.

PARKING PROBLEMS

The man who laughs at his wife for the way she tries to park the car nose first should meditate on the way he attempts to park the baby in his arms.

THE SLOW FLYER

Here seems to be something worth while: A French aviator has been able to fly a considerable distance at the rate of thirty-two miles an hour. This is the slow mark for birdmen and it is well to know that a flyer does not have to do two miles a minute in order to keep aloft.

MUSSOLINI'S CRUISERS

Italy is about ready to launch the third of eight cruisers she is building. The vessels are all of the same type, of 5000 tons and those thus far constructed are said to show a speed of approximately forty knots an hour. This is quite a gait for a warship and makes them dangerous foemen on the watery deep.

ADVANCED AGE

Grover Cleveland Alexander, the famous baseball pitcher of many mound battles in the past, has been released at the advanced age of 43. Christy Mathewson, possibly the greatest pitcher of any time, husky athlete of the Giants and author of "Pitching in a Pinch," died of tuberculosis in his forties. In many other vocations in life, these would be but beginning their careers. Los Angeles is full of retired sportsmen in the prime of life.

DEATH TO THRIFT

Socialists in other countries repudiate the action of the Russian soviet in summarily executing ten citizens who had been found guilty of saving money. The unfortunates had been unwise enough to retain in their possession some small quantities of the coin and currency of other countries. This is treason to the Russian commune and by using the executioner they are bringing the fact home to the people. But other folks will think this is a high price to pay for the practice of thrift.

THE CREW OF THE COAMO

Out of the wrath and pillage of the West Indian hurricane which laid Santo Domingo in ruins comes a story of man's ability to face nature, in its blackest moods, to shed at least one ray of light on that scene of death and destruction.

The tornado able to wreck a city was powerless against the little ship Coamo, though it had to fight the fury of the waves added to the violence of the wind. The Coamo plunged through the hurricane at its worst and made port in safety.

Inspiring as is the story of the Coamo's battle with the sea and the tempest, it tells of something even better than how a master saved the lives of the wards intrusted to his care in a life and death struggle with the elements. It has given us a slogan that ought to be engraved indelibly in all rules and regulations to govern human conduct.

That slogan came from the lips of the skipper, Capt. Evans, in answer to a letter of praise and gratitude from the passengers of the Coamo. It contains in a few words the secret of every successful effort by which the race has raised itself from savagery to godhood.

"With a good crew you can weather any storm."

Nothing but a good crew could have saved the Coamo in its hour of deadly peril. The best skipper in the world single-handed could not have performed this miracle.

Many a phrase has become a household proverb less worthy of preserving than this tribute of gallant Capt. Evans to the source of his reliance.

It is a motto everyone should take to heart. It points the difference between a dictatorship and a democracy and explains why only the latter is enduring. It applies to the permanence of a national government and with equal force to the survival of a little local business.

Trials may come—leaders may pass away—strong institutions may be caught in the drive of the tempest—whole nations may plough through seas as heavy as those encountered by Capt. Evans who could not see for waves and rain the foremast from the bridge.

But "with a good crew you can weather any storm."

OUR PRISONERS—THE INDIANS

Despite President Hoover's idealistic and enlightened efforts, Indian affairs seem to be in a worse mess than ever. Professional politicians for whom the Indian Bureau is a grand pork barrel and professional "friends of the Indian" are doing their best to make a failure of the administrations of Commissioners Rhodes and Scattergood.

Both of these men are men of big-business affairs who undertook the Indian job at great personal sacrifice and at the firm insistence of President Hoover. He didn't offer them the jobs; he virtually ordered them into the jobs.

A Senatorial investigating committee has used up months of time and taken more than 3000 pages of printed testimony of witnesses telling the outrages against the Indians. The only valuable testimony in this vast ocean of blahblah was given by Paul Medicine Body and Basil Claymore (both Sioux Indians,) who said all they wanted was for the Indians to be turned loose by the government and be allowed to sink or swim.

The truth is, the time has come when the Indians should no longer be "wards of the nation."

Present conditions are as follows: Out of 350,000 Indians, approximately 250,000 are virtually held prisoners on reservations. They cannot spend their own money. They cannot even admit persons to membership to their own tribes except by act of Congress. Property valued at $1,500,000,000 belonging to the Indians is kept from them by the government. They are deprived of their constitutional rights to bequeath property; these matters (the right of determining their own heirs) are settled by the Indian Bureau.

When the white men first came in contact with the Indians, they found the plains Indians living a seminomadic life. Each tribe had an area of its own—fixed partly by intertribal treaty, partly by war-defense measures. The Indians of the Southwest were living, for the most part, in towns, supporting themselves by agriculture.

The invasion of the hunting grounds by white men meant ruin for the buffalo-hunting plains Indians. They fought a long war of defense in which their leaders showed in almost every instance a superiority of brains and military knowledge over the white soldiers. They were, however, overwhelmed by numbers.

With their final surrender in 1871 they became "wards of the nation"—under an Indian Bureau and prisoners on reservations. This Indian Bureau has been the darling child of the politicians on account of the patronage jobs it offered. They will fight to the last ditch to prevent its abolishment.

The plan of Secretary of the Interior Wilbur is to distribute land to the Indians, alternating their farms with the white settlers. Each has much to learn from the other.

This will mean breaking up the old tribes. That is inevitable. The Indians were a great people—idealistic, of high religious and philosophical understanding. But the time of the tribes has passed.

The ethical and ethnological foundation of the Indian tribe is the clan system—the rule that no one might marry in his own clan—the defense against racial deterioration by inbreeding. The time has come when it would be well—and one says it sadly—for the Indian blood to mix with other bloods. For Indian standards to amalgamate with other standards; for the Indian to come into the game.

If this happens, the Indians will lose their property in many instances. They will be suckers in the hands of white adventurers.

But every day that they are held apart, the danger becomes greater. This may not be the case with Southwest Indians. They have always lived in fixed villages with agricultural crops. Contact with civilization does not change their lives.

We have torn away children from Indian parents to educate them in the ways of white men at Indian schools; in most cases, they have gone back to blankets.

They should be put into schools with white children; given a reasonable period of time to learn the rules of the terrific, brutal game that passes for the white man's civilization. Then the Indian should be turned loose to shift for himself—to sink or swim as the Sioux suggested.

It is a reasonable prediction that they will succeed just to the extent that the Indian woman takes her place among her white sisters. She is the hope of the whole situation.

IN HIS CUP

Sir Thomas Lipton has had nothing but tea in his cup for seventy-nine years. Back in 1851 the yacht America won the cup in the race around the Isle of Wight and it has been Uncle Sam's keepsake ever since. Britannia claims to rule the wave; but she was outpointed more than three-quarters of a century ago. At each attempt to lift the trophy the British sailors have gone back home without cargo, save teacups.

Sir Thomas Lipton was just 1 year old when the cup was brought to America. In 1899 he built his first Shamrock. The American defender was the Columbia. It won three straight races easily.

The Shamrock II came across pointing her prow high in 1901. The same Columbia was still good enough to keep the cup on this side of the Atlantic. However, victory was a matter of seconds and so there was little to brag about.

Then Shamrock III invaded our three-mile limit seeking to wrest honors from the Reliance. This defender was a freak of scow type with a tremendous spread of sail—16,000 square feet. It took a Yankee to be original and daring in his boat building and the Britisher never had a chance.

In 1914 the Shamrock IV set sail for our coasts in tow of Sir Thomas's steam yacht Erin along about the middle of July. While in midocean, war was declared and the challenger was docked in New York Harbor for six years. In 1920 the races were run off and the English won the first two heats and it looked as though Britannia would rule the wave again. But the Resolute came from behind and swept the seas in the remaining three contests.

Now the Shamrock V comes in high hopes with remarkable pacing and racing qualities. But she is yet a question mark!

Sir Thomas is a good sport. In all his defeats he has been a good loser. The only thing harder to be than a good loser is a good winner. He may have his chance at this job this year. He always comes back. He is now 80 years of age and if he were to win, there would be no great sorrow even in America.

MISS MUSSOLINI

During a sudden summer thunderstorm that swept over Rome, Italy, four bolts of lightning struck at various points. One hit the column of Marcus Aurelius; a second, the Palazzo Chigi; a third, a hotel, and the fourth, the famous Porta Pia. Since lightning usually goes after the highest points, how did these electric demonstrations miss Mussolini? Possibly because lightning never strikes twice the same place!

THE MINNOW
By James J. Montague

The minnow has small chance in life;
His lot is one of grief and strife.

All fish in river, lake or sea,
Are larger and more fierce than he,

And have an irritating way
Of making him their daily prey.

He has to shift as best he can
For he receives no aid from man,

Who gives him not a pitying look,
But fastens him upon a hook

And throws him in the water, right
Where greedy fishes wait to bite.

No S. F. T. P. C. T. A.
Protects him in the smallest way.

For him it never is proposed
That fishing seasons shall be closed,

And when in death his fins are furled
He's known no friend in all this world,

Or never had a kindly heart
To shelter him and take his part.

And yet he has both grace and charm
And never does a bit of harm.

Except perhaps to water weeds
On which, when hungering, he feeds.

The moral something goes to show,
But what it is I do not know.

Planning a Treat

The faith the average reader has in his newspaper is a touching thing. If he sees any statement in it which he can contradict out of his own knowledge he takes delight in writing a letter to the editor to tell him what an ignoramus he is, but on practically all other statements his paper is his high authority. And when he wants to know anything it is to his paper that he turns.

Every day the Direct-U department and the Information Bureau of The Times receive numerous letters, besides telephone calls and face-to-face inquiries, on all sorts of subjects. Here is one letter Direct-U, which specializes on information about all sorts of advertised goods, received recently:

"Dear Friend: Please direct me to a store where they have fine-looking swimming suits with very low sunbacks. Also what color of a bathing suit would I look nicest in if my hair is medium brown, eyes blue-gray and complexion medium?

"Will the sun-backs be in style very long?

"Also where can you buy a nice sweater and skirt?"

Clearly, the young lady who wrote that letter was determined to add to rather than detract from our scenic beauty.

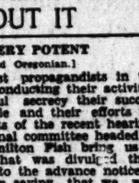
Protection of Roadside Beauty

And this reminds us of the efforts of an organization which deserves honorable mention, the California Council for the Protection of Roadside Beauty. This is an important and growing group, we are informed, and one of the things its members do is to give preference to those hotels, oil companies and merchants who do not spoil roadside beauty with unnecessary signboards.

Yesterday a hotel man who refuses to advertise by means of road signs showed us a letter of commendation he had received from the San Francisco headquarters of the council. "I didn't know there was such a council when I started," he said, "but I realised that if California wishes to continue to be a place tourists will enjoy and admire it must do something to stop this competition in roadside sign building. Often the whole effect of what would be a thrilling view is ruined by a sign or a flock of signs. If one hotel or one merchant put up one sign, his competitor tries to put up a bigger and more impressive one, or string more of them along the road. There are so many of those signs the passing motorist does not want to see that they confuse him and make him miss the road signs he must see for safety and convenience. At first I lost business by refusing to put signs along the highway. My competitors put up signs at nearly every turn and thoughtless motorists took it for granted that one or the other of them had the best hotel here. But I find that most people planning trips now go to newspaper and automobile club information bureaus and that newspaper advertising is best because it reaches more people and offends nobody, while billboard advertising along highways antagonizes fully as many people as it attracts."

The Town of Gallant Cleaners

Leeside: Here in Eagle Rock they're advertising the cleaning of "Plain Ladies' Dresses for 75 Cents." They ought to clean a dress for a beautiful lady for practically nothing.—B. M.



Joshua Little Says:

I may decide to take up infantile golf because it's a game really worth the time, but I never will try it just because everybody else is doing it.

People with something in their heads don't have to be entertained much, but people with nothing in their heads are wholly dependent on entertainment provided by others. So when people try too hard to entertain me I know what class they think I'm in—as well as what class they're in.

We used to say that if wishes were horses beggars could ride. And since the installment plan made wishes motor cars they surely do.

Now that the dust the primary has raised has settled so that we can see clearly, we find that a lot of the opposing candidates we thought had horns are rather nice fellows who haven't even got much hair.

One of the most wholesome effects the average man gets from his vacation comes from seeing how well the office got along without him for a few weeks.

Night baseball has its good points. But if it takes well enough the managers soon will have the ball players working two or three times a day, like vaudeville artists.

It isn't a matter capitalism or Socialism can correct. As long as some of us are good managers and others aren't, some will get along well and others won't.

If any inspired theorist could arrange the world so perfectly that none of us would have any hardships to overcome, why pretty soon we wouldn't have any real men and women, either.

LETTERS TO The Times

Protected Her Name

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Today's morning papers all carried a news item about a young girl who left her 3-months-old baby on a front porch at Vermont and Adams with a note asking that the baby be cared for until she could get a job.

The girl signed her name to the note, but in the copy of the note given in the news item The Times omitted her name, whereas all the other papers copied the note in full—name and all.

The Times is certainly entitled to a great deal of credit for its intelligent attitude in this little matter.

It is very heartening to observe that a big newspaper like the Los Angeles Times in the rush of business gives due consideration to the protection of a poor, unfortunate 17-year-old mother by holding back her name and at the same time giving the public all the news it is entitled to.

Some of these newspapers profess a great deal of sympathy for the under dog, but little things like the above mentioned allow the public to draw a striking comparison between the sturdy loyalty of The Times and the loud, hollow braying of the self-appointed protectors of the downtrodden and oppressed.

GEORGE McFADDEN.

Mixed His Oxides

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I would like to comment on a slight error made by Edgar Wallace in his story, "Stealer of Marble," which appeared in today's Times.

He says that when marble chips are combined with hydrochloric acid, carbon monoxide is formed. That is quite impossible. According to the chemical equations and personal chemical experiments carbon monoxide never is formed. CO2 is carbon dioxide and not carbon monoxide.

BEATRICE LIPOW.

Let the Wets Read 'Em

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to heartily commend the articles on prohibition in last Sunday's and yesterday's Times and I am sure they will meet the views of those who believe in obeying the laws of their country and will also offset the propaganda of the wet Hearst papers.

A. W. BECKER.

Would Card Index Us All

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The first step in our difficult fight with crime should be in my opinion the registration of every individual in the nation above the age of 18 in a register at the disposal of and conducted by our public crime detectors. Each individual registration to contain whatever information necessary for the assistance of the crime detectors. It would have the name, age, address, occupation, place of employment, whether employed or unemployed, if unemployed means of sustenance. The registrant would be given a card containing these facts after they had been duly investigated. In case anything occurs to our registrant that conflicts with the information on his card he would report such facts to the crime detector.

Such a plan would work no particular hardship on the honest and honorable and would be an invaluable means of assistance to the crime detectors.

The criminal would have to be very circumspect, indeed, to accomplish his end under such a condition, as it would be necessary for all suspects to check their activities in respect to their registration cards.

THIS ONE THING

I've quit the plush-lined steamers—
Their jazz bands and their streamers.
I've found a ship that's better
For this lad's peace of mind.

I mean the petrol tanker,
For I feel, when she lifts anchor,
I shall not be cast swimming
A thousand miles from land.

The fear of death is silly,
For we're going, willy-nilly;
Why, of my thousand grandsires,
Not one is now top-side.

Aye, the gas boat's end is swift,
And there's none that's left adrift;
No fighting 'round the small boats,
No gurgling in the tide;

She gives one shout of thunder
As she splits her deck asunder;
And when the echo dies away
There's nothing left behind.

I'm off the plush-lined steamers,
With their jazz bands and their streamers,
To work a ship that's better
For this lad's peace of mind.

WILLIAM H. SPAULDING.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

NOT VERY POTENT
[Portland Oregonian.]

Unless Communist propagandists in the United States are conducting their activities in highly successful secrecy their success thus far is negligible and their efforts not very potent. Results of the recent hearings before a Congressional committee headed by Representative Hamilton Fish bring us to this conclusion. What was divulged there failed to come up to the advance notice of those who had been saying that we were living in a fool's paradise of fancied security while a red-handled Damoclean sword hung just above our heads.

The best estimate that could be made by witnesses at the hearing after careful investigation was that the total number of professed Communists in the whole United States is about 20,000.

Representative Fish and his committee have not concluded their investigations. They are going to tour the country in pursuit of them and the Pacific Coast is on their itinerary. This is well, perhaps. It is likely that what they find hereafter will be very like what they have found up to now—that Communist progress in the country is so scanty as to be almost negligible. The whole result will be reassuring to nervous folk and from that standpoint will be worth while. For if Communism cannot make substantial progress at such a time as the present, when economic conditions are abnormal and there is more unemployment than usual, certainly it will fade to practical nothingness in ordinary times. Its comparative handful of propagandists have hoped they could capitalize an untoward industrial situation. They have found themselves impotent.

This country is not fallow ground for the sowing of widespread discontent. The background is not favorable for it.

THE YOUNG TENNIS PRINCESS
[From the Brooklyn Eagle]

Betty Nuthall's victory at Forest Hills makes her the titular woman tennis champion of America. The 19-year-old English girl deserves the honor that is hers. For the present, however, she must be regarded as the crown princess rather than a new queen of the courts.

In the previous tournaments the English girl has been slowly but surely forging toward the championship goal. By last year it had become evident that she was Helen Wills's most dangerous opponent. The failure of the latter, now Mrs. Moody, to defend her title this year made Betty the favorite before play started.

Tennis enthusiasts are happy to have Betty Nuthall win. She is a remarkable player, despite her youth, and is of real championship mettle. That she could have won from the former champion this year may well be doubted. The new champion will no doubt be called to face Helen later. In such a contest the title may be taken from her, but she is young enough to look forward with confidence to winning, even from the phenomenal California girl who has so long been invincible.

HIS LIMITED FIELD
[From the Washington Star]

An author and sociological expert got his material for an address on economic problems up at Williamstown by donning disreputable garments and mingling with the unemployed. He got only one side of it. To compensate he should have attended a series of Long Island house parties.

VOICELESS CHINA
BY CARROLL LUNT

In speaking of China I do not mean the groups who constitute the provincial and central administrations. I mean the silent sufferers who year in and year out pay what is demanded of them and bow listless heads to the atrocities practiced upon them by their oppressors. And these constitute the hundreds of millions, the voiceless units which move and have their being on a soil they work for the small share of sustenance it affords and which they are allowed to retain.

In those moments of rest they snatch from their labors, and when marauding soldiers are not busy with their womenfolk, cattle and grain, it is pretty certain that with such spirit as has not been crushed out they give silent utterance to prayers for relief. With their women and young girls weeping in the dark corners of their hovels, their young sons silent and stunned by the violences they have witnessed, the men of China's thousands of villages and towns must be moved to the point their poorly sustained bodies and minds permit to pray for something, anything, that will save them from this continuous injustice.

China's House of Cards

For payment of taxes they are promised protection which is seldom if ever afforded and these taxes are frequently paid years in advance. Local officials are promised protection by officials who are promised protection in turn on and up the long line until it reaches the central authority at Nanking or wherever the central authority may be situated. And like the house of cards whose pivotal point collapses, tumbling the house all about it, so does this central authority fall with the inevitable result of failure all along the line. Laid itself on a slippery and insecure foundation this pivotal point of the house of China, the central authority, falls when the wind blows and is propped and bolstered up again because of the advantage that accrues to the vantage point without any idea at all as to permanence. It is not much concerned about the rest of the house only so long as round and about it those who manipulate the other cards labor in keeping some semblance of a house together.

To expect anything different, therefore, than what is transpiring in China today so far as the welfare of the Chinese people is concerned is to expect warmth from a blizzard. As the tong wars in the United States and the community discord in Hawaii prove, the Chinese are unable to work collectively for any purpose whatsoever and as voiceless China is utterly incapable of combining effectively to command a people's government, so is the government entirely unable to get provincial governments under its wing so that it can govern undisputed.

Democracy a Myth

While I do not believe in the actual working of a government of, for and by the people because there is no such thing as democracy (even the great United States being actually governed by a shrewd and powerful minority as any country should be governed that wishes for sufficient power to make its people strong and wealthy and itself an arbiter in the realm of internationalism,) I am sufficiently concerned about the welfare of the voiceless millions of Chinese to wish that the minority government, present, past or future which has, does and will abuse power, shall be superseded by a government pushed into office by the will of the people. In China, of course, as in most countries, this is impossible. But that is no reason why world progress shall be retarded and a country languish in misery. The people are certainly not in a position to rid themselves of their bloodsuckers and never will be because centuries of experience has taught them that if they do not take care of themselves individually they will perish and people concerned about their own selfish interests, their immediate interests, having no care for tomorrow which may never come, never can work collectively for any patriotic purpose.

What then is the alternative? Yearning for some sort of intervention, as it is quite certain the suffering millions do, and being without hope of ever getting it in any sort of beneficial form from their own authorities, themselves helpless in the way of effecting any constructive work, who is there that will put ears to the ground and hear the dying murmurs of the voiceless millions. If not the League of Nations we do not know what it is body was formed for. Here in China are millions of people being hacked about and killed, enslaved and maltreated, overtaxed and humbled into the dust day in and day out with never a hope that their soundless prayers will bring any response. Will not the League do something for them? If not from humanitarian considerations, then for economic considerations?

If it does not what is now in itself a hopeless case will continue to be a hopeless case until the situation becomes so intolerable to the rest of the world; or to the nation or nations most vitally affected, that action of some sort will be inevitable.

PEACE-TIME MANEUVERS

Honduras has found a way of keeping busy its hosts of generals—more numerous than the famous Kentucky colonels. On the theory that an idle general is a menace to peace, the old military chaps have all been made superintendents of road-mending gangs, and are so tired at night that they don't even talk about past wars. The generals are said to take quite naturally to the job of bossing.

ALONE IN THE WORLD

The poor prisoner was all alone in the world with no one to guide him, except the warden and a few dozen guards. To him came a lawyer assigned by the court.

"Now, brother," said the legal gent, "I'm defending you, but this business is going to cost money. What have you got?"

"Ain't got no cash," the imprisoned one returned. "All I got is a 1922 Ford car."

"M-m-m-m, that will help a little. We can raise some money on that. Now, I'm not quite clear on this case. What is it that you are accused of stealing?"

"A 1923 Ford car."—[Exchange.

IDEAS OF FUN

My neighbor Jinx is rather queer, his mate I saw; month after month after year, he's tangled in law. He's bringing suit or being sued, which fills him with delight; and he will go around and brood if there's no suit in sight. The least thing will stir him up to heights of legal woe; he'll sue the meat man if he kicks his pup, who stepped on his toe. He seems a fellow of joyous wight, he's happy as a bird; though such a man may reach delight to me seems quite absurd. I fear I would be throwing fits in sorrow over it, may, if bailiffs came around with writs and warrants every day. But what is pleasure to a man is meat to t'other boy; each must strive as best he can to find things to enjoy. And my neighbor likes to tell of the less things he's shot; he's hunted where the cold is keen, he's hunted where it's hot. He's slain the moose and the caribou, the wombat and the kiwi, the warthog and the aardvark, the eroc, and lions three or two. He has a lot of stuffed gazelles and other beasts of prey, and during anecdotes he tells through the summer day. I can't understand at all what makes a man can find in shooting things that run or crawl, or lizard or the hind. To go stalking and scatter death small animals to tion gives; I would not like to stop the breath of anything that lives. In anger I may swat a fly that seems to have no critter but I would make no offense that gives me no pleasure; I doubt my neighbors look at me and say, "That poor old geezer! He keeps on sitting in a tree all til he's sick and tired." He has his way of having fun, and ways are sad to see, and when all is said and done, the blessed country's free.

Dr. Edward H. Williams, of the psychopathic department of General Hospital, testified that from his observation of Mrs. Collins, while she was not insane, her nervousness might have justified Capt. Jones in doubting her mental condition.

ALIENISTS TESTIFY

Dr. Victor Parkin and Dr. Edward H. Williams, members of the lunacy commission, were called by the defense, which propounded a long hypothetical question. It was: That assuming Mrs. Collins had been in doubt about the boy's identity, had taken him into her home three weeks, and had acted unemotionally, and that assuming her sister once complained to police that she was "queer," what was their opinion of her mental condition?

The alienists answered that, assuming such were true, they would conclude she was of abnormal, confused mind, bordering on insanity, if not actually insane.

Mrs. Collins's collapse on the witness stand followed when her attorney, S. S. Hahn, showed her a photograph of her son. She testified that she had not seen Walter's picture for two years.

A jury of eight men and four women is hearing the case in Judge Hahn's court.

LIQUOR BLAMED FOR DEMISE

Death of Drinker Occurs as Police Chief Boasts of Cut in Rum Selling

Coincident with an announcement made by Chief of Police Steckel that there has been less liquor sold by bootleggers in Los Angeles since he took office than ever before, Edward A. Collins, 42 years of age, who, acquaintances said, was intoxicated for a week, died yesterday morning from suspected alcoholic poisoning in his room at 343 South San Pedro street.

An autopsy will be performed to determine definitely the cause of death. According to the report of Officers Toledo and Curtis the landlady said that Collins had registered August 31.

Judge Picks New Federal Grand Jury

Twenty-three men were selected from a long list yesterday by United States District Judge McCormick to act as the Federal grand jury for the fall term. Judge McCormick named S. F. Zeenbro, a banker of 418 South Ardmore street, as foreman.

The others on the jury are: J. Clem Arnold, E. B. Baker, Joseph Caunt, Johnston R. Grey, Allen D. Grant, Richard M. Griffith, John H. Jeffries, William G. Jewett, Clarence B. Kerr, Anthony J. Lauck, Walter H. Leinert, Walter C. Marston, Harry L. Messer, Robert P. Miller, Arthur Myers, E. Clair Overholtzer, F. K. Remington, John A. Russell, James H. Searles, Franklin F. Stetson, Robert Underhill and Leslie J. Webb.

The jury will start sessions next week.

Miss De Mille Wed to Fineman in Tucson, Ariz.

The marriage of Margaret De Mille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William De Mille, and niece of Cecil B. De Mille, motion-picture director, and Bernard Fowell Fineman, associate film executive, was solemnized yesterday at Tuscon, Ariz., according to dispatches from there. They were married by Superior Judge Fred W. Pickett.

In taking out a license Miss De Mille gave her age as 21 years and Fineman as 34, both giving New York as their home. Fineman and Miss De Mille appeared at the marriage license bureau shortly before noon yesterday and were wed a few minutes later.

Miss De Mille had been visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Charles Beach, on a ranch near Tucson. They originally planned on being married Christmas.

VENICE OIL PERMIT HELD UP FOR WEEK

The Council yesterday adopted ordinances granting permission to John Hess and R. K. Butler to drill for oil on property in Venice. The ordinance granting permission to C. W. Ward was delayed one week, due to the negative vote of Councilman Williams. Ward's property is west of the Speedway and close to the beach. Williams consistently has voted against permitting oil wells in this region.

DELAY DUE IN OIL PRICE ADJUSTING

New Move May Have to Await Verdicts in Suits by Government

The question of readjustment of oil prices—either the lowering of crude oil rates or increase of retail gasoline prices—yesterday faced a possible delay until after the 15th inst., pending hearing or settlement of a price-fixing suit brought by the government against nineteen companies in the United States District Court at San Francisco.

Herbert R. MacMillan, president of the California Oil and Gas Association, raised the question of price readjustment Tuesday in a letter directed to the Standard Oil Company, a copy of which was forwarded to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur.

While the price-fixing suit was pending yesterday the proposal to raise the gasoline price level apparently hung on the decision of K. R. Kingsbury, president of the Standard Oil Company of California, but at his San Francisco office no answer to MacMillan's letter was released.

C. P. Dodge, vice-president of the Texas Company, said his organization had no comment to make and a similar attitude was assumed by other major producers and refiners. Several, however, expressed belief that any change in the situation would await the outcome of the San Francisco suit.

John Amen, special assistant to the United States Attorney-General in charge of the prosecution of the suit, announced that negotiations are under way between government officials and officials of the petroleum companies which possibly will result in a settlement without trial.

MacMillan's letter suggested the price readjustment to prevent indiscriminate production and support the oil curtailment program. Fred G. Stevenot, State director of natural resources, said that he does not believe a mere change of prices will correct the difficulty confronting the oil industry.

tion of motion-picture cameraman because it brought me in contact with other women and I made them as attractive as possible. Her jealousy troubled me."

"Did you quarrel at home?" asked Judge Keetch.

"Quite a lot. We didn't quarrel in public," replied Marley. "I was unhappy because of her jealousy. My wife, being as jealous as she was, decided we had better separate. I tried to get along, but she wanted to leave. Last year I gave up my cameraman job to go east with my wife in vaudeville. I'm not, technically, a vaudevillian. When I returned here, I tried to find a job where I wouldn't be in contact with women."

Marley said he and Miss Basquette, then the widow of Sam Warner, were married January 7, 1929, at Beverly Hills, and separated June 10, last. He added that he had signed a property settlement.

Thelma Todd corroborated Marley's version of the Embassy Club episode. Miss Todd said she sat at an adjoining table that night and that she tried to soothe Miss Basquette when she overheard the spat. The actress said she had known Marley two and a half years and was familiar with the married life of the Marleys and with Mrs. Marley's jealousy.

In the property settlement Miss Basquette receives a limousine, a phaeton and a coupe and relinquishes all claim to a lot in Shoreham Heights, a coupe and a sport car. The agreement does not affect the rights of either in a $10,000 trust fund mentioned.

railroad transportation, the merchant marine and the automobile.

"I am perhaps aviation's most enthusiastic supporter in the country today," he declared. "But I realize its limitations. Eventually, when all the 'bugs' have been taken out of the flying business the balance of transportation will be something like this: Aircraft will be used in cases where speed only is paramount; the merchant marine for slow transport of heavy loads; the automobile for convenience at short distances, and the railroad for long-distance transportation, despite all conditions of weather and terrain.

"Aviation's greatest need today is an engine that will be as much lighter per horsepower than the present-day internal-combustion aircraft motor is lighter per horsepower than the modern locomotive. That is because in aviation there are three factors present, all of which work against the others. These are weight, or load capacity; ability of a plane to rise and fly; and speed in the air. To advance one you must sacrifice the other two."

Senator Bingham and Representative Beedy were met at the train yesterday by Robert Pritchard, newly elected vice-president of the National Aeronautics Association; D. E. McDaneld, national secretary of the National Aeronautics Association, and Col. Charles Cooke of the Chamber of Commerce. Last night the Samoan commissioners were guests of honor at a banquet in the Chamber of Commerce Building. President Austin was toastmaster at the dinner, attended by seventy-five of the Southland's aviation leaders.

DAHLIA SHOW WILL OPEN TODAY

Thousands of Blooms to be Displayed

Miss Jean Gilbert and Exhibit

FILLING both the ballroom and the foyer, the eleventh annual show of the Dahlia Society of Southern California opens at noon today in the Biltmore.

As truckloads of blooms from gardens of 200 amateur and professional exhibitors were unloaded starting at midnight last night, observers declared that the startling new colors created for this year's show have never before been approached. Entries from sixty Southern California cities also are included in the competition for hundreds of prize awards.

Show manager Frank L. Miller says that a majority of the 3000 dahlia varieties will be found in the displays. Five committees of judges will go to work at 9 a.m. today.

First public view of the show will be permitted at noon, with doors remaining open until 10 p.m. The show will reopen at 10 a.m. tomorrow, closing at 10 p.m., the two-day run being the limit for best display of the blooms.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE IN TALK-FEST

Pioneers of Organization Formed in 1901 Discuss Plans for Future

Pioneer days of the Municipal League of Los Angeles were lived over again in imagination and conversation when men who have been members of the organization since its inception October 10, 1901, met at the Alexandria yesterday to review the past and discuss plans for the future.

Nathan Newby presided and speakers included W. I. Hollingsworth, Daniel F. McGarry, David E. Spengler, I. N. Inskeep, Charles C. Davis, Theodore Martin, Anthony Pratt, John Steven, D. K. Edwards, Dr. Francis B. Kellogg and Dr. S. S. Salisbury.

A tribute to the late W. G. Cochran, first president of the league, and other officers was voiced by President R. E. Chadwick.

Speakers reviving services in the past discussed the present program which includes a solution of special assessment problems, abolition of the third degree and other prison reforms, advancement of the community's harbor, aqueduct and power enterprises, a solution of the airport problem, elimination of grade crossings, the centralizing of all city auditing in the auditor's office and others.

Indian Prince to Open Shop

One of India's most renowned collectors of rare jewelry, brocades and embroideries, Ganeshi Lall, Prince by birth, will arrive in Los Angeles within a few days, bringing with him a $5,000,000 collection, according to word brought here yesterday by Harry Morser of London, a representative of the concern.

Hollywood's world fame brings the Indian Prince to this city with the intention of opening a shop in the film capital, Morser said.

The headquarters of the company are in Agra, India. Lall is accompanied by his son, four guards, who watch his valuables, and his servants.

BANK NAMED AS GUARDIAN FOR DANCER

Petition of Mother Denied as Sally Wray Asks for Commercial Custodian

Sally Wray, blond dancer, will have a guardian for the three months elapsing until she becomes 21 years of age, but it will not be her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Schupbach, who petitioned to court to be appointed to that office, but it will be a national bank.

SALLY WRAY

Attorney A. Brigham Rose, for Miss Wray, opposed Mrs. Schupbach's petition in Superior Judge Stephens's court, yesterday, saying that Mrs. Schupbach was actuated by motives of "greed" in that she desired to get control of her daughter's salary of $175 a week. Mrs. Schupbach replied that she was afraid "designing persons" are trying to get her daughter's money—$1400 that Miss Wray has secreted in a savings account.

Attorney Rose asked that if the court appoint a guardian Miss Wray be allowed to choose it. And the dancer named her bank, the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank.

Miss Wray has contributed several thousand dollars to her mother's support since she was on the stage, it was testified, although Mrs. Schupbach has remarried and is being supported by her present husband.

MEXICO REOPENS AGENCY

Commercial Office Again Established Here to Aid Trade Between Countries

The tremendous increase of business between Southern California and Mexico is directly responsible for the reopening in Los Angeles, after a year and a half absence, of the Commercial Agency of Mexico, a nonprofit organization controlled by the Mexican government, according to Raul G. Dominguez, director of the agency.

"Los Angeles is located at a very strategic point for the transaction of commercial relations between the western coast of the United States and Mexico," Domingues said. "The consantly increasing interest of Southern California business men in Mexican trade makes it imperative to establish the agency in this city."

Plans to establish a permanent exhibit of all the products obtainable in each State in Mexico are now being made by the agency. Tentative opening of the exhibit is set for the early part of December in the display rooms of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Headquarters of the agency are suite 270-280, Chamber of Commerce Building.

CITY FISCAL SESSION DUE

Council Finance Committee, Budget Director Knox to Consider Increasing Allowances Today

Consideration of increasing the allowance to various city departments over the reduced allocations permitted in the present budget will be taken up this afternoon at a special meeting between the Finance Committee and Budget Director Knox, it was decided yesterday after Knox explained the situation to the City Council.

Due to a rigid cut in assessed valuations in the city, under the figure estimated by Mayor Porter, the Council contemplated a reduction in city taxes of $1,000,000 and set up $993,300 in a special unallocated balance, guiding the apportionment of the departments by this figure. The Mayor estimated the income at $25,000,000 and the Council at $24,000,000.

In order to determine the amount of money available to departments, Knox asked for an expression from the Council as to the figure it will transfer from the Reserve Fund. Already $1,005,000 has been taken from this fund.

Knox says he is optimistic and believes the income will approximate the first estimate, but added that if the Council believes the income will reach only $24,000,000, not another cent should be taken from the reserve.

Councilman Burns said the police and fire departments have operated within their reduced allowances but that the engineering, health and building and safety have gone over their apportionments. Councilmen Cooke, Ingram, Randall and Lewis also entered into the discussion.

KEATON'S FATE STILL IN DOUBT

Sentencing Delayed After New Trial Argument

Penalty for Flint Slaying to be Fixed Monday

Judge will Rule Then Also on Rehearing Plea

Next Monday at 10 a.m., Frank D. Keaton, slayer of Motley Flint, will learn his fate in Superior Judge Schauer's court. The sentence, which was to have been pronounced yesterday, was continued after Defense Counsel Paul B. D'Orr and Thomas Reynolds argued at length a motion for a new trial. The motion was taken under advisement by Judge Schauer and will be ruled on Monday before sentence.

With Keaton at the counsel table, D'Orr and Reynolds argued that Dep. Dist.-Atty. Burgess, who headed the prosecution, had been unfair in his closing argument to the jury in the sanity hearing which resulted in a jury of six men and six women finding Keaton sane. The entire motion for a new trial and the argument of both defense counsel were directed at Burgess and charged misconduct on his part throughout his entire argument.

Branding D'Orr's argument as ridiculous, Burgess made only a brief reply to the defense motion, after which Judge Schauer continued the matter. If the motion is denied Monday, sentence will be passed at once. Keaton may be sentenced for second-degree murder, first-degree murder with life imprisonment, or death.

During the course of the three-weeks' sanity hearing, Keaton was shown to have entered Superior Judge Collier's court on July 14 and shot down Flint, who was leaving the witness stand. Later he declared he believed Flint was responsible for his heavy losses on the stock market.

Kenyon Resigns as Civil Service Group's Chief

Explaining that his business interests prevent him from regular attendance at meetings of the Los Angeles Civil Service Commission, C. E. Kenyon, president, handed in his resignation to Mayor Porter yesterday. The resignation is to take effect at once.

Kenyon, who was appointed to the commission by former Mayor Cryer, expressed keen interest in the future of civil service for city employees in his letter of resignation, expressing the hope that it will be maintained at a high standard.

The Mayor denied that he had asked for Kenyon's resignation, but admitted that several months ago he had talked with Kenyon, urging that he should attend the weekly meetings more regularly.

Kenyon returned yesterday from a two months' absence at Lake Tahoe, where he has a summer resort.

MOTHER OF FIVE DIES AFTER TAKING POISON

Mrs. Marie Bauer, 48 years of age, was with her husband, Joseph, in the yard of their home at 7911 Topanga avenue, Van Nuys, yesterday. Suddenly she went into the house and returning a few minutes later told her husband she had swallowed poison. The husband ran for medical aid, but Mrs. Bauer, mother of five children, died within an hour. Mr. Bauer told police his wife had been ill and despondent, and that he knew of no other reason for her act.

Woman Freed on Still Charge; Relatives Held

Evidence in the State's possession connecting Mrs. Carol Roberts with a still assertedly operated at her home, 2907 Santa Rosa avenue, Altadena, was insufficient to warrant a conviction, Dept. Dist.-Atty. Coleman declared yesterday in Municipal Judge Turney's court.

Judge Turney dismissed the still charge against Mrs. Roberts but ordered her husband, Floyd Roberts, and her brother-in-law, Edward Roberts, held for Superior Court trial on similar charges. Bail was set at $1000 each.

Members of the Sheriff's dry squad said they found a 100-gallon still in operation when they raided the Roberts home.

SISTERS OF JAMES CLAN STAND FIRM

Ethel Rose Testifies in Suit of Jessie for Pay for Role Withdrawn

Yesterday the James sisters held sway in Superior Judge Mahon's court, where Miss Jessie Estelle James, granddaughter of Jesse James, is suing for $85,000 alleging that her sister Ethel Rose James testified as a witness. Jessie James is suing Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation and the estate of Fred C. Thompson, film actor, asserting that the motion-picture producers promised her a principal role in the photoplay, "Jesse James," and then failed to keep the agreement.

Publicity photographs showing Jessie Estelle James in hoop skirts as her great-grandmother, Mrs. Zerelda Samuels, were offered in evidence. Helen Caldwell, formerly of the studio publicity department, identified the photographs as similar to those sent out to newspapers before the release of the bandit picture in which Thompson starred.

Ethel Rose James testified to conversations between studio officials and her sister in which, she asserted, Jessie was offered the Zerelda Samuels role. Rose also testified that publicity pictures of her sister in the role were sent out.

Northern Visitor

Mrs. Willard Sheldon (Kathryn Dyke Dabler) of San Francisco has been the house guest during the summer of her mother, Mrs. I. H. Thompson of St. Andrews Place.

Mrs. Thompson as manager of the Assistance League shop has had the co-operation of Mrs. Sheldon in her philanthropic work and a series of delightfully informal luncheons have been given in the league tea room during Mrs. Sheldon's visit. A coterie of her friends met there for luncheon one day this week, including Mrs. Douglas Bundy (Phyllis Flowers,) Mrs. Lindsay Gillis (Letitia Rees,) Mrs. Howard Wills and Miss Eleanor Johnson.

Approaching Marriage

Announcement was made yesterday of the details of the approaching wedding of Miss Madeline Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Campbell, 712 North Maple Drive, Beverly Hills, and John Robert Jordan of Indianapolis, whose betrothal was announced a year ago this month. The ceremony will take place Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the bride-elect's home, with Father Patrick Mullin of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Beverly Hills, officiating.

Smart formality will characterize the appointments and dress, in keeping with the hour chosen for the event. Miss Dorothy Campbell will attend her sister as maid of honor. Mrs. David Spangler will be matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be the Misses Jeannette and Jean Monroe. Richard Jordan will serve his brother as best man and Frederick Olson, Carroll Lewis and Thomas Luckett will usher.

The bride-elect was graduated from the Hollywood School for Girls and Mr. Jordan attended Notre Dame. They will make their home in this city following a honeymoon at the Circle V Ranch in Arizona.

Inman-Bartos Nuptials

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Prickes, 810 South Kenmore avenue Saturday evening a wedding marked by simplicity and beauty was that of Miss Angela Bartos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Bartos of Minneapolis, and Milton W. Inman, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Inman of 1712 South Second street, Alhambra. They were united in marriage by Rev. Edwin P. Ryland.

Mrs. Prickes, who is a sister of the bride, entertained the wedding guests and attended her sister as matron of honor.

Mrs. Inman was graduated from St. Joseph's at Minneapolis and Mr. Inman is an alumnus of the University of Southern California, where he was affiliated with Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Frederick Warde Celebrates

The veteran Shakespearean actor, Frederick Warde, celebrated the sixty-third anniversary of his first appearance on the stage by a family reunion at his residence, Wardesden, North White Lake, New York, recently. Mr. Warde, who is in his eightieth year, received the degree of Doctor of Letters from the University of Southern California, and was subsequently appointed an honorary member of the faculty.

ARE YOU A MILLIONAIRE?

IF YOU ARE, perhaps you can afford to be reckless with silk lingerie and stockings, even though it may not be very sensible. But most of us have to be careful.

When you wash fine things, only a pure soap should be used. That's just what White King is—soap made from vegetable and nut oils good enough to eat. It's as pure as soap can be—safe for the most delicate ginghams and prints, effective for the heaviest woolens, kind to the most tender hands. Even in hard or lukewarm water it forms quick, rich suds, cleanses thoroughly, and swiftly rinses away.

Try White King today. It solves every household washing problem. And it's economical—a teaspoonful for the wash basin, a cupful for the washing machine. You won't need more. It's condensed. Sold by your grocer.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

FISH FOODS ARE ECONOMICAL PROTEINS

Fish are such valuable articles of diet that they deserve a place on the family menu on other days besides Friday. The meat of fish is usually less expensive than many of the cuts of meat, but it is just as nourishing. In fact, the composition of fish closely resembles that of lean meat and contains no starch.

Fish is rich in potassium, phosphorous and sulphur, but deficient in sodium, iron and silicon. For this reason it should be used in combination with leafy vegetables since they will supply the needed elements. The salt-water fish, especially, offer varying degrees of iodine which is valuable in preventing goiter.

The best way to buy fish is in fillet form. These fish fillets consist of the muscular parts of the fish which are cleaned, boned and wrapped to come to the kitchen all ready to be used. Among the more easily digested fishes, you will find the sole halibut, sea bass, pickerel, fresh cod, tom cod, perch and black bass. These fish do not contain as much fat as some of the other fishes, such as salmon, mackerel and herring.

Fish may be boiled, broiled, grilled, fried or stewed. Broiling and baking are the best methods to use since they preserve all of the nourishing elements and do not interfere with the digestibility of the fish. In boiling fish the water should be salted, as otherwise the fish becomes soft and breaks apart.

Fresh fish are easier to digest than that which has been pickled, smoked or canned in oil. One of the most delicious ways to serve fish is to use it with vegetables, and salad of tomatoes, lettuce and cucumbers. The malic acid of the tomatoes seems to assist in the digestion of the fish when tomatoes and fish are used at the same meal. It is best not to use starch with a fish meal, but as many cooked and raw non-starchy vegetables as desired may be used. No milk should be used with fish. Lemons seem to combine tastily with fish and are often used as a garnish.

Great care should be used in selecting fish. With a fresh fish the skin and eyes are bright, the fins firm, the flesh a good color and does not retain a mark when pressing the finger on it, while the odor is clean and sound.

Use more fish, and you will find that it lowers the food cost, offers variety, and has a delicate different flavor which your family will enjoy.

LECTURE COURSE OPEN

The first of a series of Friday evening lectures at Sentous Evening High School, 1205 West Pico street, will be given tomorrow in Room 312. "Types of Personality" is announced as the opening subject.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

The Times' free cooking school conducted by Chef Wyman has been discontinued for the summer. Date for resuming has not been set but will be announced later.

FRICO SPANISH

Cover the bottom of an oiled casserole with a layer of thinly sliced raw potatoes, place over them a layer of thinly sliced raw onions, sprinkle with chopped green pepper and sprinkle with bread crumbs, season with salt and paprika and a few grains of chili powder, place over this a layer of ground steak and repeat these layers until the dish is filled, having the last layer of potatoes, then pour over two cupfuls of thin cream, or rich milk; cover the casserole and bake in a moderate oven until the potatoes are tender, removing the cover a few minutes before taking from the oven, so that the top will brown, serve with a Spanish sauce.

SPANISH SAUCE

Place in a saute pan five tablespoonfuls of oil, to this add one finely chopped onion, one finely chopped green pepper, from which the veins and seeds have been removed; one finely chopped clove of garlic, four tablspoonfuls of chopped celery, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley; allow the mixture to cook until the onion is tender but not brown, then add one tablespoonful of chili powder that has been dissolved in two tablespoonfuls of cold water. Season with salt and paprika, add two cupfuls of tomato puree and allow to simmer slowly for at least one hour.

ORANGE ICE BOX CAKE

One-fourth cupful of orange juice, one-half cupful of orange cubes, three-fourths cupful of orange juice, twelve marshmallows, cut in eight pieces, one-third cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of boiling water, one cupful of whipped cream, two tablespoonfuls of plain gelatine. Place the one-fourth cupful of orange juice and the one-half cupful of boiling water and the sugar in a double boiler and, as soon as it heats, add the gelatine and stir until dissolved. Remove from the fire and add three-fourths of a cupful of orange juice and as soon as it begins to cool beat with an egg beater until light and fluffy, then add the marshmallows and orange cubes, and when it begins to harden fold in the whipped cream. Line a mold with lady fingers on the bottom and sides and pinch off any of the edges that project above the edge of the mold, pour half of the mixture in the mold, place a layer of the broken off pieces on this and cover with the remainder of the gelatine mixture, place in the ice box to harden.

TOMATO AND PINEAPPLE SALAD

Cover six cold salad plates with lettuce leaves, on the lettuce place a slice of pineapple, on the pineapple lay a slice of peeled, firm tomato. Sprinkle with salt and paprika, cover this tomato with mayonnaise and sprinkle over it finely chopped mint leaves.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammonical urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DAILY AIRING IS AN IMPORTANT CEREMONY

Baby, if born in the fall months, will probably take his first official airing at about the fourth week. Babies born in the middle of the winter may not be able to go out until they are 6 weeks of age, depending upon the climate and their own good health.

These daily airings, taken at a regular time, are not a fad or a method of showing off baby, but protect baby's vitality and stimulate his health. During the increasingly cold days of early autumn the infant adjusts himself to the changes in temperature so that the cold days will not bother him. The baby who is kept in an even temperature and protected from all changes catches cold at the first sniff of chillier air.

The first six months are important growing and developing ones for baby and during this time lack of sunshine may give rickets a foothold. No matter how good his food, baby must have sunshine and if he is kept wrapped in blankets and never given an opportunity for airings and sunshine he will be a ready victim of this nutritional ailment.

HOW TO GIVE AIRINGS

Widely opened windows through which sunshine is pouring or a porch upon which baby's carriage can be wheeled and set in the direct sunlight are two methods of providing baby with fresh air and sunlight without actually pacing up and down the sidewalks with him. We are inclined to believe, though, that this exercise in the open air has direct benefits for the mother, too, and shouldn't be looked upon as such an arduous duty.

Baby's airing and mother's shopping hours are often tied firmly together, so it is well to warn the mother that baby can't get his allotment of sun and air if he is wrapped to the eyes and wheeled about in the super-heated air of a shop. Likewise his carriage should not be used as a carryall for packages, a warning not so far-fetched if one is to judge by the number of tiny babies one sees buried under loaves of bread, tins of coffee, packages of crackers and whatnot on their way home from the grocer's.

AVOID TOO MANY BLANKETS

Veils are an abomination for the child of any age and the practice of wrapping baby in blankets until only his eyes are visible is hardly conducive to his breathing anything fresher than his own breath.

A carriage with an adjustable hood is the most comfortable means of taking the small baby for an airing. It should be of ample size, provided with good springs and well padded with a soft pillow to prevent the inevitable jolts and jars. Baby can be dressed in hood and coat of sufficient warmth so that not more than two soft, woolen covers will be needed to keep him comfortable. Babies cannot sleep when so weighted by heavy covers that not a toe can wiggle. Remember this, when the baby cries wildly outdoors, while the tired mother says to herself: "Why can't he be good when I am martyr enough to wheel him around all afternoon?"

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE END OF THE FIGHT

Who puts his courage to the test,
Though he may lose, has done his best.

—Impy the Chipmunk.

There was nothing cowardly about Impy the black Chipmunk. This was his first fight and he was fighting another Chipmunk who was bigger and older than he. Impy was getting rather the worst of it. Yes, sir, he was getting rather the worst of it. That was quite natural. The strange Chipmunk had fought many battles. Not only was he stronger than Impy, but he knew all the tricks of fighting. Over and over they rolled on the ground, biting, kicking, scratching; ever once in a while one or the other would squeal.

Now, there was a reason why Impy fought so long and so hard. That reason was little Miss Frisky. She was watching that fight, and Impy knew it. He was fighting for her. He would have quit long ago had it not been that she was looking on. But the stranger was fighting for her, too. Yes, sir, he was so. You see, he had fallen in love with her just as Impy had. So both were fighting for her and each was sure that if he could win the fight he would win her.

Impy was growing short of wind. He was getting very, very tired. Still he fought on. Presently he knew he was beaten. He knew that the stranger was too strong for him. He knew that when he got the chance he would have to run away. He couldn't bear to think of doing such a thing with little Miss Frisky looking on. But when it was a case of his very life there was nothing else to do. He knew that if he kept on the strange Chipmunk would kill him.

Presently the stranger paused for breath. He loosened grip a little. It was Impy's chance. He made the most of it. He tore himself loose and was on his feet before you could wink an eye. Then Impy ran. Yes, sir, he ran. The other Chipmunk ran after him. Looking over his shoulder Impy saw that the other Chipmunk was gaining. Fear gave Impy speed. How his small legs did move! The next time he looked over his shoulder the stranger had stopped. Impy stopped then. He just had to. He needed a wee bit of rest. The strange Chipmunk said a lot of unpleasant things. He warned Impy never to come that way again. He told Impy that if ever he caught him again he would kill him. Impy said not a word. You see, he felt disgraced. He wasn't disgraced at all, for he had done his best; and no one who does his best is ever disgraced by failure. However, Impy felt that way.

The other Chipmunk ran after him

He ached all over. His coat was torn. He was a sorry looking Chipmunk. He wanted to get away somewhere and hide. He looked around hastily to see if little Miss Frisky was watching him. He didn't see her, but he did see the strange Chipmunk go swaggering along toward the place where he suspected little Miss Frisky was hiding. Poor Impy! You see, he really was very much in love with little Miss Frisky. It was bad enough to lose that fight, but it was worse to lose Miss Frisky; and he hadn't a doubt in the world that he had lost her.

"I'll go 'way off somewhere," said Impy to himself. "Yes, sir, I'll go 'way, 'way, 'way off. I just can't stay here. I'll give up my new home and go 'way off out in the Great World and make me a new home somewhere."

Then Impy sadly made his way home and crept down into the bedroom he had taken so much pride in. And there he licked his wounds and then curled up in his bed.

INQUEST FAILS TO CLEAR UP ACCIDENT

Following an inquest into the death of Charles Sutton, 29 years of age, 141 Napoleon street, Playa del Rey, electrocuted last Sunday when his automobile struck and broke a light pole at Jefferson and Lincoln boulevards, causing a high-voltage wire to fall on the car, a Coroner's jury declared itself unable to determine the cause of Sutton's car leaving the roadway. Testimony at the inquiry, conducted by Deputy Coroner Kane at the undertaking parlors of Noice & Son in Culver City, developed that the pole was completely severed by the impact of the automobile.

INQUEST SCHEDULED IN AUTO-CRASH DEATH

Inquest into the death of Paul G. Rohwer, 52 years of age, 148 Louise street, North Long Beach, who died yesterday morning at the Seaside Hospital in Long Beach following injuries suffered in a traffic accident in Bellflower on the 2nd inst., is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. today at the undertaking parlors of Patterson & McQuilken, Long Beach. Rohwer, according to a Sheriff's office report, was injured when the automobile he was driving collided with one driven by Charles H. Morris, 1009 East Center street, Bellflower, at Cerritos and Center streets.

THIRTY-THREE YEARS OF WEDLOCK AT END

Thirty-three years of married life were ended yesterday when Mrs. Edwina Bush Kates obtained a divorce from Hiram Eugene Kates. They married January 17, 1897, and separated January 7, 1926. Mrs. Kates complained that during the two years preceding separation her husband developed ungovernable temper and called her terrible names in the presence of others. Superior Judge Guerin granted her a decree.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

A Real Help

If you have been asked to stay with a sick person in order to relieve a member of the family, don't feel you must entertain him or her the entire time you are there. Tell him a few things you know will interest him, but by no means keep up a steady conversation. He will ask you for more if he wants it.

Fur Cleaners

A few helps toward making last year's furs look as well as this year's:

Rub sealskin with hot salt to absorb the dirt.

Chinchilla can be cleaned with borated talcum powder with success.

Equal parts of magnesia and dry flour rubbed into white fox fur will greatly whiten it.

White or gray angora or tibet will wash in warm soapy water, but care must be taken to stretch the skin in the process of drying, to prevent cockling.

Have Money in your pocket Next Winter by putting up fruit

For the winter diet you can't have too much canned fruit. It is wholesome for everybody and adds variety to every menu.

Since pure cane sugar is exceedingly cheap and fine fruit plentiful, you will be surprised at how many jars of fruit and glasses of jelly can be put up without taxing your food budget. And next winter when you start using this fruit you will be ahead financially.

In addition to preserves, jellies and conserves, fruit is decidedly worth while to make some delicious salads. These are tasty accompaniments for meat and fish.

Plan now to put up fruit. Just look at the price of sugar and you'll see that fruit is real economy. A full pantry makes the mind easy. The Sugar Institute utility of advertising as a factor in the structure but as it affects the interests of the public is the general theme of a series of educational radio broadcasts which for the next eight months will form a part of the extension work of the Los Angeles Advertising Club.

An address on "The Dollar Value of Advertising to Housewife" by Leigh Gross, of the food department of Gross & Logan, which was broadcast yesterday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m., inaugurated the series. The educational broadcast by station KHJ by remote control from the auditorium of the University of California on the university campus.

SPEAKERS TO TALK

Two of yesterday's interesting speakers for the series will be drawn from among the members of the advertising fraternity in Los Angeles. The subject and address in the series will be delivered every Wednesday afternoon, each week in May" and "Advertising on the air at 4 p.m.

Among other topics which it is known will be discussed during the series are: "How Advertising Makes Possible the Dissemination of News from our Daily Newspapers" and "How Agricultural and Horticultural Products are Distributed Through the Medium of Advertising."

KEYNOTE GIVEN

"As this partial list of subjects indicates, the talks will be essentially educational in their nature and are intended to show how advertising is a strong, legitimate and worth-while economic force in our modern mode of living," it was stated yesterday by Mr. Lockwood, who is chairman of the advertising agencies committee of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles, which is aiding the university in directing the series.

At the outset of the inaugural talk in the series yesterday, Mr. Crosby admitted that it is fair to ask whether the $1,250,000 which will be spent, in this country this year on advertising will benefit the ultimate consumer. He answered the question with an emphatic affirmative.

LIVING STANDARDS

It is indisputable, he said, that standards of living are higher today than they were in the days of our grandfathers and that this situation is due to the fact that the average man and woman today can afford to have myriad things which in that older day would have been considered luxuries for the very wealthy.

Mass production, he pointed out, is the explanation for the manufacture of these comforts of living at prices which put them within the reach of the average man and woman. Mass production in turn, he then showed, is dependent on mass sale.

"And," he continued, "mass sale is dependent on a product being known by not a town or a county, but by a nation. And not only known, but known to be good and backed in quality by its maker.

"What force, then, has made this mass knowledge of a product and this national confidence in a brand possible?

"That force is advertising."

INVENTIONS FOSTERED

Another benefit which the speaker traced to advertising is the fact that "the profits to the man who can place before us by advertising a superior article and produce it in large quantity have given a great impetus to invention and improvement in the things of everyday life."

A third benefit to which Mr. Crosby called attention is the guarantee of quality which is insured by the manufacturer's inevitable reluctance to cheat or skimp on his product after he has spent millions of dollars in gaining the consumer's confidence in his brand.

"So nationally advertised and branded merchandise has to be right," he said. "The manufacturer loses too much money if it isn't. He bets his millions that we'll like his product—and if we don't he loses."

LITTLE TERRY TARRIES WHILE POLICE HUNT MA

"Where you goin, sonny?"

A handsome little boy about 3 years of age, with blond locks and big brown eyes, looked up bewildered yesterday as he heard that query addressed to him in a kindly voice by a policeman at Sixth and Bixel streets.

"Huh?"

"I said 'Where you goin'?" Officer Clark repeated.

The little fellow just hung his head and fidgeted bashfully with the blue rompers he was wearing. And Officer Clark knew then that he was lost.

"What's your name, little man?"

"Terry."

"Terry what?"

"Terry."

"Well, Terry," said the policeman, "I guess we'll have to find your mama and papa for you." Then he trundled the lad off to Juvenile Hall, while police looked for his parents.

Not long afterward a woman caller identified the tot as Terry Payton of 409 Bixel street. She said she was a neighbor and explained that Terry's mother is employed. Authorities turned Terry over to her and last night he was in his own bed.

MINISTER CALLED TO PULPIT HERE

REV. and MRS. F.B. FAGERBURG

NEW PASTOR OF BAPTISTS DUE SOON

Rev. Frank B. Fagerburg to Preach at First Church Week from Sunday

Rev. Frank B. Fagerburg, who has resigned the pastorate of the First Baptist Church at Springfield, Ill., to become pastor of the First Baptist Church of Los Angeles, will arrive in Los Angeles on the 18th inst., and will preach his first sermon to his new congregation on the morning of the 21st inst. Mr. and Mrs. Fagerburg and their two children will live at 2934 Leeward avenue.

Mr. Fagerburg is a native of Missouri, received his education in Illinois and, seven years ago, after finishing his work at the seminary at Newton Center, Mass., accepted the pastorate of the church at Springfield.

First Baptist Church of Los Angeles has had no regular pastor since the resignation of Dr. Norman B. Henderson, a year ago, the pulpit, in the meantime, having been supplied by Dr. W. H. Geistweit. First Church is one of the largest churches of the Baptist denomination in the United States, with a membership of 2000.

VICTIM OF WOMAN NOT HER SPOUSE

'Mrs. Bailey' Not Married to Man She Shot in Rage of Jealousy, She Says

Admitting, according to Sheriff's office investigators, that she is not married to Frank J. Bailey, 30 years of age, of Clearwater, near death in General Hospital from a gunshot wound through the body, Mrs. Lucille Gay Bailey, 23, last night faced the possibility of answering a formal charge of shooting Bailey.

The matter of a complaint against Mrs. Bailey will be taken up with the District Attorney, Acting Captain Hunter of the Sheriff's homicide detail said. In the meantime the woman is being held in a prison ward of the General Hospital while undergoing treatment for a bullet wound, inflicted by herself after she had shot Bailey in a fit of jealousy early last Sunday morning, according to a confession, Deputy Sheriffs Cloud and Morrell reported obtaining from her.

Cloud reported yesterday that a check of marriage records discloses that Bailey is legally married to Mrs. Florence Graham Bailey of Long Beach.

In her purported confession Mrs. Lucille Gay Bailey told investigators that she became jealous when she saw another woman in Bailey's automobile in Long Beach and after shooting him beneath the heart turned the gun on herself in a suicide attempt, according to Sheriff's records. The pair were found a few hours later in a house they occupied at Clearwater.

Bailey's condition was pronounced grave at the hospital yesterday.

KANSANS GATHER SATURDAY

Final call was issued yesterday for the fall picnic of Kansans of Southern California all day Saturday in Sycamore Grove Park.

NEW ENTRY FOR POLICE CHIEF POST

George E. Friend Files Application to Take Test for Position

One more application to take the test for Chief of Police of Los Angeles, which will be held on the 18th and 19th inst., was filed with the Civil Service Department yesterday in addition to that of Chief Steckel. The applicant is George E. Friend, 49 years of age, of 873 West Forty-first Drive.

Friend, in listing his qualifications, states he had been a detective on the Chicago force twenty years and was in international detective work for ten years for certain publishing interests, working on the Shapiro versus Henry Ford case and others, mostly for lawyers. Recently he passed the test for bailiff in the Municipal Court, but has not yet been appointed.

It is understood a number of applications will be made before the closing hour at 5 o'clock tomorrow. Captain of Detectives Cato and Charles Vernand are scheduled to file. It is reported that D. MacD. Jones, so-called "millionaire cop," who obtained a leave of absence from the Mayor's secret service squad to run for Sheriff, also will file.

The Civil Service Commission yesterday granted the request of the Police Commission for another sixty-day extension of the emergency appointment of Chief Steckel, who will have served the necessary twenty years to obtain a pension in November.

Former Mayor of Venice Held as Drunk Driver

A man who gave police the name of Clinton Parkhurst, 37 years of age, but later identified by his wife as C. Gordon Parkhurst, former Mayor of Venice, was booked last night at the Georgia-street jail on suspicion of drunk driving following a downtown automobile chase.

Parkhurst, now in the real estate business, gave his address to police as 505 Ocean Front, Venice. This is his business address, it was learned. He resides at 49 Breeze street, Venice.

Officer S. E. Fraser pursued Parkhurst in another automobile when the ex-Mayor sped through a traffic signal and around the corner of First street and Broadway last night, according to a police report. Parkhurst again eluded arrest at Temple street and Broadway and was placed in custody at New High street and Broadway when his car stalled, Fraser reported.

Police surgeons put Parkhurst through a sobriety test at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and pronounced the man as being moderately under the influence of liquor.

GILMORE OIL OPENS NEW BRANCH PLANT

Gilmore Oil Company, Ltd., has just opened a bulk distributing branch plant in San Fernando to serve the entire valley west of Burbank, C. S. Beesemyer, vice-president, announced yesterday. This is the twenty-fourth plant built by the company so far this year and another one is opening this week at Napa.

Crash Trial of Actress Delayed

Barbara Kent of 1543 North Laurel avenue, motion-picture actress, failed to appear in Municipal Judge Marchant's court yesterday on hit-and-run driving charges, but on request of Deputy City Prosecutor Chotiner, who said she had arranged with his office for a delay, was granted until the 22nd inst. to prepare for her trial.

Chotiner said she was arrested in connection with a minor traffic crash at Tamarind and Chula Vista streets, Hollywood, on May 13, last, in which her automobile slightly damaged another. She fled without giving her name or address, the prosecutor charges.

Anti Five-Finger Plea Submitted

Petition of Leonard J. Woodruff, Hollywood business man, to restrain the city from proceeding with the $5,000,000 "five-finger" improvement project was taken under submission yesterday by Division Two, District Court of Appeal.

Woodruff sought to prevent the city's taking possession of property owned by him at Ivar street and Hollywood Boulevard, charging that the city had failed to follow the 1903 street-opening act and provisions of the Civil Code requiring posting of a bond to protect property owners in cases where appeals are taken from condemnation proceedings.

Morocco 'Prince' Guilty of Theft

Alexander Light, Shakespearean drama instructor, and self-styled "Prince of Morocco," was found guilty of three counts of petty theft by a jury in Municipal Judge Bogue's court yesterday. He will be sentenced today.

Light, according to Mrs. Clara M. Fogiesong of 151 South Commonwealth avenue, accepted checks of $67.50, $55 and $20 from her on different occasions in payment for "instruction" in Shakespearean roles.

He was arrested after an audience, including Mayor Porter, walked out on his attempted production of "Hamlet" at a downtown hotel some time ago.

Gibson to Hurry from Belgium to Sick Mother

Mrs. Frank A. Gibson, mother of Hugh Gibson, American Ambassador to Belgium, last night was reported in a weaker condition at her home, 2305 Scarff street, following nearly two weeks of unconsciousness from a cerebral hemorrhage. Yesterday members of the family received word from the son that he will leave his post for a hurried trip to Los Angeles to be at the bedside of his mother.

Mrs. Gibson, who is 72 years of age, has been under hospital treatment prior to her present illness.

FILM CAST INCLUDES NOTABLES

Owen Moore, Lew Cody, Margaret Livingston Play "What a Widow" Roles

Gloria Swanson's supporting cast in "What a Widow!" which has its world premiere at the United Artists Theater tonight, includes some established screen favorites.

LEW CODY

As leading man, Miss Swanson chose Owen Moore, whose success in talking pictures has mounted steadily during the past two years. Lew Cody returns to the screen in "What a Widow!" Long popular on the silent screen, Cody now finds his earlier stage experience valuable for talkies.

Margaret Livingston, who appears as Valli, wife of Cody, is another established player. Miss Swanson also presents two young actors who are comparatively new to the screen, Gregory Gaye and Herbert Braggiotti. Others in the cast are Daphne Pollard, Adrienne D'Ambricourt, William Holden and Nella Walker.

"What a Widow!" is a modern comedy in which Miss Swanson is said to wear a greater profusion of smart clothes than she has assembled for the screen in years. In addition, she sings three songs.

Tower Theater will Begin New Policy Saturday

"Sins of the Children," which has its local premiere Saturday at the Tower Theater, returns the house to a policy of first-run presentations, and likewise brings to the talking screen for the first time Louis Mann, stage star and contehporary of Warfield and Belasco.

The new picture is a drama of American family life among the middle classes, the story revolving about the struggles of an average father to raise and educate a family which eventually drifts away from him to higher places in life. The story covers three generations, and Mann plays three ages, first as a young man, then one of middle age, and finally an aged grandfather.

GORDON RETURNS

Gavin Gordon, who appeared opposite Greta Garbo in "Romance," has returned from Ketchikan, Alaska, with the George Archainbaud troupe. The latter were engaged in filming exterior scenes for "The Silver Horde," which R.-K.-O. is producing.

FAIRBANKS OUT OF R.-K.-O. ROLE

First National Recalls Youthful Actor to Take Part; Pretentious Production Being Planned Here; Hersholt in "Sutter's Gold"

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is out of the cast of "Beau Ideal" after several days of rehearsal on the R.-K.-O. lot.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS JR.

Instead of playing this part, he must report back to Warner Brothers to start work on a sequel to "The Dawn Patrol." Starting date of "Beau Ideal" has hence been delayed while hurried tests are made in an effort to secure a substitute for young Fairbanks.

This was the succinct and interesting piece of news rushed to this desk early last evening by a breathless and dinnerless R.-K.-O. courier. The dispatch he bore read as follows:

"When verbal negotiations were opened between officials of R.-K.-O. Pictures and First National studios several weeks ago to borrow Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., for one of the leading roles in Herbert Brenon's 'Beau Ideal' no obstacles were foreseen. Young Fairbanks was anxious to play the part and both Brenon and William Le Baron, R.-K.-O. vice-president, were keenly interested in securing him.

"Verbally, the companies had come to an understanding, although formal contracts were still pending, when circumstances made it advisable for First National to put into immediate production an aviation picture which will be a sequel to 'The Dawn Patrol.'

"Because of the fact that filming of the air picture will begin almost immediately, Brenon gracefully, although reluctantly, agreed to release Fairbanks from one of the leading roles he would have shared with Ralph Forbes in 'Beau Ideal.'"

Picture Shrouded in Mystery

Yesterday was pretty much an R.-K.-O. day as far as motion-picture news was concerned. I learned from a reliable authority that one of the most pretentious and spectacular productions of the year is in process of preparation on that lot. All details of work are shrouded in mystery.

Bertram Millhauser, Vice-President Le Baron's aide-de-camp on the Amos 'n' Andy vehicle, has been devoting, it is reported, weeks to research, plans and story preparation on the production, which will employ a large and star cast and will involve unusual and entirely new technical effects. Those "in the know" seem to think the picture will be one of the biggest undertakings since "Intolerance." One report is that it will be a fantastic fable put into audible cinema form.

Millhauser has been working with Beulah Marie Dix on the scenario and a final conference preparatory to photographing the first scenes awaits Le Baron's return from New York this week.

Hersholt in "Sutter's Gold"

From a story circulated yesterday it looks as if Jean Hersholt and Universal had ironed out all their difficulties, brought about when Edward G. Robinson stepped into the Hersholt role in "East Is West."

JEAN HERSHOLT

The tale is that Carl Laemmle, Jr., is preparing to star Mr. Hersholt, one of the finest character actors of the screen, in "Sutter's Gold," a narrative of early California. The picture will be one of Universal's special productions this fall.

Hersholt is under contract, of course, to make two pictures for Halperin Brothers, but he will have ample time to make this picture should the plans, now well launched, be carried through.

Claire Luce in "Luxury"

The blond Miss Claire Luce, imported by Fox from the stage to play in "Up the River," has been given the feminine lead in "Luxury," it was announced yesterday.

CLAIRE LUCE

This is the film version of "My Lady's Dress" by Edward Knoblock, adapted by Hope Loring, Guthrie McClintic — and it may be pertinent, inasmuch as "Dishonored Lady" is at the Biltmore, to remark that he is Katharine Cornell's husband—will direct. H. B. Warner has the lead. Production will start on the 18th inst.

Milestone Yet to Sign

Lewis Milestone, back in New York after a three months' trip through Europe, wired this desk yesterday that, contrary to published reports, he hasn't signed a contract yet with either Universal or Columbia. He will stay in the East until he has seen a half-dozen plays or so in which he is interested, which will probably bring him into Hollywood about the 20th inst.

LEWIS MILESTONE

His trip marked his first visit home since he came to America. His mother and various members of his family met him in Rumania.

Duse Leading Man Cast

A former leading man for the famous Eleanor Duse has been added to the cast of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture based on the life of Jenny Lind, in which Grace Moore, the opera singer, is starred. He is Agostino Borgato, Italian stage player.

About the Lots

Maybe this has been told before, but I don't think so. Robert Ames, the leading man in "Holiday" at the Carthay Circle, will play opposite Evelyn Brent in "Madonna of the Streets" at Columbia.

Arvid E. Gillstrom, who directed the first Octavus Roy Cohen comedies for Christies, was called from New York yesterday, where he had gone on a trip to go to work again for Christie. He will direct comedy features. As many people remember, Gillstrom was one of the pioneer talkie directors and has devoted a lot of time to experimenting in the sound field.

Civic Theater Selects Plays for New Season

Selection of ten of the twelve plays which the Civic Repertory Theater will present in its annual season starting October 27 was announced yesterday by A. C. Balch, president of the Bowl Theater Association, which is sponsoring the repertory movement here. Six of the plays have been definitely selected for the first half of the season and four more have been tentatively chosen for the second half.

"The Apple Cart," by George Bernard Shaw, will be the opening presentation at the Music Box Theater, temporary home of the Civic players. This will be followed by Norman MacOwen's "The Infinite Shoeblack," Sir James Barrie's "Peter Pan," Dorothy and DuBose Heyward's "Porgy," John Galsworthy's "The Mob," and C. K. Munro's "At Mrs. Beam's."

DAVID BELASCO PRESENTS HIS SUPREME SMASHING SOPHISTICATED COMEDY SUCCESS
"IT'S A WISE CHILD"
WITH THE FLAWLESS ORIGINAL NEW YORK CAST.
4th BIG WEEK
BELASCO

COMEDIENNE WILL ENACT FARCE HERE

Charlotte Greenwood to Play at El Capitan in Stage Comedy

The popular comedienne, Charlotte Greenwood, will be welcomed to El Capitan Theater as the star of C. M. Bell and Mark Swan's farce-comedy, "Parlor Bedroom and Bath" to be presented by Henry Duffy, starting Sunday, the 21st inst. This attraction follows "The Poor Nut."

No comedienne has touched the popularity of Charlotte Greenwood, it is said, particularly with Pacific Coast audiences. She has built up a large following, starring in "So Long Letty," "Linger Longer Letty," Music Box Revue and Ritz Revue. "Her Morning Bath," a skit in which she played for several seasons, is considered a comedy high lights in vaudeville.

Miss Greenwood holds the house record for last season at El Capitan in "She Couldn't Say No," which ran for thirteen weeks. In "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" the star plays the comedy role of a persistent reporter, a character who is always in the right place at the wrong time. A supporting cast is now being chosen.

'Rain or Shine' Held Over at R.-K.-O. House

"Rain or Shine," Columbia's comedy film production, starring Joe Cook, starts the second week of its local engagement Saturday at the Orpheum. This screen feature marks the picture debut of Cook, who for several years has occupied a top position in musical comedy and vaudeville. It presents him in a rollicking comedy, based on the stage musical comedy of the same name.

"Rain or Shine" was directed by Frank Capra, who has injected into the picture naturalness and realism. While much of the comedy is of the so-called "hokum" type, it is provocative of genuine laughter, it is said.

Appearing in support of the star is a galaxy of screen and stage players, including Louise Fazenda, William Collier, Jr., Joan Peers, Tom Howard and Dave Chasen, the latter two having worked for several years with Cook on the stage.

Theater Plans Transformation for 'Big Trail'

Engineers, artists and decorators are busy at the Chinese Theater these days. Their assemblage is in line with a program calling for the complete transformation of the front end forecourt of the house to conform with the period and style represented in Raoul Walsh's Fox production, "The Big Trail," which will have its world premiere in Grandeur October 2.

Plans call for the alteration of the Chinese effect front into an old-fashioned Pioneer encampment. The archways and doorways are being disguised to represent pioneer wagons, Indian tepees and authentic decorations with original antiques used in the westward movement, 100 years ago. Ushers and attendants will be costumed in the fashions of the early days.

'Bad Man' Star to Appear on Warner Stage

Walter Huston, who plays the name role in "The Bad Man," now showing at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater, will appear in person on the stage tonight.

Huston has carved a niche for himself in the theatrical hall of fame, it is said, by his performance in the colorful role of Pancho Lopez, formerly enacted by the late Holbrook Blinn on the stage. This bad man is a sort of Robin Hood who robs the rich and helps the poor.

The original story for the play was written by Porter Emerson Browne, and the talking screen version was directed by Clarence Badger. Included in the cast are Dorothy Revier, James Rennie, O. P. Heggie, Sidney Blackmer, Marion Byron and Guinn Williams.

Intrigue and Romance Retold

Dorothy Sebastian

Supplies the love interest besides furthering the dramatic incidents of "Hell's Island," the Columbia film starting today at the Million Dollar Theater. The actress will appear on the stage tonight.

NOTED STAR TO PLAY HERE

Pauline Frederick, popular and distinguished star of stage and screen, will be seen at the Belasco Theater, starting on the 29th inst., in "The Crimson Hour," a drama by Samuel Shipman and John B. Hymer. The engagement will be limited.

Huntly Gordon will enact the featured supporting role. Reports from San Francisco where Miss Frederick is now appearing in "The Crimson Hour," indicate that the vehicle gives the star the greatest dramatic opportunity of her colorful career. Notices give the actress and the play unstinted praise, it is said.

"It's a Wise Child," the current attraction at the Belasco Theater, will close Saturday night, the 27th inst. The drama has had a successful run, and will be taken east immediately. The Belasco management feels quite satisfied with the engagement of the comdy which was prsonally sponsored by David Belasco.

The cast of "It's a Wise Child" includes Minor Watson, Mildred McCoy, Sidney Toler and other popular players.

Popular Comic to Enact Chief Role in Farce

Hailed as the ace "wise-cracker" of the talking screen, Jack Oakie appears on the Paramount Theater screen today in "Let's Go Native." Harry Gourfain's new stage show, "Varietrix," also makes its debut today, featuring Ted Leary, Auriole Craven, Earl La Vere, three Lunatics, and the Mosconi Ensemble. Irving Talbot is guest conductor.

Sharing the starring honors with Jack Oakie in "Let's Go Native" is Jeanette MacDonald. Other members of the cast are Kay Francis, Skeets Gallagher and William Austin. The story centers about a group of shipwrecked New Yorkers who find their way to a South Sea Isle.

Majestic Books 'Scarlet Pages'

Following tonight's showings of "What Men Want" on the Majestic Theater screen, "Scarlet Pages," a drama, will start tomorrow.

"Scarlet Pages" brings Elsie Ferguson back to the screen in a forceful characterization as a woman lawyer. Prominent in the cast are Marian Nixon, Grant Withers, John Halliday and Charlotte Walker. "Scarlet Pages" is adapted from the stage play of the same name.

CAMERAS START GRINDING

"Cimarron," Radio Pictures' screen epic starring Richard Dix, started production yesterday. Five thousand players, 3500 horses and mules and 1050 vehicles will be used in this picture.

'Let Us be Gay' Opens Today at Loew's State

"Let Us Be Gay," starring Norma Shearer, is the screen attraction at Loew's State Theater, starting today. Miss Shearer's popularity in "The Divorcee" has caused interest in the new production, it is said, in which she once again portrays a divorced wife. After discovering her husband's infidelity the dutiful wife takes a trip to Paris and undergoes a complete metamorphosis of personality and charm.

NORMA SHEARER

Marie Dressler, Rod La Rocque, Gilbert Emery, Hedda Hopper and Sally Eilers are also in the cast. Robert Z. Leonard directed and Frances Marion wrote the continuity and dialogue.

On the stage Pancho and Marco offer their "New Yorker" idea. Le-Roy Prinz staged the show.

TWO SIGN CONTRACTS FOR DRAMA

Francis Bushman, Aileen Pringle will Play Roles in "Thin Ice"

Francis X. Bushman and Aileen Pringle, widely known film players, have been signed for costarring roles in the next Hollywood Playhouse offering, "Thin Ice," Percival Knight's comedy drama, which is scheduled to open Wednesday night.

"Thin Ice" will mark Miss Pringle's first stage appearance in Hollywood in some time. The actress and Bushman are known to motion-picture audiences, having appeared in many films in recent years. For the past few months Bushman has devoted his time almost completely to the stage. He has the role of an English nobleman forced by circumstances to accept the position of butler with a wealthy American family.

Other players are being signed for the remaining parts in "Thin Ice" which comes to the Hollywood Playhouse following "Good Old Days," which closes Saturday night.

Last Episode of 'Lone Wolf' Starts Today

Unless, like Sherlock Holmes, he should be reincarnated, the final chapter in the adventures of the romantic crook in the mythical kingdom of Saxonia are brought to the screen in "The Last of the Lone Wolf," which starts today at the R.-K.-O. Theater.

Bert Lytell, who played the name role in the four previous episodes, again enacts the Lone Wolf. The picture is the first in the series to be made as a talkie. Patsy Ruth Miller has the feminine lead, and others of the cast are Lucien Prival, Otto Matieson and Alfred Hickman. Richard Boleslavsky directed.

The new R.-K.-O. vaudeville program has the atmosphere of a New York night club as its background. The chief attraction is Anatole Friedland's "Twelve O'clock Revue." Among the performers are Lucille Hayes, toe dancer, and Mlle. Marguerite. Also in the variety unit are Marty May, monologist; Ted and Al Waldman and Samaroff and Sonia.

Stewart's Fans Credit Him with 'Holiday' Lines

Literary followers of Donald Ogden Stewart are endeavoring to heap praises upon his head for work which he denies doing. But Stewart devotees are stubborn types, and refuse to believe their idol.

The feat is the comedy of Edward Everett Horton as Nick Potter in Philip Barry's play, "Holiday," now at the Carthay Circle Theater.

Although Barry's name is the only one to appear as author of the play, Stewart fans know that the latter played the role of Potter in the New York presentation of the play. And, they say, the humor is so typical of his written and spoken work that they refuse to believe that any but he wrote it.

Pathe studio officials explain that Barry might have had the colorful Stewart in mind for his comedy character when he constructed "Holiday." So influenced, he wrote in the nonsensical style that has made the author-actor popular.

FINISHES PART

Lucien Littlefield has completed his assignment in "Great Day." This is the production which Harry Pollard is directing for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, with Joan Crawford and John Mack Brown as the co-stars. It is understood that Littlefield's next assignment will be with Universal.

TOSSED MATCH PROVES COSTLY

Fire in Garage Burns Cars Valued at $20,000

Gasoline on Floor Ignited by Careless Customer

Employees Save Other Autos; Proprietor Injured

A lighted match tossed carelessly into a puddle of gasoline yesterday started a spectacular fire in the First-street Garage at 219 East First street, sent up in smoke a score of automobiles valued at $20,000 and threatened for a time to spread to adjacent buildings. Prompt work by garage employees saved between thirty and forty other cars from destruction.

K. Kazahaya, proprietor, was servicing an automobile when a quantity of gasoline overflowed accidentally, forming a pool on the floor. As Kazahaya started to mop up the fuel, a customer, whose identity was not learned, flipped the match with which he had just lighted a cigarette. The pool of gasoline burst instantly into flames, which soon were licking at the lines of parked cars.

While Kazahaya tried vainly to quench the flames pending arrival of the fire department, attendants rushed about slamming shut the heavy metal doors leading to sections in which other machines were stored. These were damaged only slightly. Kazahaya suffered severe burns on the arms and hands, for which he was treated at Georgia-street Hospital.

Husband Cites Wife's Suit for Balm as Cruelty

When a woman files a $50,000 heart-balm suit against another woman, and testifies in court that her husband was untrue to her, that action is cruelty—if the jury denies the balm—according to the divorce complaint of William M. Cordivenus against Mrs. Minta Cordivenus, on file yesterday.

Mrs. Cordivenus sued Mrs. Margaret Froley last year, but at the trial of the case Cordivenus testified for Mrs. Froley, denying any serious intimacies. The jury found for the defendant.

VOICE FROM TOMB AIMED AT SLAYER

Testimony of Club Clerk Taken Before He Died Accuses McCabe

The words of Henry P. Miller, murdered night clerk at the University Club, came back from the grave yesterday in Superior Judge McComb's court to accuse Wilber McCabe, alias Jerry O'Regan, of the shooting.

Miller's dying statement was introduced into the record by Bonner Richardson, deputy District Attorney. It was corroborated by Tom Connor, Los Angeles police officer, who was present at the time Miller identified McCabe as his assailant.

McCabe, former saloon-keeper at Port Said and Cairo, Egypt, is charged with attempting to rob Miller on the night of June 14, last, and fatally wounding him when he resisted the robbery by slashing McCabe with a pocket knife.

The defendant was trailed by police from the club to his apartment by blood drops on the sidewalk coming from face wounds, according to investigators.

Today additional evidence corroborating the charges will be introduced, according to Richardson.

Juan Reyna to be Tried Again in Murder Case

Juan Reyna, Mexican youth, charged with the murder of Verne Brindley, Los Angeles police officer, will be retried in Superior Judge McComb's court October 23, the court ruled yesterday. The case is reset after the jury remained hopelessly deadlocked for four days unable to reach a verdict, and was dismissed.

Reyna is accused of seizing the officer's gun and shooting him to death after he had been arrested for a traffic offense.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

Assessments were confirmed by the City Council yesterday for the improvement of Fortuna street between Fifty-seventh street and Slauson avenue, and for the improvement of Union Pacific avenue between Esperanza street and Velasco street. Consideration of the assessments for the improvement of Joy street were continued until the 16th inst. Protests were denied against establishing setback lines in San Pedro street between Vernon and Florence avenues.

AMEND FACES FIFTH ACTION

Ex-Constable of Inglewood Again Accused

New Evidence in Asserted Bail Graft Obtained

Three Cases Dismissed and One Deadlocks Jury

For the fifth time during the last year an effort will be made to file criminal charges against Harry Amend, former Inglewood constable, when evidence obtained by District Attorney's investigators is placed before the county grand jury for consideration.

In previous complaints filed by the District Attorney, Amend has been charged with grand theft, embezzlement of public funds and permitting prisoners to escape. Two of these cases were dismissed at the preliminary hearing in Municipal Court for lack of evidence. One was dismissed in Superior Court for the same reason and the fourth case went to the jury which was deadlocked and unable to reach a verdict.

Amend is accused in the old complaints of accepting bail money from offenders and freeing them from custody without turning the money over to the county or pressing criminal charges against them.

The original complaints charged grand theft and embezzlement of public funds but failing to establish these an effort was made to prosecute the former constable on a technical charge of permitting prisoners to escape under Section 108 of the Penal Code. The last of these cases was dismissed in Municipal Court ten days ago when the prosecution's principal witnesses failed to appear. These witnesses since have been found and subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury today.

OFFICIAL OF MASONS VISITS FROM INDIANA

After an absence of eight years William H. Baugh of Terre Haute, prominent Indiana Mason, is revisiting the Southland, having just attended the convention of the General Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons at Tacoma. He is the guest of his brother, Robert W. Baugh, 1521 North Allen avenue, Pasadena. In addition to being Grand High Priest of the Royal Arch Masons, Indiana, he is an honorary member of the Supreme Council, Scottish Rite.

WILL FIGHT ON TEMPLE LEGACY HOT

Attendant Says Pastor Told Her Mrs. McAdams's Mental Powers Failing

Testimony that Rev. Joseph W. Arthur said Mrs. Catherine M. McAdams's mind was failing fast was given yesterday at the hearing on the contest of Mrs. McAdams's will, which leaves the bulk of her estate to Angelus Temple and allied organizations. Superior Judge Allen of Visalia, who is hearing the case, celebrated his seventy-third birthday yesterday. He notified the contestants to conclude their case by the afternoon's adjournment.

Mrs. Mary Stevens testified that she cared for Mrs. McAdams in the latter's home during the autumn of 1929. Mrs. McAdams died December 5, 1929. The witness said that her employer often sent for Arthur, chairman of elders of Angelus Temple, named executor of the estate.

"The first time I saw him there in September, 1929, Mr. Arthur spoke to me of Mrs. McAdams's mental condition," testified Mrs. Stevens. "He said she had carried on so terribly that evening, crying. Mr. Arthur said to me, 'Isn't her mind failing fast?'"

Mrs. Stevens testified that Mrs. McAdams showed unsound mind regarding her physical condition. She was ill of cancer.

"One day she said she was healed and another day she said she was not healed," said Mrs. Stevens. She was asked about going to Angelus Temple for healing. "Once I went with Mrs. McAdams to the 500 Room."

Mrs. Opal Coenen testified that Mrs. McAdams gave her a written authorization to collect rents from her houses while she was in the hospital. The contestants seek to show that this was done after Mrs. McAdams had deeded the four houses to Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson, and that this showed that Mrs. McAdams did not understand what she was doing.

The contestant, James E. McKeand, an uncle, is represented by Pease, Ruby & Bruce. Attorney Randall J. Hood represents Arthur, Attorney N. H. Nelson represents Mrs. Marion E. McCabe, a cousin who is contesting, and Tanner, Taft & O'Dell represent the beneficiary.

Judge Studies War Ace's Plea

The probation hearing of Capt. George Reid Clifford, World War ace, was continued until today by Superior Judge Wood yesterday. Capt. Clifford is charged with snatching the purse of an elderly woman.

Friends maintain that he still is suffering from shell shock which causes him to yield to unaccountable impulses. Investigating officers assert Capt. Clifford had a large sum of money on his person at the time of his arrest.

Judge Wood is expected to decide definitely today whether the man shall be given probation or sentenced to prison.

BANDIT VICTIM NEAR TO DEATH

Another Also Badly Beaten in Series of Hold-ups

Grocer Fights Armed Pair and Thwarts Robbery

Stickups and Burglaries in City Reach High Total

Despite statements issued by Chief of Detectives Taylor that crime is decreasing, six robberies were perpetrated Tuesday night and early yesterday morning, with one victim probably fatally injured, and another beaten up when he attempted to resist a pair of bandits.

Figures compiled in Central Record Bureau show a total of forty-three robberies reported since the 1st inst., an average of nearly five a day, and a grand total of 372 since July 1, last. Reports of 123 burglaries so far this month make a total of 705 since the beginning of the fiscal year.

VICTIM NEAR DEATH

Walter L. White of 2617 Jeffries street, was the man seriously hurt. He was found lying unconscious in an alley between Idell and Huron streets by Isaac Michelson, proprietor of a rooming-house at the foregoing address. When taken to the Pasadena-avenue Receiving Hospital it was found he had a possible skull fracture. It is believed by police that he was beaten by bandits.

Bleeding from wounds on the head and staggering, H. L. Cook of 4880½ Eldred street, was picked up by Officer Blair at Sixth and Gladys streets. He stated he had been held up and slugged by two Negro bandits who robbed him of $20, after he lay helpless in the street.

INTRUDERS BATTLED

With no police officers near by to whom he might call for aid, J. A. Lynch made a desperate and successful attempt to resist the efforts of two bandits to hold him up in his grocery store at 8132 South Main street.

One of the pair, he said, had a sawed-off shotgun and threatened to "blow his head off." Instead of complying with the demand for money, Lynch snatched a revolver from a shelf under the counter and fired one shot at the armed bandit. He said he does not know whether the bullet took effect. Before he could fire a second shot the second bandit grappled with him and took his revolver away. Both bandits then fled.

W. J. Langan of 4902 South Budlong avenue, reported he was held up as he sat in his parked automobile at Sixth street and Union avenue. The bandit, he said, took $13 from his wallet with the remark that he "had several kids to feed."

A second pair of bandits held up E. M. LeFevour of 5210 South Van Ness avenue at Fifty-second street and Van Ness avenue as he was walking home from a neighborhood grocery. He lost $2.

A bandit carrying a nickel-plated revolver held up Ben Massion and Miss Ellen Young, clerk, in Massion's drug store at 500 West Third street and obtained $25 from a cash register, according to Massion's report.

During the period in which the foregoing robberies took place, burglars broke into twenty-two stores and residences, obtaining plunder valued at more than $1000. In addition twenty-five thefts from parked automobiles and unlocked dwellings were reported.

TAXI DRIVER HELD UP

William Jettie, 453 Woods avenue, Belvedere, a taxicab driver, yielded $2 to a bandit who first enjoyed a prolonged ride at his victim's expense. At Fifth street and Normandie avenue, while the meter registered nearly $10, the "passenger" forced Jettie to stop the car, rifled his pockets and disappeared on foot in the darkness.

L. Thomason, service-station attendant, reported loaing $70 in a hold-up at Beverly Boulevard and Ardmore avenue. The robbery, he said, was committed by three bandits operating in an automobile.

INDIANANS MEET SUNDAY

Former residents of Richmond, Ind., will have a picnic-reunion all day Sunday at Sycamore Grove Park.

MODEL PLANES TO COMPETE

Flying Club's Dedication Program will Include Contest for Junior Aircraft Champions

Ten winners in the recent Times Southwest Junior Aircraft championships will enter their swift little model planes in competition as part of the dedicatory program for the new $100,000 Flying Club of California at Grand Central Air Terminal Saturday afternoon, it was announced last night by Victor M. Clark, secretary-manager of the club.

The ten youngsters will shoot their hand-made ships into the air shortly after some of the nation's leading men and women flyers complete a "fly by" formation of thrills and speed on the first event of the day at 2 p.m.

Trophies and prizes donated by aviation leaders, including Jack Maddux, president, T.A.T.-Maddux Airlines, and Thomas F. Hamilton, president United Airport, will be awarded winners in the model plane contests. One of the little ships—the handiwork of Nick Rose—is a bomber, capable of dropping miniature bombs, laying a realistic smoke screen and releasing parachutes while in flight.

Other events on the opening program for the first flying club in the State include swimming races and diving exhibitions in the club's tile pool, tennis matches on the double court, and a golf tournament on the course constructed around the large clubhouse and grounds.

Following the afternoon events a buffet supper will be served in the club. Outstanding flyers who will be present include Wiley Post, winner of the recent nonstop race from Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport to Chicago; Gladys O'Donnell, winner of the 1930 women's air derby; Amelia Earhart, Lee Shoenhair, Roscoe Turner and Florence Lowe Barnes, holder of the world's air speed record for women.

The junior contestants are Marvin Errisman, Bangs Talscott, David Dalton, Wilton Parker, Ira Maffad, John Berg, George Fujii, Oliver Leslie, Robert Barrows and Rose. All are members of the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League.

Eighth-Round Rally Upsets Giants, 5 to 3

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Scoring four runs in a stirring eighth-inning rally, the St. Louis Cardinals evened their "crucial" series with the Giants with a 5-to-3 victory today and moved a step nearer the league - leading Chicago Cubs. As Chicago was defeated by Brooklyn, the Cards remained in second place only one and one-half games behind the league leaders but only one point ahead of the third-place Robins.

SUNNY JIM BOTTOMLEY

The game was another brilliant mound duel with big Fred Fitzsimmons holding a slight margin over Sylvester Johnson up to the eighth. Then four hits, of which the last and deciding wallop was a home run by Jim Bottomley with Adams and Frisch on base, overcame the slim Giant lead, gaiged when Frank Hogan hit a homer in the sixth, and decided the game. MERMAID CONQUERS CHANNEL

DOVER (Eng.) Sept. 10. (AP)—Although failing to beat Gertrude Ederle's time in swimming the English Channel, 19-year-old Peggy Duncan, South African girl swimmer, today ranked among the few mermaids who have made the difficult swim across the rough stretch of water between France and England. Miss Duncan, who weighs 200 pounds, landed at South Foreland, Eng., at 4:35 p.m. today after swimming from Cape Gris Nez, France, in 16 hours and 15 minutes. Miss Ederle's record is 14 hours and 25 minutes. The South African girl's chance of breaking the record was lost about 10:30 a.m., when she encountered an adverse tide, and battled for an hour with scarcely any progress.

STARS TRIM ANGELS, 4-1

Jim Turner Pitches Hollywood to Victory Over Seraphs Before 11,125 Fans

BY BOB RAY

Behind the flossy slinging of Jim Turner, the southern gentleman, whom the Stars picked up out of the Piedmont League, Oscar Vitt's league-leading Hollywooders handed the Angels a 4-to-1 trimming at Wrigley Field last night to take a 2-to-1 margin over their local rivals in the civil war series.

Turner held the Seraphs to six hits and chalked up his seventeenth triumph of the season.

A crowd of 11,125 fans including 4498 women turned out for the contest and saw the husky Hollywood right-hander best Art Delany and Augie Walsh in what could be called a hurling duel with a slight stretching of the imagination.

JIM TURNER

The victory enabled the Stars to increase their lead over the second place Angels to seven and one-half games.

Delaney kept pace with Turner until the sixth, when the Sheiks [illegible]ed three of their ten hits and [illegible] two runs to break a 1-to-1 tie. The veteran Cherub hurler was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh to maintain his lead for league in the final two rounds.

The only run off Turner resulted in the fourth when Wes Schulmerich drove a home run over the left-field fence. The Hollywood twirler struck out nine Angels and kept them free and easy at the plate with frequent tosses at their heads. Knocking down rival batsmen is bad business under the lights where the players have difficulty following the ball, but we suppose that is baseball.

Mickey Heath touched Delaney for his thirty-fifth homer in the seventh to take the lead for league circuit clouting honors over his team-mate Dave Barbee.

After three scoreless innings, both sides busted out with a run in the fourth. After Bassler had lined out to Harper to start the Hollywood half, Gazella doubled to the base of the left-field light tower and scored on Jesse Hill's triple to center.

Eric Pedley is Scoring Hero in Second International Battle

Capt. Tommy Hitchcock of the United States polo team led his mates to another smashing win in the international series at Meadowbrook yesterday. The score was 14 to 9, and the big scoring hero again was Eric Pedley, the Californian. He tallied eight goals altogether, and six of the last eight scored by the Americans were contributed by Pedley. Top photo shows Pedley and bottom photo depicts the throw-in at the first game last Saturday.

UNITED STATES POLO TEAM RETAINS HISTORIC TROPHY

Comes from Behind Three Times to Defeat British Squad, 14-9, in Thrilling Mallet Battle

BY GRANTLAND RICE

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

MEADOWBROOK CLUB (Westbury, L. I.) Sept. 10.—It took one of the greatest polo battles ever fought on any field to bring the Big Four of the United States in front and keep the famous Westchester trophy resting again under American skies at the end of a duel that will never be forgotten when polo is talked about in the years to come.

Capt. Hitchcock's great team came from behind three times to take the lead down the stretch and win at last by 14 goals to 9.

But this score doesn't tell the bitterness of the battle nor the closeness of the struggle through the first five periods, nor does it show the fierceness of a British attack that kept 40,000 spectators in a whirl of excitement through the cool, sunny afternoon.

TOMMY HITCHCOCK

As it was, Tommy Hitchcock's team made a clean sweep of the series, but the United States four had to come to the peak of the greatest form it has ever shown to overcome the stubborn British resistance and finally win in a series of wild drives and mighty hitting down the stretch.

SINGER, McLARNIN MIX IN GOTHAM GO TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Hungry for glory and recognition as a genuine champion, young Al Singer, baby ruler of the 135-pound division, will battle Jimmy McLarnin, toughest of the welterweights, in a ten-round match tomorrow night in the Yankee Stadium.

Singer came to town from his training camp at Delaware Water Gap, Pa., in splendid condition, weighing about 135 pounds, and supremely confident of victory. He believes a convincing victory over McLarnin, coming on the heels of a quick knockout of Sammy Mandell, will prove once and for all his right to rank as a real champion.

McLarnin, campaigner in every division at one time or another from the flyweights to the welters and conqueror of half a dozen champions before and after they won their titles, but never at weight, has little idea that Singer will cause him trouble.

FOOTBALL FANS TUNE IN ON KHJ TONIGHT AT 9:30

The first football huddle of the season will be in the studio of KHJ at 9:30 o'clock tonight and all the gridiron fans of Southern California can get in on the discussion by turning the dial of their radio set to the spot at which the Don Lee station rolls in.

Tonight marks the debut of Paul Lowry, sports editor of The Times; Braven Dyer of the staff, and the Los Angeles Times Sports Edition of the Air, which will be a regular weekly feature over KHJ. If you are interested in football, you're in for a half hour of great stuff; Lowry and Dyer are ready to spill some of the inside dope on what it's all about in the Pacific Coast Conference this year. They'll tell you where they have found some weak spots and a few unexpected surprises will be sprung on forecasts and discussions of the various types of football technique that will be uncorked this season and what's best of all is that this duet will call the turn on what can be expected from the 1930 football incubator.

The Times Sports Edition of the Air will be something different. It marks the introduction of a new type of public discussion and you will meet many of the best-known football characters and other notables of sportsdom during this half-hour period every Thursday night. Then there is the question period. If you want to know just write The Times. Lowry and Dyer will answer you. So tune in tonight and get a half hour of timely information and enough dope to keep you talking for another week.

SHIELDS TRIPS ALLISON IN NATIONAL NET PLAY

BY TED VOSBURGH
Associated Press Writer

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Sept. 10. (AP)—Frank Shields, the New York boy with the build and strokes of a champion, provided the big thrill of the fourth day of the national tennis singles championship by upsetting Wilmer Allison in a great five-set match decided by scores of 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

FRANK SHIELDS.

For two or three years now the fans and the players have been hailing Shields as the boy who could be king if he would make the effort, and this afternoon the stalwart Shields hit the peak of his brilliant game to eliminate the player who was seeded second only to Big Bill Tilden on the list of leading contenders.

It was a big day for the younger generation of American tennis players. In another memorable five-set struggle, Cliff Sutter of New Orleans, playing with the coolness of a veteran, downed Berkeley Bell, the brilliant little shot maker from Texas, who on Saturday put out Jean Borotra of France.

The scores were 7-9, 6-4, 6-1, 2-6, 8-6, and the result was in doubt until the final stroke when Sutter nicked the lines in Bell's deep backhand corner for a beautiful placement and a hard-won victory.

A third youngster, Sidney B. Wood of New York, came through with a 6-3, 6-2, 6-3 win over Samuel B. Gilpin II of Philadelphia, winner over Bryant Grant yesterday, and will clash with Sutter in the upper half of the quarter-finals tomorrow.

In the same section of the draw Shields will encounter Gregory Mangin, of Newark, N. J., while in the lower half the line-up will be Bill Tilden vs. John Van Ryn and Frank Hunter vs. Johnny Doeg.

Three Englishmen and an Irishman, the last of the foreign contenders, went down and out of the running at the hands of Tilden, Van Ryn, Doeg and Mangin as the big

WYKOFF STILL LAID UP

Still walking with the aid of crutches Frank Wykoff, present "world's fastest human," registered yesterday for his second year of study at the University of Southern California. Wykoff suffered a broken leg bone a few weeks ago when he was kicked by a horse. The cast has been removed from his leg, but he is compelled to use crutches while walking. Wykoff says the leg feels fine, but he isn't taking any chances on straining it. As soon as the injured member is well again the Trojan sprinter plans to take a few light workouts.

GAME ARRANGED FOR NEXT YEAR

Steve Cunningham Makes Final Arrangements

Football Classic Scheduled on Chicago Field

Hanley to Renew Grid Feud with Spaulding

BY FRANK ROCHE

An invasion of Big Ten territory by "Bunker Bill" Spaulding's U.C. L.A. Bruins has been arranged for next year. This became known yesterday when Bruin athletic officials, through Steve Cunningham, general manager, announced that an intersectional game with Northwestern University will be played on October 17, 1931, at Chicago.

Cunningham made his announcement after a long-distance conversation with "Tug" Wilson, athletic director at Northwestern, who confirmed all of the preliminary details which have been under way for some time between the two institutions.

It means that Coach Spaulding will be taking his Coast team back into territory which was once home to him. Spaulding came to U.C.L.A. from Minnesota. It was there that "Bunker Bill" won quite some fame by stopping Red Grange when that young fellow was known as the "Galloping Ghost" of the gridiron.

Behind the whole arrangement is friendship that was cemented during Spaulding's Big Ten days with Dick Hanley, coach of Northwestern. Hanley at that time was coaching the Haskell Indians. His redskins met the Minnesota team coached by Spaulding twice during that period. In 1923 Minnesota nosed out a 13-to-12 victory over Haskell and in 1924 the Indians went down before the Gophers by a 39-to-0 margin.

Hanley got together with Spaulding out here on the Coast last winter when he coached the eastern all-stars in the annual Shrine game at San Francisco. No doubt at that time they talked over details of a Bruin-Northwestern clash.

Hanley enjoys a good reputation in Big Ten circles. His Purple elevens have been a constant threat in the championships.

Last year Northwestern tied with Minnesota for third place in the Big Ten race. Nothing was said about a home-and-home game yesterday other than the statement U.C.L.A. would like to make some such sort of an arrangement.

Because their coaching staff, headed by Spaulding, all have had some Big Ten experience, Bruin followers believe their team will carry the banner of the Coast into that territory in fine fashion.

Besides Spaulding, Assistant Coach A. J. Stursenegger was a Big Ten man, as were Jim Brader, line coach at U.C.L.A., Hugh McDonald and Fred Oster, frosh mentor at the Bruin institution. Stursenegger was "Hurry Up" Yost's assistant at Michigan for many years. Brader coached the line at Wisconsin before going to Harvard.

Fory going to Harvard. McDonald and Oster player and coached Minnesota for Spaulding.

Stanford is invading Big Ten territory this year. They journey to Minneapolis for a game with the Gophers on October 11. The last Big Ten team to play in Coast territory was Ohio State. They were beaten by California in a post-season game at the Rose Bowl. The score was 28 to 0.

Nelson, pitching the eighth inning, was the victim of Brooklyn's ninth run, the product of singles by Herman and Wright and Bissonette's infield out.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

A PRICE SURVEY

NIBS PRICE, the head football man at California, is in the city for a few days and willing to admit that gridiron affairs are in pretty fair shape at Berkeley.

According to Nibs, no Benny Loms or Lee Eisans or Ted Nortons sprang up to greet him in spring practice this year, but the little coach says he expects to stagger along without these three-year stars and mold a championship contender anyway.

Of the available sophomore material, Nibs says Sam Gill, Del Georgio and Fritschi are about the best-looking candidates for this year's varsity.

Gill is just one of the many Gills who have been hanging about the Berkeley campus for several years past. He was an end on the Peagreen team last year, but is to be converted into a running guard. He hails from Orcutt. His brother Rusty was a sophomore star at fullback last year. Another brother played guard.

Fritschi is a back who claims Los Angeles as his residence, and Del Georgio is a 6-foot 2-inch tackle, who prepped at Fullerton.

Nibs is inclined to believe that both Pop Warner at Stanford and Howard Jones at S.C. have the bulge on him this year, but they had it last year, and Nibs's boys beat S.C. 15 to 7.

This year the California creed is, "Beat Stanford." It hasn't been done since 1923, and the Bears feel it is about time they are connecting.

Price talked to the Southern California Football Officials' Association last night, and will be a guest today at the University Club luncheon. This afternoon he and Clint Evans play golf with Howard Jones, and tonight the Berkeleyites return to their lair, there to await the official opening of the season next Monday.

SAINTS BEAT STANFORD

"GET out, Santa Clara didn't beat Stanford last year," declared an excited voice over the telephone.

"Why, Stanford lost only to Southern California last year, and if that game had been played later in the season Stanford would have won."

Well, the last half of the statement is open to argument, but the first half isn't.

Santa Clara defeated Stanford, 13 to 7, a week before the California game, and Pop Warner's boys weren't trying to toss the game away, either.

Santa Clara keyed for the game, Stanford didn't, and California paid the penalty a week later.

A Stanford team, smarting over that unexpected defeat by the Broncos, rose up and smacked down California, 21 to 6.

FISTIC PROPRIETY

YES, some fight promoters do have souls and they have an eye to propriety.

Last week, some of the personnel of the Olympic wanted to put Lieut. Jack Kennedy right back in as referee after he had tossed Ace Hudkins and Jack McVey out for their fake fight the week previous.

Jack Doyle vetoed it. "That savors of commercialism," said Doyle. "Looks as if we were trying to draw the crowds on the strength of Kennedy's good work. Wait a week." The management did. Kennedy worked Tuesday night.

of the Burlingame Country Club sent a twelve-foot putt spinning home for a birdie three at the second extra hole and the man who has been champion for two years, and always a threat in this classic competition, was eliminated.

Sampson, who has had three great golf tutors, George Smith, MacDonald Smith and John Black, led Diegel by a hole as they came to the thirty-sixth, but the champion squared the match there, and a majority of the gallery thought the native son was finished.

The 118-pounder from the Far West, however, had plenty of fight left. The thirty-seventh hole was halved in par fours and then after a straight drive, he sent a spade mashie shot twelve feet to the right of the cup at the thirty-eighth. Diegel was twenty feet short with a mashie niblick. When Larraping Leo missed and the bantamweight sent his putt straight in the cup the match was over and it was certain a new champion would be crowned Saturday.

Gene Sarazen, who remained in the hunt with a smashing victory over Bob Crowley of Haverhill, Mass., today, 7 up and 5 to play, now is the only former champion left. Sarazen has won twice. Jock Hutchinson, Walter Hagen, Jim Barnes and Diegel are the other great pros who have won the crown.

The other survivors are Charles Lacey, who defeated Al Watrous, 5 and 4; Tommy Armour, victor over Bob Shave, Cleveland, 7 and 5; Johnny Farrell, who barely nosed out Denny Shute, Columbus, 1 up; Al Espinosa, who eliminated Harry Cooper, 4 and 3; Joe Kirkwood, who was carried to the thirty-seventh hole before he could dispose of Jock Collins of Dayton, O., and Horton Smith, who downed Laurie Ayton, Evanston, Ill., 5 and 4.

Tomorrow's play will array Sampson against Lacey, Armour against Farrell, Sarazen against Espinosa and Kirkwood against Smith.

TODAY'S RESULTS

Charles Lacey, Philadelphia, defeated Al Watrous, Detroit, 5 and 4; Harold Sampson, Burlingame, Cal., defeated Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente, Mex., 1 up, 38 holes; Tommy Armour, Detroit, defeated Bob Shave, Cleveland, 7 and 5; Johnny Farrell, New York, defeated Denghore Shute, Columbus, O., 1 up; Gene Sarazen, New York, defeated Bob Crowley, Haverhill, Mass., 1 up; Al Espinosa, Chicago, defeated Harry Cooper, Chicago, 4 and 3; Joe Kirkwood, Philadelphia, defeated Jock Collins, Dayton, O., 1 up, 37 holes.

Big Bill winning as he pleased at 6-4, 6-1, 6-2, was more than ever the wizard of the racquet, befuddling the Irish title-holder with a dazzling mixture of sizzling shots and soft "ping pong" strokes that wafted over the net like thistle-down and caught the giant flat-footed in the back-court regions.

Harold G. N. Lee, rated as the best of the Englishmen, was beaten by Doeg, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4; John Olliff lost to Mangin, 6-3, 6-3, 10-8; and Frederick Perry took a set from Van Ryn before the former Princeton captain finished him off, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1.

BRUIN GRIDMEN CHECK IN FOR 1930 SEASON

Registration at U.C.L.A. tomorrow for old students and Saturday for new students will see quite a bit of veteran athletic material and freshman athletes trek into the Westwood halls of learning. Among the old students registering tomorrow are twenty letter men from Coach Bill Spaulding's 1929 football machine, and seventeen letter winners from Freddy Oster's 1929 frosh eleven, as well as three transfers who became eligible this year.

An influx of capable athletic material of all sorts for the Bruin athletic teams is expected on Saturday when those entering U.C.L.A. for the first time will register. Football practice for both varsity and freshman grid teams starts Monday at the Westwood university simultaneously with the other members of the Pacific Coast Conference.

PEDLEY SHINES IN POLO CLASH

would match anything the American team could show.

But the big turn of the game came in the sixth period, when Capt. Hitchcock massed his four best ponies and Eric Pedley suddenly became a miracle man on horseback, shooting with the deadly aim of a sniper at every chance from almost any angle, missing nothing that he could see. It was in this sixth period that the American attack reached its crest and scored four goals. From that point on the British cause was doomed. For Hitchcock came along in one of his greatest, longest hitting moods and when Pedley's magic mallet began to roll in score after score there was nothing to stop this final thrust.

To show how desperately this last battle was fought, in one early mix-up Capt. Roark's pony, Joy Bells, was thrown and so badly injured that the pony had to be shot. And then near the end of the sixth period, in another wild mix-up, Winston Guest, the star No. 4 of the United States team, was also thrown so heavily that his pony spun in the air and time had to be taken out while the big back recovered.

The story of this final game breaks into two stirring chapters. First, the fast savage rush of the British in their last chance to win through the first five periods. Then the final rush of the American team all the way through to the finish, with Eric Pedley in the forefront of the drive, but always ably assisted by the rest of the team, which hit superb form just at the vital moment when it began to look as if the British would win.

There was every type of polo that anyone could ever dream of seeing—long, hard hitting, back-handed, from offside, with the ball frequently swinging from one end of the field to the other at a clip that kept the crowd dizzy.

The British defense held up as well as it could, but when at last the American attack hit its fastest pace and Pedley suddenly turned into a Daniel Boone using a rifle there was nothing to be done about it. He scored six of the last eight goals and that tells you something of the unerring accuracy of his aim, although on several occasions the brilliant supporting work of Hitchcock, Hopping and Guest gave him chances that he rarely missed. In fact the entire play of the American side was of the highest order, hitting with a blaze that has yet to be equaled in any international match.

FIERCE BATTLE

The battle through the first four periods was one of the fiercest that polo has ever seen. Both sides rode themselves out, taking any desperate chance that might be needed to meet the situation fairly.

The first wild charge of the British had the big crowd in an uproar. With Lacey and Roark leading the attack, they broke through the United States defense with a crash to take an early lead.

Then there followed the spectacular comeback of the American side in the second period. Capt. Hitchcock's team was trailing by two goals when they, in turn, put on a counter-attack the British could not hold at bay.

Just after Hitchcock had scored the first goal of the afternoon, only a few moments after the game had started, Roark came back with a great shot from forty yards away and then Lacey, riding like the wind, and hitting like a Cobb, added more. Here was a different team—a team out to win if the trick could possibly be turned.

A great lateral diagonal wallop of fifty yards by Hitchcock added the second American goal in the second period and then Pedley came through to tie the count, 3 and 3.

By this time the 40,000 spectators were in a froth. The excitement increased in the third period when Great Britain carried the ball 300 yards across the field and Gerald Balding drove it between the posts to take the lead again. Right after this the brilliant Lacey captured the ball, fed it along and then scored on a fine shot.

So here the Americans were trailing again. Once more they were two goals behind, facing an offense that more than matched their own for hard riding, accurate hitting and fury of attack. But the deficit did not last long. Hopping got his chance from a good, husky wallop and then followed this up to score from ten yards.

TIED UP AGAIN

A few minutes later the American side had the ball near the British goal in one of the wildest scrambles of the day.

Guinness hit out with only a foot to spare, but Pedley sent it back and Hitchcock just flicked it over, the ball caroming from the post and over by only a foot.

This tied it up and then Guest scored later to put the United States ahead at the end of the fourth period by 6 to 5.

For the third time the British counter-attacked to start the fifth period with Balding and Lacey sending the ball into scoring zones. And now the British were leading again, leading for the third time and it remained to be seen whether or not the American team could meet this new challenge of skill and courage. The answer was not delayed many minutes.

Starting the sixth period Pedley was riding Maravilla, Hopping was on Mistirio, Hitchcock rode the famous Katrina and Guest was on Sunbeam. Here were the pick of the stable. Here were the mounts for the big thrust—the winning charge.

And within a few seconds Hopping had scored. Pedley had followed with a high, lofted shot and the United States was in front again—in front after another gallant comeback that from then on was to keep moving in the direction of victory.

There was nothing on a horse that had the stuff left to check this last stampede of men, mallets and ponies.

When the sixth period ended the United States was leading, 10 to 7, and the last British chance had slipped away with the setting sun into autumn space.

The British still kept up a hard fight, giving all that each man had. But two mighty wallops by Hitchcock, fine team play by Hopping and Guest and two more uncannily accurate volleys by Pedley killed the last British chance. Roark scored and brought the count up to 10-8, but a moment later an amazing back-handed smash by Pedley opened up the gap again.

GREAT FINISH

In the final period the United States attack jumped to even higher speed, with Pedley again doing most of the needed marksmanship. The Californian gave a great exhibition of sharpshooting all afternoon, but his work through the closing periods must be written down as one of the greatest chapters in polo history.

The play of Lacey and Roark again stood out and Guinness and Balding were both greatly improved over their first-game form, but there was no type of defense that could be brought along to hold in check the last marches of the American team. They came on like the wind, they rarely missed in any mallet chance and there was no possibility of holding them in check.

Any team that can come from behind three times and finally finish with a tidal wave attack has to be classed as both a great team and a game one.

The British team today was both good and game, brilliant at times, but never quite strong enough to keep even with an offense that never let down, that never lost its power or its pace.

The line-ups and summary:

TIGERS BLANK ATHLETICS

Vic Sorrell Shuts Out Champions; Yankees Pound Wesley Ferrell to Beat Indians, 7-2

DETROIT, Sept. 10. (AP)—The Tigers blanked the Philadelphia Athletics, 4 to 0, today due, in part, to the efforts of Frank Doljack, a recruit from Wheeling, W. Va.

MacFayden held the Chicago White Sox to six hits today and the Boston Red Sox won, 6-2. After the White Sox scored once on three hits in the first inning MacFayden never let them get more than a hit an inning thereafter. Webb hit a home run and Bill Regan hit one of the longest home runs of the year with two men on base. Score:

FERRELL LOSES

CLEVELAND, Sept. 10. (AP)—Wesley Ferrell was unable to get back into his winning stride today in his first game after the break of his thirteen-victory streak and the New York Yankees pounded him for eleven hits and a 7-to-2 victory over Cleveland. The Yankees, in frustrating Ferrell's aim to boost his total victories to twenty-five, took his measure for the third time this season.

BROWNS CLIMB

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns climbed back into sixth place in the American League today by turning the tables on the Washington Senators, 3 to 2.

Washington's berth in second place was undisturbed. The Browns scored two runs in the second when Ferrell doubled to left center with two men on bases. Their other runs was made in the sixth. The Senators scored a run in the fifth and one in the ninth.

PRICE TALKS TO COACHES

Over 200 high school football coaches and officials of Southern California gathered at the Central Junior High School last night to listen to talks by Nibs Price, head coach at the University of California at Berkeley, and his assistant, Clint Evans.

Both coaches talked on different angles of officiating, and related singular incidents—some of them humorous, some serious—that had occurred in games in which California was a participant.

In closing Price admonished the officials to start practicing the 1-2-3-4-5-6 by which the full stop of the shift is to be regulated this year.

Howard Jones, Sam Barry, Bill Spaulding, Tom Lieb and other college coaches were introduced as guests of the association.

ter. Lee drew a walk after Hill's hit, but Brannan flied to Statz to leave the pair stranded on the sacks.

The Hollywood lead was short lived, lasting for just one pitch to Wes Schulmerich, who banged Turner's first offering on a line over the left-field wall for a round trip.

The Stars bunched hits off Delaney for two more runs in the sixth to break the tie. Gazella again started the trouble with a double down the left-field line for his third hit of the evening. Turner's infield out moved Mike to third, from where he scored, when Hill came through with a single. Jeace took second and scored on Brannan's single to right.

Heath banged out his thirty-fifth homer in the seventh to put the Sheiks another run in front. Mickey's clout disappeared over the left-field wall to the left of the light tower.

After Dittmar had singled and Hannah walked, with one away, in the seventh, Lelivelt called for some substitutes, but they were unable to deliver. Horne ran for Hannah, while Parker and Warren, who batted for Delaney and Rawlings, went down on strikes.

Augie Walsh went to the mound for the Angels in the eighth, while Warren came in to catch and Parker held down second base.

Bert Colima's Belt at Stake Next Tuesday

Bert Colima's middleweight belt, won in Mexico City, will be at stake next Tuesday night when he meets Jose Peregrina, rival Yaqui-Mexican Indian, in a ten-round bout. The weight is 160 pounds.

They fought for the same prize last January with Colima keeping the emblem of the Latin title. Peregrina, who has won seven recent fights by knockouts, is figured ripe for another chance.

Peregrina is making a bid to capture the followers of the Whittier idol who have been with Bert for the last ten years. There has been keen rivalry between Colima and the Yaqui.

Young Corbett III will come to Los Angeles ten days ahead of his match with Sammy Jackson at the Doyle arena, it was announced yesterday. Jackson will go to Soper's ranch Saturday and spend the next three weeks training outdoors. It is the Negro's greatest chance to get quick recognition.

Blevins Stars in Ohio Shoot

CAMP PERRY (O.) Sept. 10. (AP) Warfare against invading aircraft was imitated at the national rifle matches here today with Edwin Blevins of Urania, La., making the highest score against a moving target. He shot 41 out of a possible 75, while Dee O. Cox, Mira, La., was second with 40, and Sergeant Charles O. Stark, Company F, Twenty-eighth United States Infantry, 39.

Sergt. Salvatore Bartlett, Jersey, One Hundred and Thirteenth Infantry, New Jersey National Guard, won the individual rifle match, with a 200 out of a possible 200.

Corp. A. W. Dumahs, Baltimore, United States Marines, was second with 200 but scored lower than the winner on the long range. A. A. Pope, Los Angeles, third with 200, but scored lower than Corp. Dumahs at long range, and Sergt. J. M. Blakley, Batavia, N. Y., marines, 200, with a lower score than Pope's on long range.

Thomas J. Jr., of Phoenix, Ariz., was the father and son American Legion match of the national individual rifle match. They scored 551 out of a possible 600. James H. Hurt, Sr., and James W. Hurt, Indianapolis were second with 549. Thomas and Everett Kirk of Cheyenne, Wyo., third with 532. There were nine pairs in this match.

The matches will be closed Saturday with the conclusion of the national rifle team match, in which 100 teams will take part. Practice for this match will be held tomorrow.

Tomorrow afternoon the first 100 winners of the president's match will parade. The winner, Sergt. J. J. Spears, Seventeenth United States Infantry, Fort Coop, Neb., will be given a letter from President Hoover.

DETROITERS RECALL SEVEN AND BUY TWO

DETROIT, Sept. 10. (AP)—Recall of seven players and purchase of two was announced today by the management of the Detroit Tigers.

The players purchased are Hugh Wise, a catcher, from Toronto, who has been on option to the Beaumont (Tex.) club, and Marvin Owen, an infielder, from Seattle. Both have batted over the .300 mark this season.

The men to be recalled are: George Samuels, Phil Page, Art Herring and John Prudhomme, pitchers. From Toronto: Heine Schuble, shortstop; from Beaumont; Henry Greenberg, first baseman, from Raleigh, N. C., and Watson, an infielder, from Evansville. They will be given trials again next spring.

PICKLES HEINTZ IN KNOCKOUT VICTORY

Pickles Heintz, heavyweight navy champion, won his first professional start last night at the Wilmington Bowl, when he kayoed Frank Rudinsky in the second round. Dynamite Jackson defeated Bad News Johnson over ten rounds in the main event. The Heintz-Rudinsky affair was carded as the semi-wind-up. Jim Peterson won on a foul over Sailor Neibro in the third. George Akis beat Jim Gardena. General Padilla knocked out Marco Vabonne in the second round, while Sal Ritchins stopped Henry Rittenkorn in the first round.

Kallio Twirls Indians to Win

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10. (AP)—Behind the splendid pitching of Rudy Kallio, Seattle won tonight's game from Sacramento, 2 to 1. Vinci matched Kallio's six-hit performance, but a costly overthrow by Ray French in the fifth allowed the winning run to score. The run charged to Kallio was due to an error also, by Borreani.

SEVEN RECALLED BY ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10. (AP)—Seven minor league players, two pitchers, an infielder and four outfielders, have been recalled by the St. Louis Cardinals, Treasurer William D. Witt announced tonight. The purchase of another pitcher also was announced.

The recalled players are Pitcher Carmen Hill, now with Minneapolis, and Ralph Judd, with Houston; Infielder Eddie Delker from Rochester and Outfielders Pepper Martin from Rochester and Wattie Holm, Joel Hunt and Homer Peel, Houston. Allyn Stout, purchased from Houston, will join the Cardinals in the East within the next few days.

ST. LOUIS BROWNS RECALL FIVE MEN

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10. (AP)—Bill Friel, business manager of the St Louis Browns, today announced the recall of five players from the Milwaukee American Association Club. They are Tom Jenkins and Fred Bennett, outfielders; Eddie Grimes, infielder; George Stanton, first baseman, and Fred Bitley, southpaw pitcher. Jenkins and Bitley may report to the Browns before the close of the major-league season.

BOZEMAN LEADING BILLIARD MATCH

J. E. Bozeman took a 100-50 lead over John Layton in their 300-point billiard match now being held at the Clifford Jones Billiard Parlors. Bozeman won the afternoon block in record time, setting Layton down, 50-17 in twenty-nine innings. Bozeman took the evening block, 50-33, in forty-seven innings. The match will continue today.

TUCKER STOPS WILLIAMS

OAKLAND, Sept. 10. (AP)—Frankie Tucker, Oakland light-heavyweight, making his first appearance as a professional fighter, won by a technical knockout over "Red" Williams, Santa Rosa, in the first round of the main bout here tonight. Although Tucker had failed to floor Williams Referee Willie Ritchie stopped the fight after the Santa Rosa boy had taken a terrific beating.

SHARP WINNER IN ASCOT RACE

Walt May Has Close Call in Feature Event of Bill

Driving with the same reckless abandon that has characterized his numerous other victories, Jimmy Sharp piloted his Garnet special to his eighth straight victory in the forty-lap main event at the Legion Ascot Speedway last night. Sharp jumped into the lead on the first lap and was never headed. Although Walt May, in the Padre special, was pressing him closely until his car went into a spin on the eighth lap, May took second place. The car spun around three times and only a wonderful piece of driving by May avoided a serious accident. Speed Hinckley finished third, Mel McKee was fourth, while Ernie Triplett took fifth place. The winner's time was 20m. 13s.

In addition to winning the main event Sharp also captured the Italian Helmet Dash and a ten-lap race. Francis Quinn and Mel McKee also won ten-lap events.

McKee's victory in the third race was undoubtedly the most sensational of the evening. Starting in fifth place, Mel battled his way through the field to finally pass Art Boyce on the last lap. Aside from the spectacular driving of McKee, there was one bad smash-up, several near collisions and a couple of flat tires which kept the capacity crowd on its feet during the entire race.

McKee suffered motor trouble in the main event and as a result he was lucky to bring his crippled mount home in fourth place.

Oaks Wallop Beavers, 11-7

OAKLAND, Sept. 10. (AP)—Oakland hammered three pitchers for fourteen hits here tonight to take an 11-to-7 victory over the Portland Ducks.

The defeat was charged to Bill McDonald, who relieved Doug Walker on the mound in the fifth inning. Fenton, Arlett and Dean were the heavy hitters for Oakland. Herb McQuaid went to the rescue of Bill Henderson in the sixth inning and pitched hitless ball for the remainder of the game. He received credit for the victory. Score;

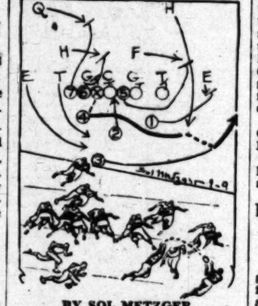
Rutgers Uses Clever Attack



BY SOL METZGER

Strange how a football play starts out as one thing and winds up as another. Rutgers's attack this season will be like that. After several successful straight-ahead plunges by back No. 2, the play described yesterday, No. 2 will again go through the same motions on the next snap, even to the extent of faking possession of the ball.

But look out! What's this we see? No. 4, the quarter, hasn't given No. 2 the ball after all. There he goes sprinting along back of his line of scrimmage, giving ground to the right rear as he runs to prevent being downed by some eager opposing lineman. Looks like a sweep around the right end. No. 1 back blocks this end, and the No. 5 lineman is leading the interference, diving into the legs of the defensive full as the latter rushes forward to tackle. That disposes of him.

Up comes the left defensive half to stop the runner. As he lunges at him on the line of scrimmage, No. 4 tosses the ball wide to the right rear, a lateral pass to his No. 3 back, who is clear for a touchdown because the other two defensive backs have been accounted for by linemen Nos. 6 and 7.

M'DONALD AND HESS IN SHAPE

Scrappers Ready for Main Event Tomorrow Night at Hollywood Stadium

Goldie Hess, pride of the surrounding beach cities and Hector McDonald of the Great Northwest wind up training today for their ten-round bout tomorrow night at the Hollywood Legion Stadium. Hess is a slight favorite over the boy from the Northwest along fistic row. McDonald has been waiting a long time to get a shot at Hess, his handlers state. The bout was postponed three times after it was signed by Tom Gallery for the Legion.

Sammy Santos and Don Burchard clash in the six-round semi-windup. They are 136-pounders. Burchard is a tough fellow and is being expected to win on that alone by the experts.

The special event brings Sergt. and Jimmy Mack together over the six-round route. They are 120-pounders. In the second spot Bob Patrick, brother of Tom the light-heavyweight, battles Joe Flores. Palo Mendoza and Julio Zuniga tangle in the curtain raiser.

Pennant Race Grows Hotter

By the Associated Press

Victories by the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Robins, chief contenders for the National League lead now held by Chicago, increased the tensity of the pennant race in the senior circuit yesterday.

As the Robins shut out the Cubs for the second time, 6 to 0, and St. Louis reversed the previous day's decision against New York, 8 to 3, these two teams virtually are tied for second place, reducing the margin the Cubs held over them from two and one-half games to one and one-half.

St. Louis retained second place by a single percentage point. The defeated New York Giants lost a game to these rivals, but remained only three games behind the league leaders and half that distance behind second and third places.

Standing of the leaders:

	Won	Lost	P.c.	Games behind	To play
Chicago	80	58	.580		18
St. Louis	78	59	.569	1½	17
Brooklyn	78	60	.565	2	17

Trojans Name Frosh Coaches

Russ Saunders, Francis Tappaan and Cecil Hoff, three letter winners at the University of Southern California, have been appointed assistant freshman football coaches to Aubrey Devine, it was announced yesterday by Bill Hunter, director of athletics. Tappaan was an all-American end last season. Saunders played all three backfield positions, and Hoff, after two years of subbing, was a regular tackle last season. The entire Trojan coaching staff is now complete with Howard Jones, Hunter, Sam Barry, Clif Herd and Gordon Campbell handling the varsity.

GLOBE BEARS TRIM BISBEE IN PLAY-OFF

BISBEE (Ariz.) Sept. 10. (AP)—The Globe Bears got back into the running for the Arizona State League championship today by defeating the Bisbee Bees, 8 to 4. The Bears, winners of the first half of the split-season, lost the first two games of the play-off to Bisbee, but protested last night's defeat on the grounds darkness had not settled when the game was called in the eighth inning. A hearing has not been conducted.

FISHING REPORTED GOOD OFF HERMOSA

HERMOSA BEACH, Sept. 10.—A great fall fishing season is looked forward to by Capt. J. M. Andersen, skipper of the Big Olympic fishing barge, anchored two miles off shore here. Never before in the history of the huge palatial fishing craft has deep-sea angling been as good as it is now.

Record catches of bonita, halibut, bass, sculpin, sandabs and mackerel are being brought in daily by visiting anglers. Some yellowtail and sea trout have also been taken lately.

MEN—

We Are Drawing Capacity Crowds and Creating High Enthusiasm, Because We Are Offering Ambitious Salespeople the Most Unusual Opportunity in the West!

Draw a red-line around this morning and let it aside as YOUR time, to hear about the CLARK PLAN, and to determine whether you want to become a member of our large selling organization, fortified by a huge advertising campaign to start next week.

The CLARK PLAN is the contribution of a group of the finest men in Southern California to the economic welfare of this territory. They have created a trust, with an authorized trust capital of $100,000,000, surrounded it with every practical safeguard; made it available to everyone on a basis of $10 cash and $10 a month; placed the subscriber's interests first by operating on his behalf without salary and receiving as compensation nothing until last subscriber has been paid 6% per year cumulative return, PLUS 6% of the additional net profit; bonded themselves to a Board of Trustees which is, in turn, bonded to the State Bond Commissioner of California, and placed themselves on record under a Declaration of Trust undoubtedly the most human, the most kindly and the most thoughtful document of its kind ever devised in America.

We have 11 offices, ready to start functioning immediately. Salesmen are needed in all of them; realty men, security men, building and loan men, part-time and full-time workers; even inexperienced, but ambitious salespeople, whom we will quickly train under Major Lanedowne, one of the best sales counselors in Southern California.

We believe that what we have to offer you will not only grip your imagination as a most splendid thing for your clients, but thrill you as an opportunity for you to prove your ability and go as high as that ability should take you. COME IN THIS MORNING — 9:30 — Second floor, Metropolitan Building, 315 West 5th Street.

FRANK N. CLARK, Inc. Ltd. "The Clark Plan—Trust Worthy"

In Wake of "Times" Cameramen on Trail of World's News of the Day

This Bear is Not Really the Toper He Might Seem to be in This Photo; he is merely drinking sugared water from a flask in the hands of a ranger in Rainier National Park. He is one of scores who come down to "hold up" tourists on the highway and exact whatever toll he may. The rangers know most of them by name. (P. & A. photo.)

After a Brush With the Anglo-Indian Troops Afridi tribesman retired to the trenches near [illegible] war, India, to recuperate from a wound in the [illegible] The Afridi have made a determined effort to [illegible] the British in their territory but have met with [illegible] feat in all major offensives. (A. P. photo.)

It Took an American Girl to Show the Scots how to dance their own dances. Miss Jean Munson, 15 years of age, of Seattle, Wash., won first honors at the annual Caledonian games at Vancouver, B. C. She finished with two beautiful trophies with which she is shown here. (P. & A. photo.)

Leader of the Expedition Which Found Bodies of Dr. Salomon Andree and his two companions. Dr. G. Horn (above,) leader of the discovery party, brought the bodies back to civilization last week. They had been buried in northern ice for thirty-three years.

The Individual Sunbonnet for Dahlias has been adopted generally throughout the Southland by growers to protect the blooms from the sun's rays. Miss Frankie Francis, one of the exhibitors at the eleventh annual dahlia show at the Biltmore, shows how it's done.

Two Baby Nilgai Antelope Get Their First Sight of This Funny World from the confines of the San Diego Zoo. Their mother, usually the most docile of creatures, objected to the presence of the cameraman who took the photo, and attempted to chase him from the inclosure. The youngsters would have been born in Africa had the mother not been captured a few years ago. (A. P. photo.)

At Any American University she chooses she will be given a four-year course of study. Speaking of Miss Ruth Scribbins of Glencoe, Ill., winner of essay contest. (P. & A. photo.)

Maybe It's a Record— Lita Chevret, popular film actress, took a two-hour sunbath atop an Alaskan totem pole yesterday, a feat which is probably unparalleled.

Places That Man, White or Indian, Had Probably Never Before Seen were mapped by navy planes in Alaska. Here one of the navy planes is caught from another plane flying over a glacier between Juneau and Skagway. Lakes, streams and mountains, hitherto unknown, were traced by the naval flyers as they flew over the country. (P. & A. photo.)
